

VOTES FOR WOMEN

EDITED BY FREDERICK AND EMMELINE PETHICK LAWRENCE.

VOL. V. (New Series), No. 195.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1911.

Price 1d. Weekly (Post Free.)

TORPEDOED!

CONTENTS.

	PAGE		PAGE
Our Cartoon	133	Mr. Zangwill's Tragedy. By Alice Meynell	141
The Outlook	133	Pains and Penalties. By E. W. Davison	141
Announcements	134	Broken Windows. By Christabel Pankhurst, LL.B.	142
Come to the Christmas Fair	135	Mrs. Pethick Lawrence Sentenced to a Month	143
The Next Protest	135	The Suffrage Prisoners at Bow Street	144
Treasurer's Note	135	London Meeting	148
Contributions to the Fund	135	We Dare Not Wait	149
Mr. Lloyd George at Bath	136	Hitchin By Election	149
Mr. Lloyd George Replies to Lord Lytton	137	I.L.P. and Adult Suffrage	149
Echoes of November 21	138	Norwich I.L.P.	149
Mrs. Saul Solomon interviews Mr. George	138	Christmas Fair and Fete (cont'd)	149
Press Comments	138	Miss Vida Goldstein	150
"Let Tyrant's Head"	133	From Mrs. Pankhurst	150
Deputation to Mr. McKenna	139	Speakers' Class	150
Lord Selborne's Views	139	Men's Protest at Steinway Hall	150
Christmas Fair and Fete	139
The Double Burden and other Reviews	140

To the brave women who to-day are fighting for freedom; to the noble women who all down the ages kept the flag flying and looked forward to this day without seeing it; to all women all over the world, of whatever race, or creed, or calling, whether they be with us or against us in this fight, we dedicate this paper.

THE OUTLOOK.

Next Monday begins the Christmas Fair and Fête of the W.S.P.U. in the Portman Rooms, Baker Street. We call upon all our readers to unite in making this an unprecedented success by bringing all their friends to it. In so doing they will be carrying out the special wish of Mrs. Pethick Lawrence and her brave comrades who are to-day in prison.

Mr. Lloyd George at Bath.

On Friday last, Mr. Lloyd George addressed a meeting of the National Liberal Federation in Bath, and devoted the second half of his speech to the question of Woman Suffrage. He marshalled all the arguments in favour of Votes for Women, explained how much he would have liked to have had women enfranchised before the introduction of the Insurance Bill, and extolled the examples of Australia and New Zealand. The only reference he made to policy was to say that the Conciliation Bill had now been "torpedoed" and that the way was therefore clear for a "broad and democratic" amendment of the Reform Bill so as to include the wives of working men.

A Guarantee of Good Intentions?

Now there are many men and some women who say to us, "Can you hesitate any longer to trust Mr. Lloyd George? Has he not spoken us fair? Why do you ask for anything further?" Our answer is that all down the centuries women have been deceived by "nice spoken gentlemen" who gave them "fair words" and nothing else. What women require in the realm of politics, quite as much as in the realm of ordinary life, is to know whether there are honourable intentions behind. What guarantee does Mr. Lloyd George offer of his good faith? In ordinary life there is one perfectly simple test, the only test which men politicians would consider for a solitary second. Does Mr. Lloyd George offer this or does he not?

The One Test Required.

The one guarantee of good faith which a Cabinet Minister can give is the pronouncement of support by the Government of the day. If he cannot obtain this support it is his business to resign. To do otherwise is either to act contrary to the fundamental principles of the British Constitution or to announce that the subject under dispute is of only trivial importance. It is so necessary to make this point clear that we repeat here the very significant words used by Mr. Asquith while he was in opposition as to Mr. Joseph Chamberlain's position when that statesman was commencing his propaganda for tariff reform, but was still a member of the Conservative Cabinet. Mr. Asquith said:—

It is not only without precedent or example, it is an entire departure from the traditions and rules of our public life that, in a matter of this kind and of this importance, responsible Ministers should be allowed, not merely to emit on public platforms discordant opinions, but to pose as propagandists of two wholly irreconcilable views of public policy.

