ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE SESSION 1897-8.

211

The London School of Economics and Political Science.

10, Adelphi Terrace, London, W.C.

THE Session 1897-8 will be divided into three terms, viz. Michaelmas Term, October 1 to December 17, 1897; Lent Term, January 14 to March 25, 1898; Summer Term, April 19 to June 28, 1898.

The Session will commence on Friday, October 1, with an inaugural lecture at the School, at 8.30 p.m., by W. A. S. HEWINS, M.A., Director of the School, Tooke Professor of Economic Science and Statistics at King's College, London, on 'The Place of Economics in the Educational System.'

The following lectures and classes have been arranged:—

ECONOMICS.

SPECIAL CLASSES CONFINED TO FULL STUDENTS OF THE SCHOOL.

Elementary Courses:—

✓ 1. 'DESCRIPTIVE ECONOMICS,' by PROFESSOR HEWINS, EDWIN CANNAN, M.A., Balliol College, Oxford, and other members of the staff.

Wednesdays at 8 p.m. for evening students, commencing October 13;
Thursdays at 12 for morning students, commencing October 14.

The object of this class will be to make students acquainted with the Structure and Organization of Modern Industry and Commerce. In addition to attendance at the ordinary meetings of the class, students will find it to their advantage to attend certain courses of lectures, e.g. Banking and Currency, Railway Economics, Trade Unionism.

2. 'THE MEANING AND USE OF ECONOMIC TERMS, AND THE LEADING PRINCIPLES OF ECONOMIC SCIENCE,' by EDWIN CANNAN, M.A.,

Wednesdays at 6.45 p.m. for evening students, commencing October 13; Thursdays at 10.45 a.m. for morning students, commencing October 14.

3. 'ELEMENTARY STATISTICS,' by PROFESSOR HEWINS.

Mondays at 6.30 p.m., commencing October 11.

The object of this class is to enable students of Economics to make intelligent use of published blue-books and returns rather than to meet the needs of professed statisticians. The lecturer will illustrate the Relation of Statistics to Economics and some of the Common Uses of Statistics, and will explain selected chapters from Giffen's Essays on Finance, Jevons' Investigations in Currency and Finance, Charles Booth's Labour and Life in London, and other works.

Advanced Courses:—

4. 'RECENT ADDITIONS TO ECONOMIC THEORY,' by EDWIN CANNAN, M.A. a class on Modern Currencies substituted.
Arrangements to be made with intending students.

5. 'THE ECONOMIC HISTORY OF ENGLAND IN RELATION TO THAT OF FOREIGN COUNTRIES,' by PROFESSOR HEWINS.

Subject for Michaelmas Term.—THE MERCANTILE SYSTEM.

Fridays at 10.45 a.m., commencing October 8.

Research Course:—

6. The course includes the study of methods of investigation and authorities, and practical work under supervision. Students will choose, with the approval of the Director, some subject for investigation, and will be expected to work it out under the guidance of one of the lecturers. Times will be set apart for individual criticism of results by the lecturer, and the work, if of sufficient merit, will be published by the School.

COURSES OF LECTURES.

7. 'THE HISTORY AND PRINCIPLES OF BANKING AND CURRENCY, WITH SPECIAL REFERENCE TO ENGLAND,' by H. S. FOXWELL, M.A., Fellow and Lecturer of St. John's College, Cambridge; Professor of Political Economy at University College, London.

Twenty lectures, to be given on Tuesdays at 6 p.m., commencing October 12. The course will extend over Michaelmas and Lent Terms.

The following topics, amongst others, will be treated in this course:—

Michaelmas Term.—(1) The Functions and Economic Significance of Money. (2) Metallic Currencies and Mintage. (3) Various Systems of Legal Tender. (4) Methods of maintaining Currency Parity. (5) Questions of Monetary Standard and Valuation. (6) The Structure and Functions of the English Banking System. (7) Note Issues; the Reserve and the Discount Rate; the Bank Acts. (8) The Relation between Metallic Money, Credit, and Prices. (9) The method of measuring Variations in the Value of Money, and the History of these Variations during the last Hundred Years.

