

70, The Parade,
Saxton Gardens,
Leeds 9.
22nd January 1966

Mrs Ramelson

To
Miss Douie,
Fawcett Library,
27, Wilfred Street,
Westminster,
London

A2/1403

Dear Miss Douie,

I am sorry to have been so long in writing to you. Firstly, to assure you that the books are O.K. and secondly, to ask you if it will be alright to hold them for a little while longer.

We are removing to London in the course of the next three months. My husband has now been transferred there. We have just got a flat, which is requiring some alterations and decorating.

We are hoping to be in London by April. Will this be too long to hold the material? If so I will try to arrange with my husband next time he can use the car to travel to bring them down and deliver them to you at the library.

I am not in London at all. It is not possible for me to take any part in preparing the flat .. my doctor has absolutely forbidden it, under threat of the most dire penalties... so I shall not be there until the final removal takes place.

I hope that you are keeping well.

Again my apologies for the delay.

Yours sincerely

Marian Ramelson

Marian Ramelson.

Fawcett Library
27 Wilfred Street
London W.1

1800