JESSIE CONNAH, ACCOUNTANT & AUDITOR.

HANNOC, LONDON.

London, 30 June 1907

Dear Miss Cameron,

I am sorry you should have had the trouble of writing to me about my A/c. I had not sent it in because I had intended to speak to Miss Dimock about it before doing so; however I have not had the opportunity, & now have not the time. I therefore make no extra charges, but I must ask you to let your Finance Committee know that I cannot afford to be so generous in future.

I understand that I have been appointed Auditor for the year 1906-7, without being asked if I am willing to serve, I will serve this year, but until after the Audit I cannot say without being asked if I should be willing to serve for next year.

Yours sincerely

Jessie Connah
