

(Part of letters)

AL/1823(a)

under anaesthetics & Nid

yet may be worth doing for the sake of the additional power following suffering thereby gained.

But there are not experiments that would ever be repeated before a day or for educational purposes.

I am afraid I would not do this (I have any good to say, but I really think, - that he and entire section literature ture is hardening and demoralizing - tending to create a morbid interest in pain for pain's sake.

Descriptions of surgical operations would be unwholesome reading for the public, though the surgeon's art is one of the most ~~safe~~ beneficial there is & is not demoralizing to him
Yours sincerely
Wm. H. S. D. G. D.