Two Pages of Music: One Big Union.

eadnoug PLENTY FOR ALL, POVERTY FOR NONE.

VOL. X. No. 14

SATURDAY, JUNE 23, 1923

WEEKLY.

STAMBULISKY

THE MEANING OF THE BULGARIAN COUP. Its International Significance.

Stambulisky is reported as killed "in attempting to escape." The murder of im-" in ortant prisoners is now commonly described that manner. The murders of Karl Liebmecht, Rosa Luxemburg, and hundreds of others, were announced under cover of those The facts leaked out later in many

The editor of the "New Leader" joined Mr. Ewer, who created of this matter for the in minimising the importance of the Bulgarian militarist coup and in leprecating Stambulisky and his Government. Mr. Brailsford, in his "New Leader" ditorial, write:

"M. Stambulisky was an able, determined, unscrupulous man, leader of the strong Peasant Party. As with so many other Balkan statesmen, he treated internal politics as a kind of perpetual vendetta, and the right place for political opponents was in his opinion, not the opposition bench but exile or gaol. Hitherto he was ex-tremely successful, for nearly all his oppon-ents were imprisoned or had fled the coun-, and he had just obtained, by the usual Balkan methods, a large majority at the elections. His rule, which leaned towards the Left, was no more constitutional than is that of Signor Mussolini."

Mr. Ewer, whom we quoted in last week's declared that the fall of Stambulisky was due to his dictatorial methods.

Does Mr. Ewer really believe that had Stambulisky been more democratic in his dealings with the militarist reaction he would not have been overthrown and murdered?

The Power of the Rich.

Our reading of the situation is that Stamulisky attempted to introduce larger reforms for the benefit of the small property holders and the propertyless, without destroying the private-property system, than the large nolders were prepared to tolerate.

The large holders of private property having considerable wealth still at their disposal, money, land, and the means of production, distribution and transport, as well as holding positions of command in the Army, were able to organise an effective counterrevolutionary coup.

Stambulisky, on the other hand, had the Government machinery and the votes and support of the peasants. Even in the Government offices it is probable that the reactionaries held many important official posi-

Had the management of the Army Police Force, and of production, distribution and transport been democratised, the reaction have triumphed as it did.

How Could the Coup have been Prevented? How could such democratisation have been obtained? In the case of the industry, firstly by dispossessing the capitalist, secondly placing the management in the hands of rkshop committees or soviets. To demoworkshop committees or soviets. To demo-cratise the army and police, rank-and-file committees on soviet lines should have been set up. In passing, it must be said that Army and Police Forces are inevit-ably a negation of democracy, and even of what some people call ergatocracy. At same time, military force may be used At the the democracy against the aggression of the

Had Stambulisky been supported by the railwaymen, the movement of the monarchist troops might have been delayed until the peasants (who, in the main, supported Stam-bulisky, we believe) had time to muster forces to oppose the reaction.

Had there been a strong popular movement in the Army, the reactionary officers could not have accomplished this coup.

Were the Elections Falsified?

Mr. Brailsford and Mr. Ewer have assumed that because the Peasant Party secured 215 out of 246 seats in the recent election, the Stambulisky Government must have used force or fraud in the elections. The British Labour Party is not so successful as that, you know. Mr. Brailsford and Mr. Ewer may If so, let them special information. publish it.

On the other hand, it must be remembered nat the Socialist and Peasant Parties were remarkably successful in Bulgaria so long ago as December 1913; the Bulgarian Socialists secured 37 seats in the Parliamentary elec-tions, and the Peasant Party 47 seats, out of a Parliament of 211 members. Together with other opposition parties they had a Par-liamentary majority. The opposition parties put forward a programme of 15 points, and threatened, if these were not granted, to pass a law abolishing the monarchy and establishing a republic.

The summoning of the new Parliament depended on the King. The King did not summon Parliament. On March 8th, 1914, the old Government held new elections, and by police violence succeeded in so far altering the result as to give the old Government a majority of nine seats. The Socialists had 20 seats instead of 37, but the peasants had 50 instead of 47.

Thus the reaction, even by the use of violence, was not able altogether to transform the voting. Is it likely, with the military command in the hands of his opponents, that Stambulisky did more in 1923 than the conservative party in 1914 to falsify the elecservative party in 19 tions? We think not.

A Defeat for Parliamentary Government.

The overthrow of the Stambulisky Governshould be received with mourning by the Parliamentary, Labour, and Socialist Parties of the world. It is a serious blow to the cause of Parliamentarism. It reveals the weakness of Parliamentary government in face of serious attack: its inability to carry through economic reforms.

Stambulisky and Town Proletariat.

The Stambulisky Government has persecuted the Bulgarian Communists, whose secuted the Bulgarian Communists, whose main strength lies among the town prole-tariat, which forms but a small proportion of the Bulgarian population. Such persecution by the Stambulisky Government was doubtless in part forced upon it by the reaction. Certainly the Government orders were exceeded by the reactionary Army officers who carried them out.

The fundamental economic difference between the Stambulisky Government and the town proletariat was that the Stambulisky Government represented the party of small peasant proprietors. The cutting up of the big estates, in Bulgaria, as in Russia and the whole of Eastern and intermediate Europe except Old Servia, has meant that the town population has experienced a greater difficulty in obtaining food.

Why?

The reason is that agricultural produce has largely ceased to be a commodity. The agricultural labourer produces that his master might sell the product of his labour. The peasant produces mainly for his own use. The agricultural labourer produces more and consumes less than the peasant.

DONE WHILE YOU WAIT.

Hand's Yard is the name of a narrow rightof-way passage leading from a main street in Grantham, and lined on one side by tiny cottages of single entrance.

On being conducted through this thorough fare as a short cut to the railway station spick and span hospital nurse surveyed the dwellings with disgust, and indignantly exclaimed within hearing: "Fancy bringing me through this dirty hole!"

Although the landlord was in no way per-turbed by the dirty appearance of the houses, inhabitants determined at once to win away the slur from their otherwise cleanly

On Thursday last, in their spare time, they ommenced operations in transformation. commenced operations in transformation.
One by one the cottages were lime-washed to perfection.

On Friday a fine picture presented itself Each family purchased a shilling pot of dark-green paint, and soon busy decorators were at work on-doors, windows, and flower-boxes What would I not have given for a camera, as first one girl and then another leaned through a bedroom window, and with paint-pot in one hand, and brush in the other, pot in one hand, and brush in the other, lightly touched the framework here and there in view of admiring lookers-on.

To-day is Saturday. Curtains have been taken down, washed, and put up again, and a new two penny brace.

a new twopenny brass numeral, showing brightly against the dark green door of every showing of 1/6 for each family. As I watched these busy young men and women enjoying their self-imposed task, I could not help thinking of the well-known words

"What might be done if men were wise What glorious deeds, my suffering brother, Would they unite in love and right, And cease their scorn of one another.

YOUR SUBSCRIPTION.

The high cost of production A blue mark in this space indicates that your subscrip-

of the paper necessitates prompt payment

PRESS GANGDOM.

I see by the papers—to be exact, by Labour's own daily—that the Platen Minders' Trade Union is going to propose that the Trade Unions find a job as Censor. The givestrong affection for details of the worker's life, especially so in a strike. You then discover, Henry, that your wine list is as long as your ears, and that trip of yours to old Tutandcomeagain's tomb was really in bad taste. There will be some talk about abolishing whippet-racing, and, maybe, allowing each miner more than two yachts apiece.