I protest against a practice which, if once allowed, will put an end to Ministerial responsibility and Cabinet government.

Would Men Politicians Accept Mr. George's Offer?

Mr. Lloyd George says he cannot offer us Government support—in fact, the Reform Bill as it emerges from the Cabinet will be so drawn as to give the vote to men only; but he and several of his colleagues will move an amendment to extend the franchise to some women. Imagine this offer made to Mr. Redmond. Suppose Mr. George were to say, "The Government will introduce a Bill in 1912 to give Home Rule to England, Scotland and Wales, and to leave Ireland under the Imperial Parliament; but I and several of my colleagues will help you to carry an amendment to extend a partial measure of Home Rule to Ireland." Would Mr. Redmond accept that? No! The day the announcement was made the Irish members would vote the Government out of office. It is only because politicians think that women can be put off with something much less than they would dare to offer men that Mr. George ventures to make this proposal.

Why the Guarantee is Necessary.

Some people represent the W.S.P.U. as refusing the offer put forward because it is Mr. Lloyd George who makes it. It is perfectly true that Mr. George has done nothing to earn our confidence; but it is not on that account that the offer is refused. It would be equally unacceptable if it came from any other source. They ask why. We reply by another question, "Why would Mr. Redmond reject the parallel offer if made to him?"

Because he would know that Home Rule for Ireland would not be carried under these circumstances; only part of the Government majority would be behind the proposal, and this would not be sufficient to secure its passage into law. In precisely the same way we reject Mr. George's proposal, because we know that it would not secure the enfranchisement of women.

Why Mr. George is Angry with the W.S.P.U. Mr. Lloyd George has laid a clever little trap, and if it had not been for the Women's Social and Political Union the Women Suffragists of the country would have tumbled right into it.

False Coin. We are amused. But we are also contemptuous of a man who states that which he knows to be untrue. Mr. Lloyd George is perfectly well aware that the women who compose the ranks of the W.S.P.U. army are not Tories.

The By-election Policy. Mr. Lloyd George's next point is that the W.S.P.U. has opposed Liberal candidates at by-elections irrespective of their private opinions. That is true, but the reason is perfectly sound.

The Conciliation Bill. Finally, Mr. Lloyd George charges us with "running the Conciliation Bill," which he argues was a measure to suit the Tory canvasser by "further packing" the register.

As a matter of fact—and Mr. Lloyd George knows it—we are asking for a vote for a woman on precisely the same terms as it is given to a man. We accepted the household suffrage for women (which was proposed in the Conciliation Bill) because the men's franchise was mainly a household franchise, and we were told that the Conciliation Bill was more acceptable to Liberals than the slightly larger measure for the simple removal of the sex disqualification.

Woman Suffrage and the Liberal Party. Critics of the W.S.P.U. policy are fond of saying that there is no practical difference between securing Woman Suffrage in the Government Bill and having the support of Mr. Lloyd George for the amendment.

At Bow Street. For the whole of the past week, the cases of the Suffrage prisoners have been before the Court at Bow Street, and the remaining twenty are to be tried to-day (Friday).

The Case of Mrs. Pethick Lawrence. Mrs. Pethick Lawrence, the leader of the Deputation, received a sentence of one month's imprisonment without the option of a fine; but, owing to the fact that in her first trial the evidence of the principal witness against her was given not upon oath, there is considerable doubt whether the sentence was legally imposed.

It has been decided to make a special effort to secure promises for a thousand new readers of this paper, Votes for Women, before the date of Mrs. Lawrence's release on Friday, December 22.

Items of Interest. As we go to press we learn that Lady Constance Lytton has been released from Holloway.

The London Graduates' Union for Woman Suffrage has passed a resolution calling upon the Government to substitute for the proposed Reform Bill a measure giving equal franchise rights to men and women.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Owing to the Christmas Fair and Fête the weekly meetings will be suspended until Monday, December 11, when the usual afternoon meeting will be held in the London Pavilion, Piccadilly Circus, at 3.15 p.m.

Woman's Press, 156, Charing Cross Road, W.C.

Now that Christmas is approaching readers are again reminded that Christmas cards and calendars can be obtained at the Woman's Press.

