HOME OFFICE,
WHITEHALL.

13th April, 1912.

Sir,

The Secretary of State having carefully considered your application on behalf of your wife, Myra Sadd Brown, I am directed to express to you his regret that he can find no sufficient ground to justify him, consistently with his public duty, in advising His Majesty to interfere in this case.

I am,

Sir,

Your obedient Servant,

C. Blackwell

Ernest Brown, Esq.,