But that is extra specials, as it were. The dutiful journalist, who is probably a Trade Unionist himself, thinks it goes all the better for the boss and the circulation if he can tell a taller one than the red-headed fellow who does the Labour correspondent column for the paper two doors up. Day by day, then, you hear of innocent workmen led up the garden by serpents in the shape and form of trade union organisers, work-shirking un-employed agitators, and disguised members of the Moscow Soviet.

But the Left-Wing Communists are naturally the worst of the lot. They are Anarchists, of whom you never hear for weeks, and who all at once come out of the underground dens where they have been hiding, and scatter seditious literature which has, perhaps, been hidden in their Bolshevik

I have often wished to meet a real live Communist, with a Moscow whisker, who lives in a lair. But so far I have not succeeded. I orce met one whom you might call a crafty agitator, and the conversation went like this:

Now look here. I've just been hearing you talk Communism and all about the workers being robbed, and all that. Where's

"My which?" he asked, showing his ignorance just as I expected. Lair." I repeated a, spelling it out.

La-i-r. 'Are you Shakespeare or Robert Louis

Stevenson, or have you merely been reading Diamond Dick? "he queried. 'I am afraid I don't understand," I said, in a tone of lofty rebuke. "What do you mean-Shakespeare, Stevenson, Diamond

'I thought so," he murmured, rubbing his beard, only two days' growth, to be exact.

'You are one of those people who live in the Middle Ages—which accounts for your language. By my halidom, sirrah, why can't guage. ou say where do I hang out? Apart from the impertinence of your question, do you think I'm Captain Kidd or a member of the Ancient Order of Jolly Rogers?

And with a sniff he walked away

Well, Henry, as a matter of fact, most of these agitators and other pushful persons who are always stirring up the country actually live in houses just like you and me. Mine's a bed-sitting, if you want to know, and if anyone likes to write and tell me of a flat that has been seen lying about without a dog-collar on, this address will find me. I prefer one with plenty of furniture, a bath, no rent to pay, and a bottle with three stars on it, not necessarily Soviet stars.

Anyway, it does seem that the Press, which each and every one gave a different but sure Derby winner, does go in for the Ananias cor-respondence course. No wonder the trade respondence course. No wonder the trade unions are about to be upped and doinged by the platen minders.

How far the platen minders will be able to kick the unions remains to be seen. But when you come to think of it, the minders seem to be minding the wrong end of the

Whilst it is true that the " Daily Haste and the "Morning Wheeze" both get up an unofficial competition in red ruin and revolution, still nobody is bound to buy them. If you want to spring a penny on a paper, you might as well blue it on the "Dreadnought" once a week, and so save fivepence, not counting the "Sunday Sensation," twopence saved, and, mayoe, five bob by not backing saved, and, mayoe, five bob by not backing the sure winners you don't read of. Total saving, five and sevenpence, which, placed end to end in one year, would make the "Dreadnought" a daily.

It would be hard cheese on the poor editors, bravely struggling on a paltry thousand a year, or twenty-four quid a week; and, maybe, the "Dreadnought" people would give me a free conv. At present I have to give me a free copy. At present I have to cough up twopence—one for me, and one for the blind man round the corner—in order to be able to see if the editor has really printed this or used it to wrap dinner in.

Maybe also there would be a few thousand journalists cast in a heartless world where good lies were too cheap to make a living out of. But with the "Dreadnought" a daily, it is hard to suppose that things would just go on in the same old swindle. Believe me, my dear friends, there would be some hum, and old London would not recognise herself in her new scarlet cloak and red bonnet.

Howsumdever, Henry me boy, if the platen minders will take a tip from an ordinary comp., they will let their resolution drop and get busy at the other end getting Trade Unionists to ouy a paper that looks a bit beyond a rise of a measly twopence an hour. Sticking plaster is cheap to-day.

you want a good corn cure, pull it out by

AGRICULTURAL LABOURERS' WAGES.

Conciliation Committees are in force in the following areas, with the following results:

		Weekly			Hou	J
		wage		pe	e
					wee	k
		£	8.	d.
Š	Cheshire	1	12	0	54	Ł
	Cumberland and
	Westmoreland	1	10	0	68	3
	Devonshire	1	10	0	54	£
	South Lancashire	1	12	6	The state of
	North Lanceshire	1	15	0	60)
	East Lancashire (for special workers only	2	0	0	60)
	Leicestershire	1	11	0	54	Ł
	Loughborough	1	10	0	52	2
	South Middlesex	0	0	71	per hr. 48	3
	N. Northumberland	1	12	0	50)
	Shropshire	1	10	0	58	3
	Staffordshire	1	10	0	54	E
	Suffolk	1	5	0	50)
	Sussex	1	7	0	54	Ł
	Brecon and Radnor	1	10	0	59
	Cardiganshire	1	10	0	54
	Carnaryonshire	1	12	6	61
	Denbigh and Flint	1	7	1	50	,
	Merioneth and
	Montgomery	1	8	0	60	-

THE WORKERS' OPPOSITION IN RUSSIA.

By Alexandra Kollontay

First Soviet Commissary for social Welfare.
Describing the conflict between the Communist workers and the Soviet Government the Workers control of industry. An important book

June 23, 1928

SPICE A "KEEKER."

The new lady member took her seat hursday. . . . There was nothing rema Thursday. . . There was nothing remable about her entry: she took her cue "walked on" dressed like the girls in tea-room. It is remarkable that it s have been left to a lady to appear in House, early in the afternoon, with that ration of the epidermis which, o ring in the proximity of an organ of vision ermed in the vernacular of Cowcaddens' keeker," but so it was.—E. MacNeill V

MRS. SNOWDEN'S INTERNA-TIONALISM.

Mrs. Philip Snowden, in the "New Leader points out that the Anglo-Scottish Fina orporation is exploiting a new invention r. Hermann Wolf, of Germany, by wh raw oils can be doubled. Dr. Wolf's app. us was only rescued from the French in Ruhr by the pretence that it was a l blacking manufacturer's appliance, Snowden says:

If the French had not been dece in this matter, this invention would he been lost, and the enormous potent benefits to industry with it. Is not conclusion significant?

The French would certainly have anne the invention and made use of it; "potential benefits to industry" would not Mrs. Snowden says, have been "lost "industry," though they would have exploited by a French instead of by a Brit company.

Mrs. Snowden's internationalism seems be nationalism after all.

WESTERN CIVILISATION.

Mr. Percival Landon, "Daily Telegrap orrespondent in Lausanne, says: "The prevailing reflection is regret

Bulgaria has once again adopted methods are in direct antagonism to all that Wes civilisation stands for.

What about the Fascisti?

'NOW FOR SOCIALISM." But Robert Smillie's election address to mention it.

NEVER AGAIN!

Replying to a toast "The Armed Forces the Crown," proposed by the President Magdalen College, Oxford, on Saturday, J. 16th, Mr. Amery, First Lord of the Amiralty, said "disarmament was a dreath a figure of the imagination."

War the nightmare's pledged in wine Maudlin " men, in fine Drunk by Hear them scream:

'Disarmament's a dream ''—Hic!

Love, feed your babies bonny On snow-white breast and honey,

Hear them scream: Blow the Hun and feed the gun, Disarmament's a dream "-Hic

Bonny babes make bonny sons, Healthy sons feed greedy guns, Hear them scream:

"Blow the Hun and feed the gun, Disarmament's a dream"—Hie!

CLARA GILBERT COLE

When you have read this paper, send it to a friend with your comments on anythi our columns that specially interests you.

Send us a list of persons likely to become regular readers of the "Dreadnought, order that we may send each one a specimen copy.