Most urgent appeal is made for handbill distributors for the coming week. Volunteers are wanted to give out Fair and Fête handbills at theatre queues, Tube stations, etc., and all names should be sent in at once to Miss Jessie Kenney, W.S.P.U., 4, Clements Inn, Strand, W.C.

HORROCKSES' LONGCLOTHS, Nainsooks, Cambrics, Madapolams, etc. SHEETINGS, Ready-made Sheets, (PLAIN AND HEMSTITCHED). FLANNELETTES of the Highest Quality. Ask for the New IDEAL FABRIC. SOLD BY DRAPERS EVERYWHERE.

THE OMNE TEMPUS (Read) COAT. THE ONLY RUBBERLESS RAINCOAT WITH A GUARANTEE. SLIP-ONS from 52/6 ULSTERS from 63/- Ready for wear in all sizes and styles, or made to order. PATTERN FREE COATS ON APPROVAL. Samuel Brothers Ltd. 65 & 67, Ludgate Hill, London.

COME TO THE CHRISTMAS FAIR! Portman Rooms, Baker Street, December 4-9.—An Open Invitation.

My Dearest Friend,—Of course you have heard that we are giving up one whole week this year, from December 4 to 9, to the fascinations of a real Fair and Fête and Christmas Festival.

For six all too short days the fun and frolic fairies will enjoy a gay and brilliant reign, and you may depend upon our seeing that no reign was ever more thoroughly enjoyed or will be more happily remembered.

Some folk who ought to know better have the oddest ideas about us still. I heard a woman say the other day, "I know heaps of people are afraid to meet the Suffragettes, they think them such one-idea'd women, and nothing would induce them to put a foot inside Clements Inn." The moral is obvious; if the thought of Clements Inn and its incessant activities fills these dear souls with alarm, suggest to them that there is nothing grim about an old English Fair, and gently insinuate the truth that Suffragettes, when they really set out to play, do so in just the same whole-hearted fashion as they work, and with just as much success.

You remember Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, whose wonderful work you saw at Prince's Exhibition two years ago; well, the general scheme of decoration for the Fête has emanated from her clever brain. She has pressed into her service a whole army of willing artists and craftsmen, and the result of their combined efforts will be, I can tell you, something exceedingly beautiful and decorative.

What fun it will be! Do bring as many friends as you can, and don't get too bored with my enthusiasm—you will share it, eventually, I know.

Then the men and women in the theatrical profession who believe in Votes for Women, you know how splendidly they always "play up" in every sense of the word, and one can't be too grateful to them for the part they will take at the Fête. Some of the most famous actresses, singers, and musicians in London will perform in a perfectly appointed little theatre, and well-known artists like Miss Lena Ashwell and Miss Eva Moore, Miss Evangeline Florence, and Mr. Hayden Coffin have promised to appear.

You will naturally like to know something about the stalls. An interesting feature will be the specialisation of each stall, so far as it can be managed, to one kind of article, and we have laid special stress upon the fact that, if possible, contributions to the stalls should be suitable for gifts.

I wish I had time and space to tell you in more detail all the thronging attractions which will be offered to the wise people who come and see us and help us to merry-make during those six days, but my letter threatens to grow out of all proportions, and I must stop; if I don't see you before December 4, and I am dreadfully busy, as you know, I shall look for you on that day, and shall be very disappointed unless you bring a party with you, ready to enjoy all the Fun of the Fair.—Yours ever, Mabel Tuke.

P.S.—Please turn to pp. 139 and 149 and read all about it!

THE NEXT PROTEST.

Names of volunteers for active service continue to come in; they include those of many who took part in the demonstration of Tuesday, Nov. 21, while others are of women who have not yet taken militant action.

As I was discharged at Bow Street last Thursday, I am ready for the next. Please enter my name upon the militant list, for I have not "learnt better," as Mr. Muskett advised me!

You may count on me till the crack of doom! If it is a mere question of the more the merrier I don't think I could stay away. In the future, when we have reached our goal, I can imagine what a mean cry I should feel at having watched other people doing the dirty work without having raised a finger to help.

Names should be sent to Miss Christabel Pankhurst, 4, Clements Inn, W.C.

