My dear Pippa

I got a letter from Papa today saying that Oliver was coming out on the 'Egypt'. I suppose by the time you get this he will have started. I will write to him at Bombay and generally keep a fatherly eye on him. It will be pretty hot by the time he gets here, but being with Douglas he will probably travel up country in luxury and a private saloon. The E.I.R.

Traffic int at all a bad thing and Oliver will probably be General Traffic Manager when I am Chief Engineer.

Your account of the drawing room was most thrilling but everything seems to have been ordered most decently.

I thought there was always a wild free fight among the presenteres and you were lucky if you escaped from the fray with a fig leaf.

Harry) is going home this mail - She is one of my particular friends and I have told her that you will take her under your protection - Tell me if you like her - Her address is

All the bigwigs are coming here next week on inspection, viz. The Agent Chief Engineer and Consulting Engineer so we are all of a twitter. A special chain is being made for Scotts Hyacna (Birdie by the bye always calls it Hyhaena to preserve their august calves from danger, as it has been going about lately killing donkeys, and might make a stupid mistake.

I dont think there are any further news - What is Anthony Hope's book about Charles II like? Also Julius Caesar? The account I read said it was A.I.

Fan well