Lent Term.—(10) Outlines of the History of the English Metallic Currency during the Seventeenth, Eighteenth, and Nineteenth Centuries: with special reference to the Recoinage of 1696, Newton's Reports, the Recoinage of 1774, the Restrictions on the Tender of Silver, and the Adoption of the Gold Standard in 1816. (11) Outlines of the History of Banking: with special reference to the Early Goldsmith Bankers, the Foundation of the Banks of England and Scotland, the different Developments of Banking in England and Scotland during the Eighteenth Century, the Restriction of Cash Payments, the Bullion Committee, and the Resumption. (12) The Gold Discoveries of 1848-50, the Working of French Bimetallism, the International Coinage Movement, the Battle of the Standards, the Monetary Conferences and Monetary Unions, the German Demonetization of Silver, and the Modern Monetary Question.

8. 'THE THEORY OF BIMETALLISM,' by F. Y. EDGEWORTH, M.A., D.C.L., Drummond Professor of Political Economy in the University of Oxford.

Two lectures, to be delivered on Wednesday, October 6, and Friday, October 8, at 6 p.m.

After concluding with Walker that 'as to the nature and direction of the effects produced by uniting the two metals, there can be no intelligent question,' the lecturer will discuss what is admitted by the bimetallist to be 'within the limits of reasonable dispute,' namely, 'the importance attached to the results reached.' The main argument that the bimetallic compound will be more stable in value than either component because the disturbances proper to each metal are mutually compensatory, will be considered first in the abstract supposing a 'reservoir' acted on by only two sources, equal in average volume, and varying with equal irregularity from independent causes; then taking into account the fluctuations of credit and other concrete circumstances.

9. 'THE HISTORY OF ENGLISH FOREIGN TRADE,' by PROFESSOR HEWINS.

Ten lectures, to be delivered on Tuesdays at 6.30 p.m., at the London Chamber of Commerce, Botolph House, Eastcheap, E.C., commencing October 12.

After a brief sketch of Mediaeval Commerce and the growth of Foreign Trade under the Mercantile System the lectures will deal more especially with—

RESEARCH STUDENTSHIPS.

Research Studentships will be awarded in July, 1898.

The selected candidates will be expected to devote themselves to the investigation of some subject in Economics or Political Science, under the supervision of the Director of the School or other members of the staff; to deliver a short course of lectures thereon in October, 1899, a second course, if required, in October, 1900; and, if so desired, to publish the results of their investigation.

Candidates will be examined in Economics or Political Science. There will be four papers in each subject. Subsequent to the written examination, candidates will, if necessary, be examined viva voce. In making their selection the examiners will take into account both the result of the examination and the previous record and promise of the candidates.

Particulars may be obtained on application.

Scholarships will also be awarded to students of ability to enable them to pursue their studies at the School. By this means the opportunities of scientific training afforded by the School will be brought within the reach of all who are likely to profit by them. From those attending the final or research course, a certain number of students will be from time to time selected to undertake some special investigation, and if their work is of sufficient merit, it will be published by the School.

THE BRITISH LIBRARY OF POLITICAL SCIENCE,

In Connexion with the London School of Economics and Political Science.

THE British Library of Political Science has been established by private subscription for the free use of students of Economics and Political Science. The object of the Trustees is to provide, for the student of constitutional and administrative scientific problems, a systematic collection of English and foreign books, and materials for research. No such central collection is to be found at present anywhere in the United Kingdom.

The Trustees, with the assistance of specialists in each department, have already achieved considerable success. In addition to many important treatises and monographs on Economics and Political Science, they have obtained official documents from more than 150 English and foreign municipalities, and a large number published by foreign Governments. The Library already contains about 10,000 volumes, and there is good reason for believing that London will ultimately be in possession of a large and valuable specialist Library of the greatest importance to those interested in public questions.