Place free copies of the "Dreadnought" in the letter-boxes of as many houses as y can afford, and call a week later with a view to persuading the householder to buy the par

Take the "Dreadnought" to the workshop and show it to your mates.
Send for 13 "Dreadnoughts" on sale or return for 9d., to take to the meetings y attend. You will certainly sell them.

Send to the "Dreadnought" Office for a leaflet explaining Communism. Read that to every meeting your - 234422

POLISH PERSECUTIONS.

June 23, 1923.

The following report was transmitted in eranto by M. Sosna, and has been transd by Mark Starr.)

The Polish capitalists, supported by French ital, have declared war upon the workers. Polish Government has taken as its first he complete destruction of revolutionary ing-class organisations, and first of all letarian Union of Towns and Villages the Labour Unions. Simultaneously the offensive of the industrialists against high wages, the eight-nour day and rs horidays, develops systematically the ssion of the working-class movement Government. Any union which does please the Government and the Capiis declared to be Bolshevik, and per The most active unions have been the police or the Law Courts. The of tobacco, chemical, sugar, building, er, and wood workers have been de The Council of the Unions in Warhas also been dissolved, as well as in ndent unions in the country. The politi-workers' organisation, the Proletarian on, was treated as illegal, although in offices have been shut and its publicaconfiscated. Almost the same has red with the Party of Independent dists. The workers Press is severely Walka Robotnicza '' in War-"Trybuna Robotnieza" in Lwow, "Glos aleznych Socjalistow" are regularly conted. Two hundred persons suspected by secret police of being Communists were sted at the end of April.

Here are a few individual cases of the Govent attack upon the workers:

the end of March a strike of workers in no took place. Because the strike coned obstinately, the police decided forcibly ppress it. On March 23rd the police ed a peaceful group of strikers in the s and severely wounded a seventeen-old working girl. On the 27th a similar took place, and the strikers were ed and arrested; one of the arrested.

the same month a priest informed the ct police in Pruzany that in some of the es existed a revolutionary organisation sing a stock of weapons. Therefore, on sh 25th, in the night, policemen and sol, with one cannon and many machinesurrounded these villages (Smolniki, y, Horobszczyzna, and Mielniki), to every house. Many of the villagers peaten until they bled, among them two 62-year-old men. Despite their , only one old hunting rifle was found. y-one persons were arrested and transto Pruzany

April 25th the police in Boryslaw Poland) arrested four workers. igh they found upon them only legal nents. Two of them were soon liberated. the others, Wiesenfeld and Wekselberg. sent to the prison Lwow. There, failed to force a confession, the police red them for three hours. After three of such examination they sent them into her town.

When the usual Lacour demonstrations no objections up to this time to the defend-May 1st were held in Warsaw and Lodz, ants' bill of exceptions. demonstrations organised by the Prole-n Union were attacked by the police and isti groups, and about 200 in Lodz were ided. The protest of the Lodz Socialists ast the police violence was suppressed. situation of the political prisoners bemore and more unbearable. On May On May 18th the workers' depu-Krolikowski and Lancucki, in a question he Government, gave proof that the poliprisoners were treated as criminals, and the complete insufficiency of the evidence to warrant a verdict of guilty, has been filed and argued. This motion was rejected by the Court.

HOW THE SACCO VANZETTI CASE STANDS.

the juror Ripley carried into the jury-room certain .38 calibre Harrington and Richardson loaded revolver shells which he had in his pocket at the time he was sworn as a juror, but which were not part of the evidence in the case, and used same for purposes of comparison with certain shells which were exhibits in the case. This motion has been argued, no decision has been made; the Court has asked for a further argument; this argument has been delayed, first by reason of the illness of the judge, and now by reason of contrades by prison and death. Many of our the illness of the district attorney.

3. Motion for new trial has been filed, on the ground that the witness Louis Pelser committed perjury in making an identification of Sacco, and on the further ground that a newly discovered witness since the trial-namely, Roy E. Gould-states that he was within ten feet of the bandit, was shot their crushed bodies hurled down to your feet, through the coat, and that neither Sacco nor mid pitiless laughter. The four martyrs of Vanzetti were the bandit. This motion has not been argued.

4. Motion for new trial has been filed, on the ground that the Commonwealth's identification witness, Carlos E. Goodridge, is not Carlos E. Goodridge, but is Erastus C. Whitney, alias C. E. Willis and many other aliases, twice convicted of grand larceny in the State of New York, and at the time that he testified he was a fugitive f.om justice from the State of New York on a third indictment for grand larceny. A man of ill-repute in the various communities where he has lived for truth, integrity, veracity and lawabiding citizenship; this motion is supported by some 160 pages of typewritten matter embracing Court records, copies of various letters that he has written to his various wives, boasting of his criminal exploits, and affidavits of a great number of persons who have known This motion has not been argued the Commonwealth's identification witness. Lola R. Andrews, committed perjury making her identification of Sacco motion is supported by the lady's own davit, in which she admits her perjury. This motion has not been argued.

6. Motion for new trial, on the ground that microscopic examination of the so-called mortal bullet which the Commonwealth claimed on the crial came from the gun of the defendant Sacco did not, in truth from said gun. This motion is supported by the affidavit of Albert H. Hamilton, nationally known microscopist and gun expert, and is accompanied by a great number of photo-micrographs. This motion has not

7. Bill of exceptions has been filed, but same has not seen settled. The oill of exceptions constitutes the basis under our practice for carrying the case to the Supreme Court of the State. The Commonwealth has filed

FROM BARTOLOMEO VANZETTI, ONE OF THE VICTIMS OF THE MASSACHUS-SETS MURDER FRAME-UP

Comrades, Friends, and All Workers,— Now I see with the eyes of my soul. O. comrades and friends, called to this meeting by the voice of solidarity, by the common rights that unite us all in the brotherhood of a fraternal cause. I know your hearts, your intentions, and your will. Your splenyour intentions, and your will. Your splendid and fearless spirit of solidarity comforts me for three years of continuous struggle.

Oh, I would like to be among you, friends and comrades; to tell you all anat is boiling in my heart and speeding through my brain But it is not possible, wherefore, please Since the verdict of guilty was rendered on July 14th, 1921, the following develop- soul. I wish to raise my voice, not to you alone, but through you to the world at large; the voice of protest, the voice of alarm. That is my desire to-day. This is the sincere expression of a prisoner of war which goes on between liberty and tyranny, between right and privilege, between justice and oppression.

> I will not mention my dear Nick and myself exclusively: it would be unjust, it would be There are many others, prisoners a shame in the bastilles of the international bourgeoisie, guilty of nothing but refusal to commit nomicide when honneide was approved by the master class, or the crime telling the cruth and showing the masses the road to redemption.

> Comrades and friends, for more than a cencontrades by prison and death. Many of our brothers have tallen into ambush in this class and workmates for these victims of oppression to overturn the talse charges and accusations against them. You have defended them up to the steps of the gallows and seen mid pitiless laughter. The four martyrs of Chicago you detended, Joe Hill, Ricardo Magon, and many others. In answer to your appeals they still nold, locked up behind the grey walls of their prisons, Mooney, Billings, venturato, and many more innocent workers,

> If you do not know, ask Eugene V. Debs what it means to be in prison for an ideal. Ask him what it means to present the truth to blindfolded Justice who has no eyes to see it and ears only for the enemies of truth.

> Must we keep silent? Must we not rather cry out, raise our voices in protest, with the hope that they will be heard and answered by the workers of the world? Shall we lie here and accept life imprisonment? Let us raise the cry: "Liberty or Death!"

