My dear Lady Currie,

I am so sorry

I can't accept & go to you. I am indifferent with things to do here, & can't leave London even for a day as my time is so short. If I should be greatly obliged for your letters for London, though not sure of going but I am yet.

Yours affly

Freyer

to have a window you may hear me talking on the 20th evening, & this means rehearsals (as there are 5 people:

I think it will be a dreadful hash). I am also trying to take lessons in days making, — & so on — Lady Brougham Carter says you may be at her party on the 29th. I do hope so. I shall be leaving a few days after.