14 London School of Economics and Political Science

The Library is open gratuitously for the purpose of study and research to—

- (a) Students for the time being of the London School of Economics and Political Science ;
- (b) Persons engaged in any branch of public administration in the United Kingdom or any other country ;
- (c) Professors and Lecturers of any recognized University ;
- (d) Such other persons as may from time to time be admitted by the Director, on the recommendation of any Professor, Lecturer, Teacher, Foreign Ambassador, Minister or Consul, Agent General, or other person of recognized position.

The Reading Room is open at 10 a.m., closing at the following times:—

During Term : Daily, except Saturdays, at 9 p.m., and on Saturdays at 6 p.m.

During Vacation : On Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at 9 p.m.; and on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays at 6 p.m.

The Library is entirely closed on the following days:—On all Sundays ; on January 1 ; on Good Friday and the five days next following ; on the Saturday before Whit-Monday and the four days next following ; on the first fourteen days of August ; on December 25 and the six days next following.

RESEARCH STUDENTSHIPS.

Research Studentships will be awarded in July, 1898.

The selected candidates will be expected to devote themselves to the investigation of some subject in Economics or Political Science, under the supervision of the Director of the School or other members of the staff; to deliver a short course of lectures thereon in October, 1899, a second course, if required, in October, 1900; and, if so desired, to publish the results of their investigation.

Candidates will be examined in Economics or Political Science. There will be four papers in each subject. Subsequent to the written examination, candidates will, if necessary, be examined viva voce. In making their selection the examiners will take into account both the result of the examination and the previous record and promise of the candidates.

Particulars may be obtained on application.

Scholarships will also be awarded to students of ability to enable them to pursue their studies at the School. By this means the opportunities of scientific training afforded by the School will be brought within the reach of all who are likely to profit by them. From those attending the final or research course, a certain number of students will be from time to time selected to undertake some special investigation, and if their work is of sufficient merit, it will be published by the School.

THE BRITISH LIBRARY OF POLITICAL SCIENCE,In Connexion with the London School of Economics and Political Science.

THE British Library of Political Science has been established by private subscription for the free use of students of Economics and Political Science. The object of the Trustees is to provide, for the student of constitutional and administrative scientific problems, a systematic collection of English and foreign books, and materials for research. No such central collection is to be found at present anywhere in the United Kingdom.

The Trustees, with the assistance of specialists in each department, have already achieved considerable success. In addition to many important treatises and monographs on Economics and Political Science, they have obtained official documents from more than 150 English and foreign municipalities, and a large number published by foreign Governments. The Library already contains about 10,000 volumes, and there is good reason for believing that London will ultimately be in possession of a large and valuable specialist Library of the greatest importance to those interested in public questions.

The Library is open gratuitously for the purpose of study and research to—

- (a) Students for the time being of the London School of Economics and Political Science ;
- (b) Persons engaged in any branch of public administration in the United Kingdom or any other country ;
- (c) Professors and Lecturers of any recognized University ;
- (d) Such other persons as may from time to time be admitted by the Director, on the recommendation of any Professor, Lecturer, Teacher, Foreign Ambassador, Minister or Consul, Agent General, or other person of recognized position.

The Reading Room is open at 10 a.m., closing at the following times :—

During Term : Daily, except Saturdays, at 9 p.m., and on Saturdays at 6 p.m.

During Vacation : On Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at 9 p.m. ; and on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays at 6 p.m.

The Library is entirely closed on the following days :—On all Sundays ; on January 1 ; on Good Friday and the five days next following ; on the Saturday before Whit-Monday and the four days next following ; on the first fourteen days of August ; on December 25 and the six days next following.

All communications should be addressed to the Director, THE LONDON SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS AND POLITICAL SCIENCE, 10 Adelphi Terrace, London, W.C.

Arrangements may be made for students to attend one of these classes at a fee of 10s. per Term.

