Mr P. Amelsson

Dear Miss Dove,

Arriving in London on Good Friday, I intended to visit the Library long before this time. Unfortunately, I have been in hospital, (where I still am) for over two weeks

It is nothing serious, but is rather painful, necessitating rather heavy sedation. It is hoped by my medical advisers that some quite decisive step to remedy one of my troubles may be possible.

Should this prove possible, it will make a great positive contribution to an improvement in my health - at least, it will diminish the pain.

I have finished 'The Shield' which I will return to you as soon as possible.

Unfortunately, I have not been able to complete 'The Vote' but it is quite safe, and I hope to do so, once a little better equilibrium in my health is established.

You will be pleased to know that my little book has been accepted by the publishers - Lawrence and Wishart - and as soon as I am well enough to expand two chapters it will be put through the presses.

They have asked me to write a further book on the Women's Freedom League and the East London Federation, led by Sylvia Panthurst, which I have agreed to do.

Mrs. Ramelson

Would it be possible to visit you at the Library, with a view to loaning (with acknowledgements) photos or other material, suitable for illustrating the book already accepted?

My work would have been impossible without the help of the Library, its magnificent collection and your great personal kindness and help

Yours sincerely
Marcian Ramelson
