Dear Miss Strachey,

We have received a list of the Constituencies which you have undertaken. I spoke to Miss Ward this morning about the means to procure election addresses when the General Election takes place. Durrant's Agency came to see me yesterday and said that they made arrangements for procuring the addresses and sending them forthwith at the time of a General Election. They supply them at 2d each. It seems to me that it would be well worth arranging to have these sent to us in this way in those Constituencies where we have not a person actually on the spot and I should like to know if you would make some arrangement or would like us to do so for the Constituencies which you undertake. I do not quite know whether you have actually undertaken to do the Election work as well as collect information. If you have you will probably find it more convenient to make arrangements yourselves about the Election addresses. If you can let me know your opinion on the question before Thursday, I should be very glad as I want then to give some idea to the Executive of the number of Constituencies in which we would want to make the arrangement with Durrants'.

I am,

Yours very truly,

Marion Phillips

P.S. I hope this is not too complicated.