> Workers, friends, and comrades, for our liberty and the liberty of all the prisoners of war held in the pastilles of the masters, for your freedom and the freedom of your children, stand up for the freedom of all who are held in gaols occause of their beliefs, because they have seen loyal to the workers in the struggle for life.

> To the united front of persecution we must put a united front also without compromise, without renunciation of freedom of thought every one with his own means and methods This way, and this way only, can the great variety of revolutionary elements be harmonised in one universal front against re

> Comrades, in the name of myself and Nicola Sacco, I send greetings to the memory of all our martyrs and heroes, to all class-war prisoners, and to all the workers of the world

(Signed) BARTOLOMEO VANZETTI.

THEY DIDN'T BOTHER.

'Our baker's wife came in to do business with my sister yesterday, and told her of the following bit of spice.

'She and her husband went to the pictures on King George's birthday. During the per-formance the National Anthem was played. The house arose, but our two friends sat

"Next day a doctor's wife, who trades with them, came to close her account because of their 'disrespect to His Majesty.'

She accused them of being Socialists, but they denied this. They had no spite against the King; they were tired, and simply didn't bother about him, that was all.

Morkers' Dreadnought

Editor: SYLVIA PANKHURST.

All Matter for Publication— To The Editor:
Business Communications— To The Manager.
WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT,

152, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.4. SUBSCRIPTIONS. Three Months (13 weeks) ... Post Free 1/74 Bix Months (26 weeks) One Year (82 weeks)

Vol. X. No. 14. Saturday, June 23, 1923.

Our Diew.

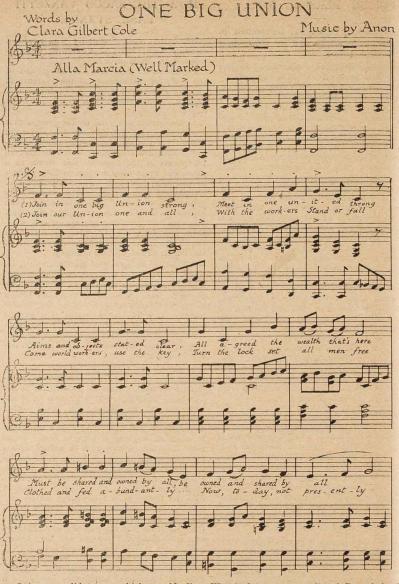

THE FRENCH GOVERNMENT is steadily preparing its Allies and their armies for the next war. The French General, Lerond, has Organising Armies of Armies of been visiting Rumania and Rumania and Yugo-Slavia. He has studied the plans for reconstructing the Rumanian Army and given his advice thereon. The regiments in each Rumanian brigade are to be increased from two to three, new artillery regiments are to be created, all supplied with heavy guns The number of tanks and aeroplanes is to be considerably increased. French officers will educate the Rumanian cadets, and prospective aviation officers will study in France The location of the regiments will no longer be published, and only the total Army exinditure is in future to be published, the stails remaining secret. Thus will be details remaining secret. created the element of mystery necessary to actual warfare. General Lerond agreed upon these points, so the "Manchester Guardian reports, with the leaders of the Rumanian General Staff and of the chief old Rumanian

General Lerond gave an equally careful study to the Jugo-Slav military situation.

He was asked to use his influence to enable Jugo-Slavia to order submarines, and especially Diesel engines, in Germany, on repara-tions account. The Versailles Treaty forbids this: but the Jugo-Slav Government asks that this inexpensive method of procuring war equipment may be opened to it nevertheless. The Jugo-Slav Government declares the creation of a considerable fleet of destroyers to be essential to it. The French Government will doubtless assist in procuring these for

AN ATTEMPT to clip the wings of the Labour Party by making it more difficult for it to raise election funds will Political undoubtedly be made in this Parliament. Lord Birkenhead has challenged the Government as to its policy, both in regard to Trade Union political levies, and in regard to renewed power for the House of Lords to checkmate a possible Labour Government. Lord Birkenh in this as in other directions, is playing the part of propagandist for reaction, preparing the way for reactionary action by the Govern-ment in this matter, as in others. Lord Salisbury has replied with studied diplomacy that he believes in Trade Unions, but that the Trade Unions have now reached maturity and no longer need the swaddling clothes of artificial laws to protect them. Therefore he appealed to arade Union leaders to agree to an alteration in the law to prevent people being forced to subscribe to things they do not approve "—or, in other words, to Labour Party candidates. Lord Salisbury also pro-mised that before this Parliament comes to an end a measure will be passed to reform the House of Lords. The moderate men in the House of Lords who are supposed to have Labour sympathies advised the Government to be careful not to take drastic action which would arouse indignation and so give added tract attention from the fundamental question of changing the system. They will keep * such harmless fights going as long as they WITH supreme high-handed insolence, Lo

MR. MUSSOLINI has explained that his Black Shirt Army has not Mussolini's taken the oath of allegiance to Private Army, the King of Italy because it is a party militia. This party militia he declared to be liable to serve anywhen the strict of the stri where, even outside Italy, to repress any attempt against the Fascist Government.

It is important to remember that the State (or, in other words, the whole people of Italy) provides the money to keep up Mr. Musso-lini's Party Army.

Mr. Lloyd George led the way by using Government money to pay for his propaganda.

Mr. Mussolini follows, and uses Government money for the forcible maintenance of his

The Gipsy party in power.

MR. ANDREW ROTHSTEIN has written to Careerists. Rothstein, has been engaged propaganda." Mr. Andrew Rothstein

ing Labour candidatures, which would dis- We need expect no political Don Quixotist Curzon informed the Sovie spondence may now be broug to a conclusion." He ignothe Soviet demand for mutual inquiry into he charges, accepts the transfer of Mr. Rask nikof, "against whom the main charges habeen made," and declares that "if there any future infringement " by Mr. Shumis sky, the Soviet Government will be expect to take "severe disciplinary measures." So the Anglo-Russian incident closes. expected such a result from the first.

THE GIPSY WHO BROKE OUT of pris in the effort to be with h wife at the birth of her fir child recalls the inhuman of prison regulations. Peop serving a short sentence for Breaker.

the Press to complain that some trivial offence, even for failure to particular to particular that his father, Mr. Theodore nearest and dearest in case of illness and the pressure of the pre death.

In a novel the Gipsy prison-breaker wou propaganda. Mr. Andrew reconstein in a novel the cripsy prison-breaker would have expired in Septem the ordinary business of his Government. We are not surprised by the disclaimer. The father passed from the service of the British War Office to the service of the Russian limitations imposed upon them as Have-Not imposed upon the Have-Not imposed upon the Have-Not imposed upon the Have-Not imposed upon the Have-Not imposed support to Socialism.

The Capitalism parties would greatly welcome a sham fight over technicalities regard.

War Office to the service of the Russian limitations imposed upon them as Have Soviet Government. The son saw service in a land of wealth and plenty, meet come a sham fight over technicalities regard.

Ireland as an officer of the British Army. in a land of wealth and plenty, meet wi

We shall ver-y All men feel the lit-tle lack MR. RAMSAY MACDONALD, in the tion. The vicar took them into his stable,

That's our bat-tle cry and call our bat-tle cry and call Clothed and fed a - bund-ant-ly, To-day not pres-ent-ly hospitality to an article by Mr. Pelizzi, which suggests that Fascism stands for some and that he has given the workers the eight-nour day. Now Mr. Fisher Unwin has pubished a book by Dr. Pietro Georgolini, which leclares the Fascisti to be the special friends the small peasantry.

The fact is that the eight-hour day was on by the Italian workers long before Mus-olini came to power. The eight-hour day is the only thing of which Mussolini's Govern-tent has not yet robbed the workers. He tands for aggressive and oppressive industrial

As to the peasants, they complain that the Jussolini Government taxes everything they ossess—even their cow.

