

We all want to do what's best for our friends and family. On Thursday, that means voting to keep Britain in Europe.

The risks of leaving – for the economy, for jobs, for safety – are all too great. Our children deserve better than that.

This referendum will be close. Your vote will make the difference.

The safest way to build a secure future for your friends and family is to vote Remain on Thursday.

Don't leave your family's future in the hands of others.