TREASURER'S NOTE.

"You may imprison us, but you cannot imprison our cause," said Miss Evelyn Sharp to the magistrate last Monday at Bow Street, and on every side we see the truth of her assertion. Since the last Treasurer's Note was penned by my wife, over a hundred and fifty women have been sent to prison; my wife herself is undergoing a sentence of one month, which will not be up till December 22. But those of us who are outside the prison walls have made up our minds that the cause shall not be allowed to suffer during their absence.

It was on Thursday that my wife was sentenced, and on the same night there was a great meeting at the Savoy Theatre. The Treasurer of the Union was in prison, so the members of the audience decided that they would see to it that the treasury should be replenished. The word "promises" had scarcely been mentioned from the platform when sums great and small came pouring in till the magnificent total of £2,275 was reached. Coming as this does upon the splendid figure of £4,250 raised at the Albert Hall, it is a result to be proud of indeed.

The great financial event which lies before us is the Fair and Fête in the Portman Rooms, which opens next week. If this was any other Movement we should perhaps have people asking how we could bear to have a Fair and Fête when our comrades are in prison. The W.S.P.U. is too real to need an answer to such a question. We know how to work and we know how to play, and we know how to pay honour and respect to our brave comrades, both in our work and in our play. My wife, who has had so large a share in organising and planning the Fair, will not be with us; many of those who had made themselves responsible for important duties are equally unavailable. Others must come forward to fill their vacant places and carry the flag. Less pressing engagements must be put on one side, so that the W.S.P.U. may present to the world an unbroken front. Then there are still certain definite wants to be supplied, notably in the Refreshment department. Gifts of food of all kinds will be welcomed by Mrs. Tickwell at the Portman Rooms during the week. Not only so, but we must redouble our efforts to make the festival known all over London. In the few days that are left we want a distribution of handbills on a scale unprecedented before; they can be had in Clements Inn. Please come and get them and give them away.

There is another request I have to make. As Co-Editor of VOTES FOR WOMEN I want the readers to help me to make to my wife on her release a present which she will appreciate: I want to be able to hand in to her promises to obtain a thousand new regular subscribers to VOTES FOR WOMEN. I am quite certain that if every one puts their mind to this it can be done.

There is another request I have to make. As Co-Editor of VOTES FOR WOMEN I want the readers to help me to make to my wife on her release a present which she will appreciate: I want to be able to hand in to her promises to obtain a thousand new regular subscribers to VOTES FOR WOMEN.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE £250,000 FUND. November 17 to November 20.

Table listing names and amounts contributed to the £250,000 fund, including entries like 'Mrs. F. G. Hoppert', 'Mrs. E. H. Hoppert', and a total of £107,094 15 9.

ECHOES OF NOVEMBER 21.

AN IMPRESSION.

By Ruth C. Bentinck.

I write because I want to make one thing quite clear. The crowd were all on the side of the women. Can it be that in some dim, instinctive manner...

When one is suddenly whirled into a swaying mass of humanity, a consecutive account of occurrences seems impossible...

Standing out against this background of an agitated dream some quite definite pictures remain indelibly stamped on your memory.

PESS COMMENTS.

EVENING STANDARD.

Though there is nothing to be said for these regrettable ebullitions of temper, the feeling which underlies them is natural enough. It is indeed in many respects justifiable.

Mr. Evelyn Sharp, who was awaiting her trial at Bow Street, said that she spent the first three days before Tuesday, being afraid that at the critical moment her stone would not go through the window...

"LET TYRANTS FEAR."

Entering the Savoy Theatre on Thursday evening last, the first thing that caught one's eye were the words, "Let Tyrants Fear." They were the very words our hearts echoed.

THE SUNDAY TIMES.

We express our criticism on the merits of this militant agitation. We are merely concerned with the plain facts of the case. Women have died from their physical exertions...

ABERDEEN EVENING GAZETTE.

They had broken countless windows. They had demonstrated that they were in no mood to be trifled with by the Opposition...

NORTHERN WHIG.

It will take more than a heavy bill for broken glass to bring the Cabinet to its knees. There is no doubt that the Suffragists have a legitimate grievance against the Government.

