Miss Philippa Strachey

Dear Madam

Now that the winter campaign has commenced, I am writing to ask if you would not like me to send you a package of my new & important pamphlet "The Sphere of 'Man' & its relation to 'Woman' in the Constitution" which ought to be on every literature stall.

It was asked for last Thursday at the tea meeting, & when some copies were fetches from the Nat. Union Offices, some were sold, and some are always sold when they are seen.

I know that the National Union and the London Society have not yet taken it up; but outside of these, I have been able to sell 1500 copies during the slack season.

Its importance may be gauged by its conventions.

I allow one copy in every ten as a margin of profit to the seller, & another one extra when

The order reaches L<sup>o</sup> for which I send 45 copies.

I do not ask to be paid until after they are sold, & I am willing to take back what are not sold.

But I have no fear of that, if they are displayed properly!

My 3rd edition of "British Freewomen" came out yesterday, revised up to date & with an Index.

But as it is 2/6 it does not naturally sell so freely as The Sphere of Man.

I send you a section of the proof of the latter, to shew you the extent of the "Sphere" discussed.

I remain

Yours faithfully
