Dear Secretary

I thought yesterday that some body might have said something about the immense amount of work you have organised & put through in all these deputations etc & M.P.s — all the more difficult & wronging that things have been so adverse of late.

It seems to me really a tremendous job altogether. When things are read out in a string like that perhaps every one does not realize what it means in the way of labour & organisation. I wonder if you have got any more favourable ones today & yesterday for ever
Very sincerely
Henry Lowndes