PRIMITIVE MAN could at least build a house for himself. Modern Two Families man, under the Capitalist sysin a Stable. tem, is dependent on the good offices of the landlord, who will only provide houses if it pay him better invest his money in house property than in anything else Thus more and more people who desire to rent a house find that ne landlord is only willing to sell. applies to a great proportion of the vacant houses of London.

At Tatworth, in Somerset, two families were evicted, and could and no accommoda-

Socialist Review' has given housing one family in the coach-room, the pospitality to an article by other in the harness-room. Christ and his mother are supposed to have lain in a manger. The Tatworth vicar-a follower of Christ, at is presumed—is not of the poor and lowly; he has not merely a house, but also a stable in which he can house a couple of families. Many a vicar, however, would have refused even that accommodation to the homeless.

The vicar reported the matter to the Chard Rural District Council, and pointed out that there were empty houses in the village re-quiring repair in order that people could live

The owner may lack the money to repair the houses; or the owner may prefer to leave the houses empty and wait for a purchaser. Yet men who could build and repair houses are unemployed.

The defenders of the Capitalist system can provide no answer to such facts.

DEBATE. Is Industrial Organisation necessary before the Social Revolution?

Affirmative, Sylvia Pankhurst, Negative, Guy Aldred. BUILDERS' LABOURERS' HALL, Blackfriars Road,

Saturday, June 30th, 7.30 p.m. Admission 6d

LETTERS OF KARL LIEBKNECHT. TWO LETTERS TO HIS WIFE.

August 5th. 1915.

Dear Sophie .-

So far I have not obtained leave, so I can not be in Berlin in time for the opening of the Reichstag. I wonder if I shall be there in time for my birthday? Everything is still uncertain. It I could only see you, at least! Who knows what may happen later. Could you manage to get to B. in a few days if 1 should be able to go there? Certainly I can-not go where I like, apart from the fact that I am obliged to be present at the sittings of the Reichstag.

Everything here is going on as usual. We everything dur quarters. It would be have changed our quarters. It would be idyllic if we were here in different circumstances—a stork sitting on her nest; beehives, bushes loaded with berries, and growing underneath these the red currants that you are so fond of, and a peach orchard. This evening I was lying stretched out on the grass in a field. Cream-coloured flowers were waving above my head against a deep blue sky full of sunshine. You would have been in ecstasy, as you were that day at the farm by the field of lupins.

The weather has been bad, and the roads impassable. Continual meteorological sur-prises came to us from the sea just near; but now nature is shining again in all her splendour. And the evenings! Oh, if only you were here! What a quantity of things, too, for the children to learn and enjoy! is just in living over again the surroundings of our childhood that we realise what the children of to-day miss by having to spend their youth in a large town. I can always see Borsdorf in my mind's eye, and ourselves growing up in the midst of nature, which we never considered as a place for picnics, far off, impersonal, almost a stranger to us, as those may do who only go to the country for a holiday. . . . As soon as I know when I am coming I will let you know. Be sure there is always someone in the house to re-ceive the news if you should be absent. In any case, I will write to Alice as well. I have received long letters from the children which pleased and interested me very much.

I have just received, too, the cigars you sent me, thank you. A thousand kisses to you, my darling, and to the children.

September 15th, 1915.

Dearest Sophie,-Your letter of August 30th—that is to say, the day I left Berlin—arrived here this evening. I have joined my division at last, after nearly twelve days of adventurous travelling. We are stationed by the Duna, near Friedrichstadt, like a wedge between the Russian positions which extend on our right and left. The troops have already suffered a heavy fire from the artillery and also from the infantry, and have been employed in the trenches too Some wounded and missing, but up till now none killed. Last night our division was forced by the artillery fire to leave its quarters. During the march, too, we had an opportunity of making the acquaintance of the aeroplane bombs. We live in a state of continual alarm—we must not even take our clothes off. During my absence the troops have suffered terrible fatigue. To-morrow I hope to be able to undress. It is night now —a quarter to ten. There is no moon, only the light from the bit of candle I am holding illuminates the barn, which, of course, is windowless. The walls are literally covered with flies, and the buzzing and stinging of them is horrible. The men are sleeping all round me. The nights are getting longer and longer, and there are no lights, which is par-ticularly hard to bear. But the worst is not receiving either tobacco or cigars. Yesterday in a store of pillaged goods we found a little tobacco—a drop of water in a purning desert. Candles and something to smoke are what we miss most. The post is very slow and irre-(Continued on page 8.)

ESPERANTO.

Lesson 22.

WORDS AND THEIR MEANING (Cont.). Atenti means to attend to, pay attention; atento, attention; atenta, attentive; atenci (pronounce as " atent-see ") is a rar meaning "to assault (criminally), to make an attempt ' (against the lit somebody)—e.g., La atenco kontraŭ la vivo de Vorosky estis bedaŭrinde sukcesa, the attempt against the life of vorosky was, unfortunately, successful.

Provi means " to make a trial or test of," to make an attempt '—e.g., Lia provo naĝi al Francujo ne sukcesis, his attempt to swim to France did not succeed.

Peni means "to endeavour, to try, to make an effort." Kiom ajn li penos, li ne fariĝos pentristo, However much he tries, he will not ome a painter (artist).

.--Ad- denotes continuation or repetition (of an act)-e.g., pafi, to shoot pafo, a shot; pafado, repeated rring; paro-lado, continued speaking, a speech; vizitadi, to visit habitually, to frequent. This suffix often corresponds to the English used to (do ething)—e.g., Li vizitadis nin ĉiutage, he used to visit us daily (every day).

Prefixes.—Bo means related by marriage,
in-law, bopatro, father-in-law; bopatrino,

mother-in-law.

Ge- means of both sexes—e.g., frato, brother; gefratoj, brothers and sisters; sin-joro, gentleman, Mr.; gesinjoroj, Mr. and Mrs., ladies and gentlemen.

Ek- denotes the commencement of an action or its suddenness of occurrence—e.g., h iris, he went; li ekiris, he started; li vidis, he saw; li ekvidis, he espied, caught sight of.
Impersonal Yerbs.

The learner is often puzzled in endeavour-ing to translate such expressions as "there is (are)," as in "There are many members our union who buy capitalist papers Estas multaj membroj en nia unuiĝo kiuj aĉetas kapitalistajn ĵurnalojn. Contrast the foregoing sentence with the following: There (in that place) I saw many members, Tie mi vidis multajn membrojn. Clearly, in the first case there has not the same meaning as tle (in that place, there). The word there should therefore be omitted in translating a sentence into Esperanto, unless it definitely means " in that place.

Similarly, the word it is used to form impersonal expressions, as in: it is raining, plu vas; it is snowing, neĝas; it is thundering, tondras; here again we omit the word it in

In phrases like "it is good (desirable, necessary, advisable) to (do so and so)," the word it is impersonal and is not translated e.g., Estas necese manĝi por vivi, it is necessary to eat (in order) to live; estas dezirinde lerni paroli Esperanton se oni estas interna-ciisto, it is desirable to learn to speak Esperanto if one is an internationalist. (Espe anto uses the adverb dezirinde, "desirably, rather than the adjective, where there is no noun in the sentence to which it could relate.)