A Class in these subjects has been held since Lent Term, 1896. The instruction in Palæography has included the Extension of abbreviated words and formulæ on a uniform plan, and good use has been made of the collection of Facsimiles and works printed in Record Type presented to the Library by Mr. G. F. Warner, F.S.A., Assistant Keeper of MSS. in the British Museum, and Mr. Hubert Hall, F.S.A., of the Public Record Office. Original MSS. and Records have also been advantageously studied on the occasion of organised visits to the Record Office and the British Museum. A very instructive exhibition of MSS. was arranged for the class in Lent Term of the present year at the British Museum, by the kind permission of the authorities and the courtesy of Messrs. G. F. Warner and F. B. Bickley, of the Department of MSS. The course of instruction in Diplomatic has extended from the Old English period to the Seventeenth Century, and has attempted to clear the ground (covered by the great text-books of M. Giry and Dr. Bresslau in Continental Diplomatic) for a more advanced study of English Charters and other Records. Occasional lectures have also been given on Manuscript Sources and on the Bibliography of printed Records.

A syllabus of the School, containing full information, will be forwarded to anyone making application for it.

OF

COURSES OF LECTURES AND CLASSES
ON COMMERCIAL SUBJECTS,

ARRANGED BY

THE LONDON SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS
AND POLITICAL SCIENCE,

WITH THE CO-OPERATION OF

THE LONDON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Michaelmas and Lent Terms, 1897-98.

WITH the co-operation of the London Chamber of Commerce, courses of lectures and classes on the following commercial subjects have been arranged for the Session 1897-8. The lectures will be held either at Botolph House, 10, Eastcheap, E.C., or at the London School of Economics, 10, Adelphi Terrace, W.C., as stated below.

These lectures form an important part of the scheme of Higher Commercial Education of the London Chamber of Commerce, and will be of the greatest possible use to those engaged in commercial pursuits. The Michaelmas Term extends from 1st October to 17th December, 1897; the Lent Term from 14th January to 25th March, 1898.

I.—BANKING AND CURRENCY.

I. "THE HISTORY AND PRINCIPLES OF CURRENCY AND BANKING, WITH SPECIAL REFERENCE TO ENGLAND." By H. S. FOXWELL, M.A., Fellow and Lecturer of St. John's College, Cambridge; Professor of Political Economy at University College, London.

Twenty lectures, extending over two terms, at the School of Economics, on Tuesdays, at 6 p.m., beginning 12th October.

The following topics, amongst others, will be treated in this course:

MICHAELMAS TERM.

1. The Functions and Economic Significance of Money. 2. Metallic Currencies and Mintage. 3. Various Systems of Legal Tender. 4. Methods of Maintaining Currency Parity. 5. Questions of Monetary Standard and Valuation. 6. The Structure and Functions of the English Banking System. 7. Note Issues. The Reserve and the Discount Rate. The Bank Acts. 8. The Relation between Metallic Money, Credit and Prices. 9. The Method of Measuring Variations in the Value of Money, and the history of these variations during the last hundred years.

LENT TERM.

10. Outlines of the History of the English Metallic Currency during the 17th, 18th and 19th Centuries: with special reference to the Recoinage of 1696, Newton's Reports, the Recoinage of 1774, the restrictions on the tender of Silver, and the adoption of the Gold standard in 1816. 11. Outlines of the History of Banking: with special reference to the early Goldsmith Bankers, the foundation of the Banks of England and Scotland, the different developments of banking in England and Scotland during the 18th century, the Restriction of Cash Payments, the Bullion Committee and the Resumption. 12. The Gold Discoveries of 1848-50, the working of French Bimetallism, the International Coinage Movement, the Battle of the Standards, the Monetary Conferences and Monetary Unions, the German demonetisation of Silver, and the Modern Monetary Question.

2. "THE THEORY OF BIMETALLISM." By F. Y. EDGEWORTH, M.A., D.C.L., Drummond Professor of Political Economy in the University of Oxford.

Two lectures at the School, 10, Adelphi Terrace, W.C., on Wednesday and Friday, 6th and 8th October, at 6 p.m.

