

The Fox Farm. Bowditch

Saturday. June 12. 1916

AL/3171

My Dearest Amy

Your letter tells me the greatest pleasure. It reached me here this morning so it was very little after the real birthday. All through this wonderful time I have so felt that there are many blessings mixed up with all the anguish & suffering &

The Fox Farm. Bowditch

Saturday. June 12. 1916

AL/3171

My Dearest Amy

Your loving letter gave me the greatest pleasure. It reached me here this morning so it was very little after the real birthday. All through this wonderful time I have so felt that there are
many blessings mixed up with
all the anguish & suffering & one of them is the increased sense of comradeship between men & women & between class and class: artificial barriers have been broken down & we have all seen things much near in their reality.

You are always so kind & generous in thought & act, and I do thank you with all my heart. These lovely gloves will remind me of you. I should not have allowed myself such luxuries now.

I am so interested in what you say about the soldiers and stay in your feelings about them. Did you see a wonderful letter about the sea fight in Friday's Times from a midshipman of 16. quite wonderful - so modest & Sammi. We are very interested to hear about Plumie. Please thank him for writing to me.

It is good to hear the every news of Jack.

Write love from us both

Ever your lovingly

—
M. J. Fawcett