Yocabulary.

per	by means of
atentado	attention
memoras	remember
vorto	word
necese	necessary
signifo	meaning
eĉ	even
kelkaj	few
ofte	often
sed	but
spite	in spite of
ja	denotes emphas
laŭdi	to praise
strange	odd, strangely
THE RESERVE TO SERVE THE PARTY OF THE PARTY	11

Translate.

rer atentado ni memoras vortojn. Estas the wage-workers' possibility of freedom is necese atenti al la signifo de vortoj. Lia through permanent Trade Union organisa-parolado estis bona eê bonega; sed li ne faritions; and on pages 30 and 21 gos oratoro, spite liaj penoj. Demosthenes. appears to be placed in the Trades Councils. Is fama greka oratoro, malsukcesis en siaj It is also recommended that the number of unuaj provoj. Jes, sed li ja ne estas Demosthenes! Antaŭ kelkaj jaroj (a few years ago) 1921) be reduced, and that the machinery be it vizitadis nin ofte, sed nun li jam ne vizitas overhauled to prevent bureaucracy. Yet nin. Estas la kutimo laŭdi patrinojn kaj mallaŭdi bopatrinojn. Estas strange! ĉu do (then) bopatrinoj ne estas patrinoj? Kiam la vagonaro (train) por Manchester ekiras: Kiam a Gi ekiras je la 9.40 (la naŭa kvardek). Mi Committee Movement: ekvidis ĝin unu momenton, tiam ĝi malaperis (disappeared).

THE WORKERS' DREADNOUGHT.

In the paragraph commencing "Aktuala in Lesson 21, read aktuala afero, not aktuale.

FROM THE PUBLISHERS.

War: Its Nature, Cause and Cure, by C. Lowes Dickenson. (George Allen and Unwin, 4/6.)

Mr Dickenson is a cautious Liberal, but also a good tellow, who dislikes to see the holocaust of people that war entails.

He is forced to recognise that war is a adopted by all States, and especially by the British Empire." Poor fellow, he is still an Imperialist, for all his pacifism. Firstly, that they will not impose any duties to favour any State, even their own State.

Secondly, he says all States, and, of course, specially the British Empire, the greatest of the Empires, must agree:

"That they will not endeavour to secure for themselves or their friends a monopoly or any special preference in raw materials such as oil, or iron, or gold, or cotton, or phosphates, or anything else; but, on the contrary, will agree either to sell all such things openly to those, of any nationality that will pay best for them; or, in the case of necessities, of which the supply is limited, to distribute them, on some equitable principle, among those who have need

It is strange: here is one who is hailed as great moral leader amongst the Liberal ool who thinks he can stop war and remove the evils which affect humanity by agreement the evils which affect humanity by agreement to sell raw material to those that will pay best for them! Yet he is groping for some-thing better, vaguely and painfully like a blind man in the dark, for he suggests the alternative possibility of distributing necessities "of which the reply is limited" "on some equitable principle." On what prinche is not adventurous enough to suggest. On what principle ccording to need and desire, though so wandering philosophers of Liberalism.

It is odd that Mr. Dickenson can comprehend, as he explains in the present book, that no rules to modify warfare will be kept :f success can be gained by their breach, and yet fails to see that rules to humanise capitalist money-making will also be broken when money can be made thereby.

As to the maintenance of Empire over submust be converted into a burden instead of a He might as well suggest making war as pleasant as playing tennis.

The Trade Union Movement, Past and Pre-By Mark Starr. (Plebs League, 6d.) This pamphlet gives a survey of the history of Trade Unionism, but its predictions for the future are vague and confused. It seems to place its faith in the development of such institutions as The Building Guild, for it says: Where the Guild has been introduced, intimates that the Trade Union camel will edge its way into the Capitalist tent to such an extent that there is only room for the Capitalist outside.

At the same time it states on page 9 that there is also a protest against autonomy and the parrot-like repetition of the demand for general staft.

There is a cursory reference to the Workers

At one time it seemed as if the Shop Committee and the Works Movement was going to eclipse entirely the older Unions. But owing to the slump and the persecution has been broken down.

Mr. Starr forgets, though he has recorded the fact in this pamphlet, that the Trade Unions themselves passed through many vicissitudes before they attained to any degree of stability. As he himself shows, the Unions numbered less than two million members a lately as 1900.

Everyday Life in the New Stone, Bronze, nuestion of business. He thinks it can be and Early Iron Ages. By Marjorie and cured by two expedients "which must be C. H. B. Quennell. (B. T. Batsford,

These are exceedingly useful books for young people and beginners. They contain many illustrations and useful maps and lists of authorities. It is a pity that certain theories which are by no means universally accepted, such as that given as the origin of ages, should be set forth as facts, without indication that they are still in dispute. way, with a vast amount of information geo logical and geographical, architectural and A real effort is made to give : picture of everyday life in the periods chosen.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

A retail house in Plein Street, Cape Town. has as shop-walker an ex-sergeant-major in full khaki regimentals, wearing eight medals. Others exhibit in their windows lists of members of their staff who made the great sacrifice during the late war. Capitalism will not sink in the pursuit of profits. Communism would abolish such prostitution.

General Herzog, leader of the Opposition of the House Assembly, says he is going to use the Labour Party so that the Nationalist Party will get into power.

Mr. Boydell, M.L.A., organiser of the South African Labour Party, informed the Benoni Branch of the Labour Party that t was losing its hold on the electors, as disthat it was suicidal on the part of the Labour Party to be associated with the Commsection of the United Front Movement. United Front Movement embraced Com-munists and Nationalists, as well as the Labour Party, but the Communists practi cally gained control.

Creswell, M.L.A., leader of the South African Labour Party, in the House Assembly, said in the City Hall that the people were told the Labour Party was made up of Com-munists and Bolshevists, but the Labour Party had no use for the raising of class hatred. Nevertheless, the Labour Party has tne Communist objective in its manifesto. Last year Col. Creswell, M.L.A., tried to get the Communist objective removed from the official programme of the South African Labour Party He failed.

Mr. Barlow, M.L.A., writing to the Press

on the Socialist Sunday Schools, says:
"The Labour Party is not connected with this nefarious scheme of inculcating into the heads of the young a want of reverence for the Most High

He holds that the Communists are the greatest enemies the South African Labour Party has got, and he is out to fight them at all times. There is no more connection between the South African Labour Party and the Communist Party than there is between the South African Party of Smuts and the Communists. I think he is right.

ISAAC VERMONT.

Parliament As We See It.

AUSTRIAN LOAN.

June 23, 1923.

The Austrian Loan guaranteed by the Gov-rnments of Britain, France, and Italy, has een used to enslave Austria to the Allied ommissioners, and especially to worsen the onditions of the workers.

It has also been manipulated so that the ive been able to make extra profits

The loan was supposed to be open for sub ription on Monday morning; but those in rious Saturday afternoon, so that two hours cash applications. Ordinary people who wanted to make a bit for themselves out of Austria's distress therefore found that the big he shares. The little people protested, brough Captain Berkeley, that it was not air; but Sir William Joynson Hicks (Finanal Secretary to the Treasury) pooh-poohed speculators who paid 5 per cent. deosit to secure the shares were able to realise ouble the amount by selling out next day, s the shares had risen five points owing to ne demand for it.

This is not all: the loan was issued at 80 cent. That means that for every £80 ent to Austria, the Austrians will have to pay interest as though it were £100, and eventually they will have to repay £100 for every £80 borrowed. The Anglo-Dutch loan, floated a few days later, was issued at 93. The Austrians have been "done" in more ways than one. The Deputy-Speaker closured ll protests: "We cannot have a debate."

Mr. Ramsay Macdonald, who, when it was ntroduced, described the Austrian Loan Bill as a beneficent measure, observed that "the per cent, more than it would otherwise he of such are the doings in the Temple of lammon on which the "Daily Herald" bublishes a daily article "by a worshipper

LEGITIMACY BILL.