After concluding with Walker that "as to the nature and direction of the effects produced by uniting the two metals there can be no intelligent question," the lecturer will discuss what is admitted by the bimetallist to be "within the limits of reasonable dispute," namely, "the importance attached to the results reached." The main argument that the bimetallic compound will be more stable in value than either component because the disturbances proper to each metal are mutually compensatory, will be considered first in the abstract; supposing a "reservoir" acted on by only two sources, equal in average volume, and varying with equal irregularity from independent causes; then taking into account the fluctuations of credit and other concrete circumstances.

II.—COMMERCIAL GEOGRAPHY.

3. "THE GEOGRAPHY OF CERTAIN GREAT RAILWAYS." By H. J. MACKINDER, M.A., Student of Christchurch, Reader in Geography in the University of Oxford.

Four lectures at the School, 10, Adelphi Terrace, W.C., on Thursdays at 8 p.m., beginning 11th November.

1. The lines through the Alps. 2. The lines through the Western United States.
3. The Canadian Pacific Railway. 4. The Trans-Siberian Railway.

III.—COMMERCIAL HISTORY.

4. "THE HISTORY OF ENGLISH FOREIGN TRADE." By W. A. S. HEWINS, M.A., Pembroke College, Oxford; Director of the London School of Economics and Political Science, Tooke Professor of Economic Science and Statistics at King's College, London.

Ten lectures in the Michaelmas Term, at the Chamber of Commerce, on Tuesdays, at 6.30 p.m., beginning 12th October.

After a brief account of mediæval commerce and foreign trade under the mercantile system, the lectures will deal more especially with:

- (i) The State of European Commerce after the great war with France (1793-1815), and the relative position of Great Britain.
- (ii) The growth and influence of free trade. Its theoretical basis.
- (iii) A brief sketch of the commercial relations between Great Britain and foreign countries from 1815 to the present time. Continental movements, e.g., the formation of the German Zollverein. An examination of typical commercial treaties, e.g., the treaty with France in 1860. Recent tariff changes.
- (iv) The reaction against free trade in France, Germany and the United States, and its influence in England. Changes in foreign import duties. Foreign trade since 1873. Relative position of Great Britain at the present time.

5. "THE COMPARATIVE HISTORY OF THE FREE TRADE MOVEMENT IN ENGLAND, FRANCE, GERMANY AND THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA." By PROFESSOR HEWINS.

Ten lectures in the Lent Term, of which particulars will be announced later.

6. "THE ECONOMIC CHANGES OF THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY." By E. C. K. GONNER, Brünner Professor of Economics at University College, Liverpool.

Three lectures in the Lent Term.

IV.—COMMERCIAL LAW.

7. "MODERN COMPANY LAW AND ITS CONNECTION WITH THE DEVELOPMENT OF ENGLISH COMMERCE." By C. A. MONTAGUE BARLOW, M.A., LL.M., King's College, Cambridge, and the Middle Temple, late Senior Whewell Scholar in International Law, Yorke Prizeman and holder of a Studentship of the Inns of Court.

Ten lectures in the Michaelmas Term, at the Chamber of Commerce, on Thursdays at 6.30 p.m., beginning 14th October.

SPECIAL CLASSES.

These are open to those who join the School as Full Students. It is most important that those who desire to acquire thorough and scientific commercial knowledge should attend some of these classes; in no other way can a really satisfactory and co-ordinated knowledge of the industrial and mercantile world be obtained.

ECONOMICS.

8. "DESCRIPTIVE ECONOMICS." By PROF. HEWINS, EDWIN CANNAN, M.A., Balliol College, Oxford, and other members of the staff.

During the Michaelmas Term this class will be taken in two divisions, (a) on Wednesdays at 8 p.m. for evening students, beginning 13th October, (b) on Thursdays at noon for morning students, beginning 14th October.

The object of this class will be to make students acquainted with the structure and organization of modern industry and commerce. In addition to attendance at the ordinary meetings of the class, students will find it to their advantage to attend certain of the courses of lectures, e.g., Banking, Insurance, Railway Economics, Trade Unionism.

9. "THE MEANING AND USE OF ECONOMIC TERMS AND THE LEADING PRINCIPLES OF ECONOMIC SCIENCE." By EDWIN CANNAN, M.A.

