

A L / 3877
20, PARK LANE.

London. W.

March 25th 1897.

My dear Friend.

It was with sincere sorrow for ourselves that I heard of the passing of thy dear Mother.
To have known her will always be some one of the reasons for which I am thankful to the Temperance cause; and I can see now before me as I write her genial kindly face which was an inspiration and an incentive to nobler work.

As one thinks of that mother spirit one can only feel how true it is of her that "many would have need of her" for she was good as she was true.

The Bishop of Rochester spoke to me so affectionately about her the other day. I had not heard of her going from us until he told me, and then your little card came.
With love and sincere sympathy for the blank she has left, believe me
Your comrade in the cause,

Hubertson