The legitimacy Private Members' Bill assed the Third Reading. This Bill aims at egitimising children born out of wedlock, whose parents subsequently marry. It has, however, certain limitations. It does not operate unless the father is domiciled in Engand or Wales at the time of the marriage if either parent were married to a party at the time of the hirth No child thus legitimised may succeed to or transmit any dignity, title or honour, even though there be no other heir to the title.

Public opinion is moving on to recognise ne inhumanity of stigmatising any child as llegitimate." That opinion is gradually ng reflected in the House of Commons. illegitimate.

Presently it will be generally observed that he marriage laws are the outcome of the property relationship. They will disappear under Communism.

BASTARDY BILL.

The object of this Bill, which passed its Third Reading, is to allow the Courts to order to 20/- instead of only up to 10/- a week be paid by the father for the maintenance of an illegitimate child. An amendment to give the child a claim on its father's estate esponse to the plea of Mr. Jack Jones (Lab.) in working-class families it working infair to the legitimate wife and children

It proved beyond the wit of Parliament to devise the means of protecting the unfortun-

WHAT THE "HERALD" SAID ABOUT CURZON

of the Russian Note but was over-ruled by the Prime Minister. He said the statement was "without a shadow of foundation."

WHO PUBLISHED THE RUSSIAN REPLY?

The Government denied having issued the Russian Note to the Press before it was laid Austrians pay more than they otherwise vould for the money that has enslaved them, diated having done so.

INDIA.

Protests were made against the doubling of the Indian salt tax, which has been done by the Governor-General, who has over-ridden the decision of the Legislative Assembly.

Earl Winterton, the Secretary of State for India, said that the Governor-General's power over-ride the Legislative Assembly is real The Indian National Debt, which in 1918 had been £400,000,000, had risen to £500,000,000 on March 31st last. Budget deficits had occurred each year recently; this must be stopped.

The deficit is £2,500,000. The increased

WHEN EXTREMISTS GROW LESS

EXTREME.

Earl Winterton said, in regard to those nonoperators who are seeking election to the Legislative Council:

I believe that when extremists enter legislative assembly they tend by the force of events gradually to become less

Mr. George Lansbury: "Hear, hear!"
That is our opinion too, but we draw other

A QUESTION OF £ s. d.

Colonel Wedgwood (Lab.) is apt to forget is supposed to be speaking for the class that has neither banking accounts nor investments. He said that the British have at least £500,000,000 invested in India, and probably double that amount. The safety of that capital depends, he said, upon amicable relations with India. He added:

"It is for that reason that we on these benches are particularly anxious that during these critical years while India is cutting her wisdom teeth self-government should come about without causing friction between the Indian people and ourselves.'

He further observed: There is Mahatma Gandhi, probably the most saintly person since Jesus Christ, who is revered and worshipped by the people of India. He is in gaol, too. His cause has ceased to be a cause of any danger to English rule in India. His folowers are split. He would disapprove of going on to the Council; but C. R. Das. the Pandit Motilal, Nehra, the Pandit Maleviva, and the rest of them, are going on to the Council whether he approves or So far as danger to British rule, he s no danger whatever.'

Such remarks from a genial imperialist are illuminating. He admires Gandhi, but rejoices in the belief that he has ceased to endanger British rule on account of British said:

J. H. THOMAS AS USUAL.

Mr. J. H. Thomas (Lab.), as usual, voted with the railway company on the North-Eastern Railway Bill. The company's Bill was opposed on the ground that it has secured an undertaking from the Metropolitan Railwavs not to build a tube north of Finsbury Park without the consent of the North-Eastern; that the North-Eastern withholds such consent, but will not build such railway

There are 310,000 holders of lapsed 5 cent. War Bond policies. These policies have lapsed either because the holders did The Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs denied the "Daily Herald" statement that Lord Curzon desired the rejection not know there was any more to pay, or because they were unable to pay. An exment that Lord Curzon desired the rejection

Service man in Hull County Court secured

Movement, write S. Cahill, 152 Fleet Street.

judgment against the Prudential Assurance Company for the refund of all premiums Prudential Assurance Company says it will deal specially with cases of hardship arising from the lapse of War Bond policies efore they have been in force two years.

The Government refuses to do anything to protect the policyholders who, in a large number of cases, believed they were purchasing War Bonds.

Such cases emphasise a two-fold evil of this class society: firstly, that many people are so much unused to technicalities that they are easily defrauded; secondly, that others are constantly defrauding the

COMMUNISTS.

Mr. Lansbury said that British Secret Service agents treat foreign Press men as Communist and Socialist agents, that correspondents and editors of foreign papers find it difficult to enter this country, and that foreign Communists and Socialists are treated as undesirable aliens, and are either refused appropriate to hard. refused as undestrative aliens, and are either refused permission to land here or are im-prisoned without trial pending deportation. Also, that police officers, when asked the character of prisoners charged, state that they are members of Communist organisaions, as though that were in itself a crime IMPERIAL ECONOMIC CONFERENCE.

The Presidents of the Association of critish Chambers of Commerce, British and Federation of British Industries, been asked to assist the President of the Board of Trade in framing a detailed agenda for the Imperial Economic Conference. The Minister of Agriculture will also confer with presentatives of the agricultural industry. Mr. A. V. Alexander (Lab.) asked whether the Co-operative Movement had not been heard of; but the Labour Party made no claim for the representation of working-class

The President of the Board of Trade stated that in case of shipwreck, wages to seamen stop on the day of the wreck, and there is no power to claim compensation from owner for loss of seamen's property.

BEER PROFITS.

Bass pre-war 8 per cent., now 11 per cent.
"Not very big!" protested Col. Gretton
(U.), one of the big brewing M.P.s. Bass's hare capital, however, had been increased by 50 per cent.; therefore, the 11 per cent. should be considered as $16\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. Moreover, in 1914 the shareholders paid income tax: now their dividend is tax free

DOLES FOR THE RICH.

The Trade Facilities Act Advisory Committee has guaranteed the principal and interest of a loan, not exceeding £2,300,000, to be raised by the Royal Mail Steam Packet Co.

SLAVERY OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

Asked whether the territories mandated to Britain will adhere to the convention for the suppression of the traffic in women and ch ren, the Under-Secretary for the Colonies not exist in the Cameroons, Togoland and Tanganyika, so there is no need for adhesion to the convention. . . As to Palestine . . . to the convention. . . As to Palestine . . . the necessary legislation will be passed, but probably not until peace is concluded with Turkey. It will then be possible for Palestine

And what about the child slaves of British Hong Kong?

HIGH COURT FEES.

Wages are coming down, but not those of the lawyers. High Court fees were fixed in 1921, and remain exorbitant. The Attorney-General refused any reduction.

