

Connah (Mrs)

No 2

AL/296

JESSIE CONNAH,
ACCOUNTANT & AUDITOR.

Telegraphic Address,
HANNOC, LONDON.

8, Canning Place,
Kensington, W.

London.

31 Oct 1907

To Miss McKee.
Hon. Treas.
C. Soc. for Women's Suffrage.

Dear Madam,

I regret that pressure of work has prevented my replying to your letter of the 27th sooner.

If you look through the Books you will understand my remark about the Book-keeper not having sufficient time for her work.

As Auditor I am disappointed that after all the trouble I have had to put your Society's Accounts in to order that the work is not yet up to my standard. At the same time as I have told Miss Cameron what I think, may I suggest that it might be discouraging to her if the Committee enlarge upon the matter.

With regard to my fee, it surprises me that your Committee are so unaware of how generous I have been. The facts

AL/296 conv.

- 2 -

are that your first Audit was a great loss of my valuable time, the second Audit, owing to three different Book-keepers being employed, interviews, instructions, opening new Ledger &c, my fee should have been 14guis instead of $4\frac{1}{2}$, & in this year's Audit 9guis worth of my time has been absorbed. The Committee forget of what very small sums their Accounts are composed..... a 1/- sub has the same amount of checking as a £100 sub !
You will see that I cannot reduce my fee should I be re-appointed.

I am, dear Madam,

Yours faithfully

Jessieannah