LANCASHIRE POST.

If these women demonstrated anything, besides their own foolishness, it was a popular error about the inaccuracy of the feminine mind. In fact, they are very accurate.

MRS. SAUL SOLOMON INTERVIEWS MR. GEORGE.

Mrs. Saul Solomon was among the number of those who left Caxton Hall on November 21, with Mrs. Pethick Lawrence...

A SLIGHT EXAGGERATION!

The Daily Times print the following:- "As showing the kind of thing that happened last night, it may be mentioned that in one case a sheet of glass, 142 ft. by 141 ft. was smashed, and four men were engaged during the greater part of this morning in repairing the damage done in one second of time by one woman."

THE WOMAN'S PRESS, 155, CH RING CROSS ROAD, W.C.

If you want any Book, On any Subject, From any Publisher, The Woman's Press can supply you with the least possible delay.

DEPUTATION TO MR. MCKENNA.

A deputation, consisting of three members of the Pontypool and Griffithstown Women's Social and Political Union—Mrs. Arthur Edmunds (Pontnewydd), Miss Clare Butler (Pantbeg), and Miss Rachel Barrett (South Wales Organiser)—was received at the Home Office on Friday last by Mr. Reginald McKenna, Home Secretary, who represents N. Monmouth in Parliament.

On Mrs. Barrett's suggestion that many of Mr. McKenna's constituents, both men and women, wished to know exactly what his views were on the question of the enfranchisement of women, Members of the Cabinet, including Mr. Lloyd George, came out strongly against the Conciliation Bill.

Mr. McKenna: I voted against it. Mrs. Barrett said that he had described it as a bad Bill. If, as suggested, a Cabinet Minister moved a Woman Suffrage amendment to the Manhood Suffrage Bill, and the matter was left to the free decision of the House, they would not be able to get a majority.

Mr. McKenna: You are an anti-suffragist? Mr. McKenna: I am. I was waiting to hear arguments why, holding that view, I should support a proposal for the Government to force a measure which I dislike upon an equally unwilling House.

Mr. McKenna added that the proposed measure was improperly described as a Manhood Suffrage Bill. It was a Suffrage Amendment Bill, and would simply be a simplification of the existing law.

Mr. McKenna: Certainly. I was waiting to hear why I should take the contrary view. Mrs. Barrett: Is that because you disapprove of votes for women in any form whatsoever?

Mr. McKenna: I am. I was waiting to hear arguments why, holding that view, I should support a proposal for the Government to force a measure which I dislike upon an equally unwilling House.

Mr. McKenna: I am. I was waiting to hear arguments why, holding that view, I should support a proposal for the Government to force a measure which I dislike upon an equally unwilling House.

Mr. McKenna: I am. I was waiting to hear arguments why, holding that view, I should support a proposal for the Government to force a measure which I dislike upon an equally unwilling House.

Mr. McKenna: I am. I was waiting to hear arguments why, holding that view, I should support a proposal for the Government to force a measure which I dislike upon an equally unwilling House.

Mr. McKenna: I am. I was waiting to hear arguments why, holding that view, I should support a proposal for the Government to force a measure which I dislike upon an equally unwilling House.

Mr. McKenna: I am. I was waiting to hear arguments why, holding that view, I should support a proposal for the Government to force a measure which I dislike upon an equally unwilling House.

Mr. McKenna: I am. I was waiting to hear arguments why, holding that view, I should support a proposal for the Government to force a measure which I dislike upon an equally unwilling House.

Mr. McKenna: I am. I was waiting to hear arguments why, holding that view, I should support a proposal for the Government to force a measure which I dislike upon an equally unwilling House.

CHRISTMAS FAIR AND FETE, DEC. 4 TO 9.

It is with keen anticipation that members and friends are looking forward to next week, when they will have the pleasure of visiting the Christmas Fair and Fete at the Portman Rooms, Baker Street. The Fete will be opened at three o'clock on Monday by the Hon. Lady Johnston...

SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS FOR THE WEEK.

Besides the attractive programmes arranged for each day, the following plays will be given:- Monday Afternoon—"The Twelve Pound Look." By J. M. Barrie.

