June 13. 1923.

My dear Mrs. Sarah Solomon.

Your beautiful experience was written in lips - reached me just as I was going into the counter. So I took it away with me to read & reread. It is very wonderful as an experience. I cannot imagine anything more beautiful happening in this life than such a lifting of the veil.

I have heard similar experiences.

In fact there are ~~two~~ waking men, whom I sometimes meet, who quite consciously leave the body lying asleep on the bed, & then together visit the Astral world

& meet there the souls

who have left the body altogether, or who have left it temporarily in sleep.

They have told me many ^{experiences} one was an encounter ^{with} ~~who~~ the soul-self of a murderer who was in constant terror of discovery, & was consumed with remorse. They found the soul of ~~the~~ or the astral self - of the man who had been murdered, & brought them together, and the Victim reassured his murderer & told him that he had suffered no harm but only good from the change: They were at the time in quite another realm of course, from the realm which you visited.

It is vision of this kind that makes daily life full of significance.

You suggested a memorial to Lady Curzon. I think a beautiful tribute would be for her Sufage friends to take a
