re deputations
of "The Tribune"

Dear Madam,

In response to a notice received, I think, from the National Union, I began to subscribe to the "Tribune" last year and have continued to do so ever since. This paper has given us valuable help and support in the past, but, from my own observation and also from some allusions in "Women's Franchise", to which I am also subscribing, it seems to me to have changed its attitude in this respect. If this is the case, I shall content myself with a halfpenny paper and devote the 13/- a year, saved, to the cause, as I do everything else I can spare. Will you kindly let me know what you think? Please forgive my troubling you, but I am unfortunately not personally in touch with anyone who is intimately connected with the movement, and your kind letter of last May has emboldened me to apply to you for guidance. I called on you once at the office, but have not been able to do so again, as I am so closely tied by business, that I am not able to go anywhere in office hours.

My address, until further notice, is as above.

Yours truly

Oliver Farmer