Tuesday Afternoon—"The Twelve Pound Look." By J. M. Barrie. Wednesday Evening—"The Twelve Pound Look." By J. M. Barrie.

Thursday Afternoon—"The Twelve Pound Look." By J. M. Barrie. Friday Evening—"The Twelve Pound Look." By J. M. Barrie.

Saturday Evening—"The Twelve Pound Look." By J. M. Barrie. Sunday Afternoon—"The Twelve Pound Look." By J. M. Barrie.

Among those taking part in the programme under the direction of Mrs. Pertwee during the week are the following: Miss Ellen Terry (engaged to perform Miss Eva Moore).

Plans for Refreshment Room. From 3 o'clock to 6.30 tea will be supplied, consisting of tea or coffee, bread, butter, and cakes...

Refreshment Department. The Committee are very grateful for the presents and promises already sent them; but in view of the enormous sum there will be on their resources during the whole of the week...

THE WOMAN'S PRESS advertisement for 'Greta' blouse fasteners. Includes image of a woman and technical details of the product.

ELIZABETH THE BEST ON EARTH advertisement for Schweitzer's Cocoa. Includes image of a woman and a tin of cocoa.

To your left, a

To your right, a

To your right, a time when a protest was necessary. She was fined 40s., or 14 days.

protest against the abuse of British freedom. She was fined 10s. and £2 damage, or 14 days.

A Bale of five real Witney Blankets for 21/6.

Carriage Paid in the United Kingdom.

We do not think this value can be matched in London or Elsewhere.

Each Bale comprises:

- Two Large Bed Blankets with Blue Borders, size about 92 by 74 ins.

ALL WHITE BLANKETS. WEAR GUARANTEED.

SPIERS & POND'S STORES,

QUEEN VICTORIA ST, LONDON, E.C.

DAILY DELIVERY by our Vehicles throughout London and Suburbs.

Catalogue of 1,000 Pages SENT FREE.

Mrs. Helen Cave was also sentenced to 5s., or five days in second division, for attempting to break through the police cordon.

Mrs. Margaret Fison was also sentenced to a fine of 5s. and 5s. damage, or seven days' second division, for breaking a pane of glass in the Local Government Board Offices.

A KINDLY DEED.

Mrs. Taylor, of Chipchase Castle, Wark-on-Tyne, is sending each of the north county prisoners a large shawl blanket.

RELEASE OF PRISONERS.

On Tuesday morning Miss Margaret Daly, Miss Edith Downing, Miss May Riches Jones, Miss Annie Ainsworth, Miss Ethel Lowry, and Miss Katherine Broadhurst, were released at 8 a.m., and were welcomed at the gates of Holloway by many of their friends.

RELEASE OF PRISONERS.

As we go to press we hear that Lady Constance Lytton has been released.

Mrs. Zanwill writes to us to say that her contribution to the first number of the Freedomer must not be taken to commit her in any way to the policy of that paper, with which she finds herself entirely out of sympathy.

BAZAAR AT SHOOLBRED'S

Gulliver, and Lilliput City, arranged in the Bazaar, and surrounded by DOLLS and TOYS of every imaginable kind...

Novelties for Presents - in all Departments -

- JEWELLERY LEATHER GOODS GLOVES SILVER GOODS SCREENS FANS & LACE CLOCKS FURNITURE CONFECTIONERY PICTURES CHINA & GLASS CAKES CALENDARS PLATE FRUITS BOOKS LINENS SWEETS CARDS CARPETS & RUGS PUDDINGS

The Full Christmas List, illustrated, sent post free.

MEN'S POLITICAL UNION For Women's Enfranchisement.

Table with 2 columns: Name, Amount. Total £1,151 8 0

LONDON MEETINGS FOR THE FORTHCOMING WEEK.

Table with 4 columns: Date, Location, Chairperson, Time

N.B. Owing to the Christmas Fair and Fete there will be no meeting in the London Pavilion on Monday or in the Steinvay Hall on Thursday.

WE DARE NOT WAIT.

As the time for the usual afternoon meeting drew near on Monday last, numbers of men and women, many of them strangers, were to be seen crowding into the London Pavilion, Piccadilly Circus.

