My dear Pippa

You are requested to bring with you for decorating the house some pictures viz enough for two rooms as I havent got any except 2 Hollyer photographs of Burne Jones - Choice left to your elegant taste but dont go to too vast expense - What could be done for £10? Frames could be got here as it would be troublesome dragging them about. I should think photogravures or mezzotints or whatever they are called would go furthest for the money - The only pictures to be obtained in these parts are chocolate box tops and engravings of the Battle of Spion Kop by Caton Woodville. I also want if it can be got a copy of the pen & ink drawing of Papa in a fur coat and the library - The one I had has disappeared.

While I think of it - bring some mozartas with you.

The Sevenoaks has come back. He seems to be rather decent but I have doubts about madam proving to be dearsome, not being able to keep her tongue quiet for more than 5 seconds per hour but Pincombe says she is very amusing so perhaps it will be all right -

It has been rather hot and muggy the last few days and the great joke is to get ~~some one~~ ^{people} to come from Calcutta beautifully dressed up with white shirts and stick up collars and march them rapidly round the works and tell them fall flat on the ground in limp and dripping masses.

no more at present

your loving brother