During the Michaelmas Term this class will be taken in two divisions, (a) on Wednesdays at 6.45 p.m., beginning on the 13th October, and (b) on Thursdays at 10.45 a.m., beginning on 14th October.

STATISTICS.

10. "ELEMENTARY STATISTICS." By PROFESSOR HEWINS.

During Michaelmas Term, on Mondays at 6.30 p.m., beginning on the 11th October.

The subjects of this class will be the relation of Statistics to Economics and the elementary methods and uses of Statistics. It is not intended for experts, but for persons engaged in business, who desire to make an intelligent use of published returns and other statistical matter.

These special classes are all held at the School, 10, Adelphi Terrace, W.C. In addition to the classes and lectures notified above, other classes of more advanced nature, and other courses of lectures have been arranged. Full particulars may be obtained on application.

THE following lectures, free to all students, will be given during Michaelmas Term.

1. INTRODUCTORY LECTURE by PROF. HEWINS, at the Chamber of Commerce, of which due notice will be given in the press.
2. "THE MEASUREMENT OF ECONOMIC QUANTITIES." By H. LLEWELLYN SMITH, M.A., B.Sc., at the London School of Economics, on Wednesday, 6th October, at 8 p.m.

THE BRITISH LIBRARY OF POLITICAL SCIENCE,

In connection with the London School of Economics
and Political Science.

Director
W. A. S. HEWINS, M.A.

10, ADELPHI TERRACE,
STRAND, LONDON, W.C.

THE BRITISH LIBRARY OF POLITICAL SCIENCE has been established by private subscription for the free use of students of Economics and Political Science. The object of the Trustees is to provide, for the student of constitutional and administrative scientific problems, a systematic collection of English and foreign books, materials for research. No such central collection is to be found at present anywhere in the United Kingdom.

The Trustees, with the assistance of specialists in each department, have already achieved considerable success. In addition to many important treatises and monographs on economics and political science, they have obtained official documents from more than 100 English and foreign municipalities, and a large number published by foreign governments. The Library already contains about 10,000 volumes, and there is good reason for believing that London will ultimately be in possession of a large and valuable specialist Library of the greatest importance to those interested in public questions.

The Library is open gratuitously for the purpose of study and research to—

- (a) Students for the time being of the London School of Economics and Political Science ;
- (b) Persons engaged in any branch of public administration in the United Kingdom or any other country ;
- (c) Professors and Lecturers of any recognized University ;
- (d) Such other persons as may from time to time be admitted by the Director, on the recommendation of any Public Officer, Professor, Lecturer, Teacher, Foreign Ambassador, Minister or Consul, Agent-General, or other person of position.

The Reading Room is open at 10 a.m. daily, closing at the following times—

During Term : Daily, except Saturdays, at 9 p.m., and on Saturdays at 6 p.m.

During Vacation : On Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at 9 p.m. ; and on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays at 6 p.m.

The Library is entirely closed on the following days :—On all Sundays ; on the 1st January ; on Good Friday and the five days next following ; on the Saturday before Whit-Monday and the four days next following ; on the first fourteen days of August ; on the 25th December and six days next following.

All communications should be addressed to THE DIRECTOR, The British Library of Political Science, 10, Adelphi Terrace, London, W.C.

Two Courses of Six Lectures each

ON

RAILWAY ECONOMICS

BY

W. M. ACWORTH, M.A.,

Will be given at the School in the Michaelmas and Lent Terms, 1897-98.

SYLLABUS.

MICHAELMAS TERM, on Thursdays at 6.45 p.m., beginning 11th November :—

INTRODUCTORY AND BIBLIOGRAPHY.

WHAT A RAILWAY IS.—Road plus carrying agency. Quâ road (A) tolls; quâ carrying agency (B) charges for work done. (A) and (B) separate in theory, combined in practice into single rate.

