KNEBORTH HOUSE,

KNEBORTH.

20th October 1910.

Dear Miss Strachey,

I have done my best with the Archbishop, but have failed, I am sorry to say. He realises that it is impossible to come in contact with our movement at the present moment without being committed to action of one sort or another. He is a sympathiser at heart, but not prepared to do active work for us or become one of our leaders just at present.

I assure you that I tried the best means I knew to secure him and did not reply upon myself alone. I got one of his best friends to plead with him, but we failed. I am so sorry.

Believe me,

Yours truly,

Lepton

Miss Strachey.
