Times.

Dear Mrs Fawcett,

I talked for some time last night with the Prime Minister who is very keen on the subject and practical, too.

I make the suggestion to you and Lady Betty Balfour that you get up a large and representative Deputation. That will give the newspapers the opportunity of dealing with the matter.

I shall speak to the Editor of The Times on the question to-day. I believe he is entirely favourable.*

Yours sincerely,

Northcliffe

P.S. I have sent an identical letter to Lady Betty.

Mrs Fawcett.