THE THEORETICAL BASIS OF RATES.—Meaning of phrase "cost of carriage"; elements included in cost; theory of "joint cost." Cost of carriage as basis of rates impossible, because (a) cost is unascertainable in advance; (b) varies too widely to be available in framing a tariff; (c) would press too hardly on articles of small value in proportion to bulk. Value of knowledge of cost of carriage (a) as minimum limit; (b) as check on undue preference between competing customers. Rates really fixed according to "what the traffic will bear." Meaning of phrase; its application; analogies; limitations. Rate-fixing an experimental science. Who is to fix rates?

LENT TERM. Day and hour of meeting will be announced later.

RAILWAYS AND THE STATE.—Four possible relations: (1) State ownership and working; (2) State ownership in whole or in part, working being leased; (3) Private ownership controlled; (4) Private ownership uncontrolled.

1. State ownership: its extent; the arguments for and against from the point of view of (a) technical administration, (b) finance, (c) political effect.
2. Owning and leasing; experience on the Continent and in India, etc.
4. Uncontrolled; American experience.
3. STATE CONTROL.—(a) Its justification; are railways monopolies?; right of "eminent domain"; police power. (b) Its subjects; new construction; public safety and convenience; rates, their quantum and proportion. (c) Form of control; legislative, administrative, judicial. French system. English system; the Traffic Acts, 1854-1894; the Railway Commission and the Board of Trade. American experience; Commissions, State and Inter-State; Commissions with and without compulsory powers.

TRAFFIC QUESTIONS.—Competition and combination; pools; passenger tariffs; water competition.

FEES.

The Lectures will be free to all full Students of the School. Fee for non-Students 10s. for the two Courses (Michaelmas and Lent terms), 5s. for the single Course (Michaelmas or Lent Term only).

Application for tickets and further particulars to be made to the Director of the School, 10, Adelphi Terrace, W.C. A complete prospectus of the courses of instruction in economics, political science, statistics, municipal administration, commercial history, geography and law, railway management, banking, etc., can be had on application.

RESEARCH STUDENTSHIPS.

Research Studentships will be awarded in July, 1898.

The selected candidates will be expected to devote themselves to the investigation of some subject in Economics or Political Science, under the supervision of the Director of the School or other member of the staff; to deliver a short course of lectures thereon in October, 1899, a second course, if required, in October, 1900; and, if so desired, to publish the results of their investigation.

Candidates will be examined in economics or political science. There will be four papers in each subject. Subsequent to the written examination, candidates will be examined viva voce. In making their selection the examiners will take into account both the result of the examination and the previous record and promise of the candidates.

[OVER.]

The Department of Palæography and Diplomatic at the London School is in the charge of Mr. HUBERT HALL, of H.M. Public Record Office. The following classes are held :—

1. "Elementary Palæography and Diplomatic," for new students, chiefly of English Manuscripts and Records from the Twelfth to the Seventeenth Century. On Tuesdays at 6 p.m.

The objects of this course are :—

(a) To provide a systematic course of instruction in the art of deciphering ancient manuscripts for those students who desire to pursue original researches at the Record Office and the British Museum ;

(b) To afford further instruction in the diplomatique of ancient manuscripts which are required to be transcribed, cited, or edited by historical students ;

(c) To explain the distribution and classification of the chief collections of English Historical Manuscripts for the purpose of enabling students or searchers to identify particular sources of reference.

2. Practical Work by Advanced Students. On Fridays at 6 p.m.

It is proposed to invite the contributions of students of the School who have attended Mr. Hall's classes during the Session 1896-7, towards a collection of short historical texts, illustrated by photographic facsimiles, each of which shall be suggested, transcribed, and described by the students themselves. It is proposed that this collection or Album paléographique shall be published for the School under the general editorship of the Lecturer.