Mrs. Elizabeth Robins said it was surprising that some better reasoning was not brought to bear on this subject by men who were supposed to keep in touch with current events.

Mrs. Annie Kennedy gave an amusing account of the protest in Bath, and the meeting closed with a few words from Mr. Pettibick Lawrence on the reason for the arrest of Mrs. Pettibick Lawrence.

HITCHIN BY-ELECTION.

Table with 2 columns: Candidate, Votes

Suffragists all over the country will rejoice at the splendid victory in the Hitchin division, where Lord Robert Cecil has been returned by a great majority.

CHRISTMAS FAIR AND FETE.

(Continued from page 133.) Mrs. Gundry, grateful thanks to the fete officers in various districts for their help.

MILLINERY.

Mrs. Reginald Post, 15, Scarsdale Villas, Kensington.

CHRISTMAS FAIR, FARM PRODUCE AND FLOWERS.

Mrs. H. Littlejohn, 17, Windsor Court, Moscow Road, Bayswater, W.; Miss Grace Rose, 18, Albert Street, Ipswich.

PRESENTS FOR MEN.

Sec. - Miss Billing, 4, Clements Inn, Strand.

GINGERBREAD STALL.

Miss Marie Brackenbury, 9, Camden Hill Square, Miss Marie Brackenbury would be most pleased to receive orders for the gingerbread stall.

TOY STALL.

Miss Leonora Tyson, Strawberry Road, Streatham, S.W.

sent in such charming toys and dolls of all descriptions during the week. All who promised plum-puddings, etc., have not yet sent in their contributions, and they are asked to do so by tomorrow (Saturday) morning without fail.

ANTIQUÉ STALL.

Mrs. Thomas, Llanwrn Park, Newport

ARTS AND CRAFT STALL.

Lady Meiklejohn has kindly consented to be the patron of the Arts and Crafts Stall, and will assist in the selling.

Ladies' National Association for the Abolition of State Regulation of Vice, and for the Promotion of Social Purity.

A Public Meeting WILL BE HELD AT MORLEY HALL, 26, GEORGE ST., HANOVER SQUARE, On Tuesday, December 5, 1911. Madame AVRIL DE SAINTE-CROIX

KATE NEWTON, 151-153, GREAT PORTLAND ST., LONDON, W.

KATE NEWTON, 151-153, GREAT PORTLAND STREET, LONDON, W.

Flako THE LAST WORD IN SOAP

Full and descriptive Programme of Christmas Fair and Festival, Price 2d., on Sale at the Woman's Press, 156, Charing Cross Road.

Tired? Out-of-Sorts? Pale? Anaemic?

DR. ANDREW WILSON says:—"Iron 'Jelloids' are indeed an excellent tonic and may be taken with advantage wherever a tonic is required. The most effective and desirable treatment for ANÆMIA or poorness of blood."

Palatable, Reliable.

MISS KELSEY, 11, Brigadier Avenue, Enfield, writes:—"I have reaped much benefit from the 'Jelloids,' and prevented nervous breakdown, as I took them in time. I have found them an excellent tonic, wishing you every success."

HUNDREDS OF SIMILAR LETTERS RECEIVED.

For Adults .. Iron 'Jelloids' No. 2 Price 1/4 & 2/9.
 For Children Iron 'Jelloids' No. 1 Price 1/4 & 2/6.
 For Men Iron 'Jelloids' No. 2a Price 1/4 & 2/9.
 From all Chemists.

Iron 'Jelloids'

are the most Delightful Pick-Me-Up.

A fortnight's trial (Price 1/1½) will convince you.

AWARDED GOLD MEDAL, FESTIVAL OF EMPIRE.

THE 'JELLOID' CO. (DEPT. 179 N.S.), 78, FINSBURY PAVEMENT, LONDON, E.C.

The Iron 'Jelloid' way renders the taking of an Iron Tonic a pleasure. Palaty and agreeably flavoured. Try them now, and you will be both pleased and surprised at the wonderfully quick results.

Inexpensive, Non-constipating.

