Dear Miss Strachey,

Your circular has just reached me. How I wish I could set aside my engagements for the next three months and do my little best for the cause; I should be so proud and glad to do it but I am so busy doing my job that the only engagements I now permit myself to have, that I could set aside would be business engagements and I must stick to it and make it a success somehow for I am comforting myself with the thought that although I have neither time nor money to give, I am indirectly doing a little for W.S. for I believe that anything which opens a door for women helps and if only I can make my new job a success it will open a door. But oh, you can't think how I long to be in the thick of it with you!

Please send me 20 of the leaflets for the Men's Meetings and I will distribute them to likely people.

I saw the correspondence between Mrs Fawcett and Asquith in the Times today and boiled. I am not a militant, no I am not but I am beginning to understand their point of view.

My new job is panning out alright I think - I don't want to be too optimistic but so far it has gone a good deal better than I expected, anyhow the management have told me that they are pleased, which is something.

Please send the pamphlets to my city address:

1 & 2 Royal Exchange Buildings E.C.

With all kind wishes,

Believe me,

Yours very sincerely,

Shelley Gulick
