Dear Dame Fawcett,

Thank you so much for your letter. Yes, my official title is "the Right Honourable Margaret", but I am the same as usual!

It is, of course, a matter of deep pleasure that I have been called to "blaze the trail" a little further on still. I, too, rejoice, in the return of Miss Rathbone for the Universities.

It has been wonderful to get the congratulations and goodwill from those whose whole life work has been to prepare for this time.

May I once more say to you how grateful I, together with thousands of other women, feel for your life and your work in the cause of civilisation.

Yours very sincerely,

Margaret Bondfield
