Dear May

I am sending you on a letter from Mr. Harben which you can answer better than I, though I have told him I am willing to give him any information I can at a moment's notice. Could you get Mr. Williams to write a letter that Mr. Harben could use in the paper he mentions?

I suppose dear old Mrs. Birley has left now and you will be having Jennie soon. I don't expect I shall be able to get back next weekend unless I come on Sunday afternoon as I want to work here on Sunday morning. I was a Steward at a meeting yesterday at Putney where Mrs. Parkhurst made one of his very able speeches, and am off tonight to Edmonton to try one of my street corner orations.

Love from Alf and Especially to the little Oreo.
You might write to Mr. Harben that he could meet you here one afternoon if you tell him when you could manage it.