Dur Bookshon

Our Bookshop.
Edward Carpenter: Desirable Mansions	41d.
Clara Cola:	11d.	(
The Castle in the Air Parliament The People's Enemy Dustheap Alley and The Living	1 d.
Tomb Belgium Never Neutral	1¼d. 1d.	1
The Message	1d.]
The Message Discovered: The New Armament Ring	1½d.	1
H. Gorter: Ireland: Achines Heel of England	1½d.
W. F. Hay: The Logic of the Machine	2½d.
A. W. Humphrey: Life in Russia To-day	1 1 d.
The Allies' Crime Against Soviet Russia	1½d.
Alexandra Kollontay: Workers' Opposition in Russia	6½d.	-
O. Y. Kuusinen:	21d.
The Finnish Revolution N. Lenin:	2gu.
Bourgeois Democracy and the Dictatorship of the Proletariat	1½d.
The Chief rask of Our Times Marx and Engels:	1½d.	-
Manifesto of the Communist Party E. Sylvia Pankhurst:	3½d.	T
Housing and the Workers' Revolution	1½d. 1½d.	I.
The Schooling of the Future Soviet Russia as I saw it	1/2	p
Writ on Cold Slate	1/2 n:	18
Rebel IrelandLabriola:	230.	n
Socialism and Philosophy	6/10	8
The Theoretical System of Karl Marx	6/10	t
E. Untermann: Marxian Economics	7/4	is
Engels: Socialism, Utopian and Economic	1/71	4.4
Origin of the Family	3/8
Karl Marx: Eighteenth Brumaire (paper) (cloth)	1/7± 3/7±	le
Civil War in France	1/71
C. K. Streit: Where Iron is, There is the Father-	0.171	I
land Lafargue:	2/71	f
Origin and Evolution of the Idea of	3/11
George Brewer: The Rights of the Masses	9d.	-
W. Liebknecht: No Compromise	1/1
A. Pannekoek: Marxism and Darwinism	9d.	g
Mary Marcy: Shop Talks on Economics	9d.	f
Wm. Morris: Monopoly, or How Labour is Robbed	21d.	0
Useful Work and Useless Toil A Dream of John Ball	2½d. 10d.	t
rhilip Kurinsky: The Intellectual and the Worker	9d.]
Industrial Unionism and Revolution	9d.	(
Viteslav Halek: Our Grandfather	91d	8
Poldik the Scavenger	41d.	1
J. W. Draper, M.D., LL.D.;	8½d.	1
Christianity and Civilisation Anatole France:	2½d.	1
The Human Tragedy	9½d.	1
Twenty-six Men and a Girl	91d.
The Age of Reason	91d.	1
The Insect Play	2/11/2
R. U. R.	2/71
L. A. Motler: The Revolution To-morrow	21d.
Poems	10d

The Miners' Next Step.

The miners are faced with the need for doing something now, fellow-worker.

They postponed a decision as to whether they would recede from the agreement come to with the mine-owners at the close of the late strike, in the hope that the Labour Party Miners' Minimum Wage Bill would be passed. The Labour Party leaders declared that political action is better than industrial action, and urged the miners to pin their hopes to that Bill.

It is now known that the Minimum Wage Bill will be defeated. The Government has refused to give time for it, and has even refused not to put on Government Whips against it.

Now the miners will have to decide whether they will take industrial action, or

Now the miners will have to decide whether they will take industrial action, or whether they will continue to endure their present unhappy conditions.

If they decide to submit and make no fight for improvement, they will, of course, have worse to suffer, because it will be seen that there is no fight left in them. You quite realise that, do you not, fellow-worker? So do the miners. They say they are treated like "dogs" in the mines now, in comparison with the respect shown to them when they were regarded as the vanguard of the industrial movement of this country.

Mr. Frank Hodges and the other officials, who do not go down the pits any more, will probably tell the miners to bear their position in patience.

The question is, fellow-worker, whether the miners are ready for a fight, which may be the biggest yet known in the mines, and may entail a fight to overthrow the Government and to wrest control of the mines from the mine-owners.

For our part, we advise the miners to put up a fight. We should like to see them making it a fight to end the Capitalist system.

THE SEARCHLIGHT.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Dear Student,-The Esperanto lessons appearing in the Dreadnought "have given me much

It seems to me that Esperanto is really a nguage of hope. It offers such attainable anguage of hope. It offers such attainable neans of friendship with our brethren of ther languages.

A.A. rrom Somerset House came to our school recently, and was shown a postcard written in Esperanto. He said: I can read that."

A secondary school boy wrote: "Esperanto very easy to me, as I write French." I desire very much to do my "bit" in this hope."

hope.

The children like foreign correspondence, which also provides excellent geography lessons, the card having really a live message.

I want to be sure of the "e" sound.

Would "sen" Esperanto rhyme with our English "pen"?

And, please, what is the best course to follow to obtain foreign correspondence for our school children?

Yours fraternally,
ANNIE K. HIGDON.

Strike School, Burston.

(Continued from page 5.)

gular. The men come a distance of forty miles sometimes to ask if letters have arrived, for four or five days on end. There is, naturally, a lot of dysentery and typhus—in naturally, a lot of dysentery and typinus—in one company alone one-fifth of the men were down with it, 100 out of 500. Our company, so far, are all well. We are cutting down trees in the woods of the Duna.

Just now the artillery fire is fairly slack. In the hamlet where we are just now a poor led weare had been left behind sick; every

In the hamlet where we are just now a poor old woman had been left behind sick; everyone else had gone. The houses are deserted one else had gone. The houses are deserted and desolate; the dogs howl around us and rove about with the cats. Clouds of enormous crows and owls.

Yesterday morning the old woman was found stretched out on the ground dead outside the house. She was buried in the street near her home. What can one say? The misery is so heartrending, the ruin so terrible misery is so heartrending, the run so terrible that one's pencil is paralysed.

I cannot send this letter to Switzerland because of its contents. At the end of September you will be in Berlin, perhaps, though I do not hope it for you. It is useless to talk of frequent and regular correspondence—one waits sometimes three or four weeks for the answer to a letter. But we all can write often, without waiting for an answer, and I implore you to do so. implore you to do so.

Your KARL.

COMMUNIST WORKERS' MOVEMENT.

OUTDOOR MEETINGS.

Friday, June 22nd.—The Grove, Hammersmith, 8 p.m.: Sylvia Pankhurst, and

Sunday, June 24th.—Beresford Square, Woolwich, 7 p.m.: Sylvia Pankhurst, L. T. Stedman. Brockwell Park, 7 p.m.: W. Hall, N. Smyth. rinsbury Park, 7 p.m.: J. Welsh

DOMESTIC WORK wanted by energetic Lancashire woman.—Apply, P. W., Box 1.

DOMESTIC WORK wanted by experienced worker; fond of children; good needle-woman.—Apply, M. B., Box 10.

SEWING and DRESSMAKING. dressmaker offers daily work.—Apply, Box

SALE.—Parliamentary Reports (Hansard) from 1914 to 1922.

QUARTER DAY.

Quarter Day brings a period of added strain the "Dreadnought" Office. In these at the "Dreadnought" Office. In these hard times it is always difficult to keep the propaganda going: and the additional strain every three months comes near to being the Therefore, send along ing that: "Many a proverbial last straw. your mite, remembering that: mickle makes a muckle!"

"DREADNOUGHT" SUMMER

SALE.
Comrades are urged to get busy collecting and making goods for the Summer Sale and Garden Party in aid of the "Workers' Dreadnought," which is to be held shortly. Books, pictures and drawings, furniture, glothing form produce greening agks. clothing, farm produce, groceries, cakes, sweets, jams, toys, fancy goods, hats, shoes, tobacco, tools, etc., etc., will all be gratefully received.

"DREADNOUGHT" £1,000 FUND.

Brought forward: £25 1s. 21d. Frought forward: £25 18. 2\frac{1}{2}d.

Trene Smith (weekly), 1/-; G. K. Russell,
4/6; Collections: Hammersmith, 5/11;

Brockwell Park, 10/4\frac{1}{2}; Finsbury Park, 8/6

Total for week, £3 0s. 7d. Total. £28 1s. 9½d.

Published by E. Sylvia Pankhurst at 152 Fleet Street, London, E.C. 4, and printed by the Agenda Press, Ltd., at 10 Wine Offic Court, London, E.C. 4.

iblis Odo le fa

THE

m

tions