MRS. FARNWORTH, 15, Sunlight Road, Park Road, Bolton, Lancs., writes:—"I have been taking Iron 'Jelloids' for a fortnight, and they have certainly done me good. They seem to be all that you claim for them. I am recommending the 'Jelloids' wherever I can."

HUNDREDS OF SIMILAR LETTERS RECEIVED.

COUPON No. 179. "Votes for Women."

A FORTNIGHT'S TREATMENT of either No. 1, 2, or 2a, and a free book on Anæmia by Dr. Andrew Wilson will be forwarded post free on receipt of this coupon (or number) and P.O. for 1s. 2d., direct from THE 'JELLOID' CO. (DEPT. 179 N.S.), 78, FINSBURY PAVEMENT, LONDON, E.C.

Established 1820. E. DAY & CO. Tel. No. 2840 P.O. Hampstead.

FRENCH CLEANING & DYEING WORKS
 NETTOYAGE A SEC.

5, Brocknock Road, and 275, High Street, Camden Town, N.W.

Dry Cleaning in all its branches, and Dyeing in latest Fashionable Shades.

Receiving Houses: 10, Russell Gardens, Kensington, W. 86, Rosslyn Hill, Hampstead, N.W.

Mrs. MARY LAYTON, F.R.C.O.
 (Hon. Organist to the W.S.P.U.)

Voice Culture for Singers and Speakers. Private Lessons in Singing.

Singing Classes and Ladies' Choir.

Please Note Change of Address to THE CHALET,

2, Fulham Park Road, S.W.

RUSKIN FABRICS
 Founded by J. Ruskin in 1881, or the manufacture of Pure Wool into Pure Cloth. Patterns from G. HOLROYD & SON, Dept. A, Baxton St., Huddersfield or Dept. A, Laxey, Lincs. 1 Man.

SPEND

2^d

ON THE

Programme

OF OUR

CHRISTMAS FAIR AND FESTIVAL.

Portman Rooms, Dec. 4 to 9.

Open each day from 2.30 to 10.30 p.m.

The Programme is a 48-page booklet, beautifully printed throughout in the colours of the Union. It is full of informative detail from cover to cover. That is what the Programme is. This is what it tells you. After an introduction, which is a cleverly epitomised history of the W.S.P.U., the Programme describes and explains the beautiful mural decorations of the Main Hall. It tells you all about the Old English Market with its ancient fair and booths, and so fully describes the separate stalls that the stranger and visitor will know where and what to buy. It gives a daily programme of the theatrical performances, it tells you all about the Bands, the Conjuring, the Punch and Judy, the Christmas Tree, the Roundabout, &c., &c. It tells you everything.

On Sale at THE WOMAN'S PRESS, 156, Charing Cross Road, W.C.

ISLINGTON DENTAL SURGERY 69, Upper St. London, N.
 MR. CHODWICK BROWN, Dental Surgeon

MR. FREDK. G. BOUCHER, Assist. Dental Surgeon, Established 35 years.

Gas Administered daily, at 11 and 3, by a Qualified Medical Man. Fee, 7/6.

Record of 30,000 successful cases. Nurse in attendance. Mechanical work in all its branches.

THE BEST ARTIFICIAL TEETH (from 5/-). Send Postcard for Pamphlet. Telephone No. 638 Central. No Show-case at door.

Votes for Women

1s. 6d. lb. TEA. 1s. 8d. lb.

CHINA TEA, 2s. & 2s. 6d. lb.

THE WOMAN'S PRESS, 156, Charing Cross Road, W.C.

MRS. EVERSHERD, Church and Decorative Needlework, 69, South Molton Street, Bond Street, London, W.

Special Christmas Show and Sale.—Calendars and Diaries from 1s. Small white linen handkerchiefs. Sachets worked in lavender, 2/-; larger sizes, 5/6, 12/6. Parcels sent on approval.

ROBERTA MILLS and her Hand-Wrought Leather

Special designs in Belts, Blotlers, Cushions, Letter Cases, Book Covers, "Birmeline" Bags (a large and a small bag in one), "Christabel" Shopping Bags. Sachets as made for Miss Ellen Terry, etc., etc.

Clients' ideas carefully carried out. Apply—7, STANSFIELD ROAD, BRITTON S.W.