A Class in these subjects has been held since Lent Term, 1896. The instruction in Palæography has included the Extension of abbreviated words and formulæ on a uniform plan, and good use has been made of the collection of Facsimiles and works printed in Record Type presented to the Library by Mr. G. F. Warner, F.S.A., Assistant Keeper of MSS. in the British Museum, and Mr. Hubert Hall, F.S.A., of the Public Record Office. Original MSS. and Records have also been advantageously studied on the occasion of organised visits to the Record Office and the British Museum. A very instructive exhibition of MSS. was arranged for the class in Lent Term of the present year at the British Museum, by the kind permission of the authorities and the courtesy of Messrs. G. F. Warner and F. B. Bickley, of the Department of MSS. The course of instruction in Diplomatic has extended from the Old English period to the Seventeenth Century, and has attempted to clear the ground (covered by the great text-books of M. Giry and Dr. Bresslau in Continental Diplomatic) for a more advanced study of English Charters and other Records. Occasional lectures have also been given on Manuscript Sources and on the Bibliography of printed Records.

A syllabus of the School, containing full information, will be forwarded to anyone making application for it.

PROFESSOR W. A. S. HEWINS, M.A.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE LENT TERM, 1898.

THE Term will open on Friday, 14th January, and will close on the 25th March.

It is extremely desirable that intending students should communicate with the Director before finally deciding which Classes and lectures they will attend. He will be glad to see students at the School at the following times :—

Friday, 14th January	...	12 to 1.
Tuesday, 18th	"	5.30 to 6.30.
Thursday, 20th	"	5.30 to 6.30.

The following lectures and classes have been arranged:—

ECONOMICS.

SPECIAL CLASSES CONFINED TO FULL STUDENTS OF THE SCHOOL.

Elementary Courses:—

1. 'Descriptive Economics,' by PROFESSOR HEWINS and other members of the staff.

Fridays at 6.45 P.M., commencing 21st January.

The object of this class will be to make students acquainted with the Structure and Organization of Modern Industry and Commerce, as exhibited in the Cotton, Iron, and other great trades of this country. In addition to attendance at the ordinary meetings of the class, students will find it to their advantage to attend certain courses of lectures, e.g., Banking and Currency, Railway Economics, Trade Unionism.

2. 'Elementary Economics,' by EDWIN CANNAN, M.A.

Wednesdays at 6.45 P.M., commencing 19th January.

Fundamental ideas: the individual, the community, wealth, income, production, distribution, land, labour and capital.

Organization of industry under private property and enterprise: inseparability and interdependence of production and distribution: value.

Traditional problems: earnings of labour, general and special; rate of interest; rent. Functions of the State.

3. 'Elementary Statistics,' by PROFESSOR HEWINS.

This class will be resumed in the Summer Term. Students who attended the class during Michaelmas Term should go to Mr. Bowley (No. 11) during Lent Term.

Advanced Courses:—

4. 'Modern Currency Standards,' by EDWIN CANNAN, M.A.

Wednesdays at 7.45 P.M. commencing 19th January.

The subject of study will be the time, manner and causes of the introduction of the present standards into Great Britain and Ireland, India and other British colonies and dependencies, the United States, France and other Latin Union countries, Germany, the Netherlands, Austria, &c.

5. 'The History of Economics in England before Adam Smith,' by PROFESSOR HEWINS.

Fridays at 10.45 A.M., commencing 21st January.

The work which will be attempted is indicated in Professor Hewins' article in Palgrave's Dictionary of Political Economy, Vol. I., pp. 719-730. After a general review of the subject, a special period will be selected and studied in the original authorities.

recoras.

A syllabus of the School, containing full information, will be forwarded to anyone making application for it.

6. Students who attend the above classes may be asked by the Lecturer to set apart a period of from a quarter of an hour to half an hour per week to meet him for private criticism of their work. These students will be communicated with at the beginning of Term.

7. Research Course:—

The Course includes the study of methods of investigation and of authorities, with practical work under supervision. Students will choose, with the approval of the Director, some subject for investigation, and will be expected to work it out under the guidance of one of the lecturers. Times will be set apart for individual criticism of results by the lecturer, and the work, if of sufficient merit, will be published by the School.

COURSES OF LECTURES.

Applicants are requested to apply, if possible, through the post, at least two clear days before the first meeting of the class they desire to join.

RESEARCH STUDENTSHIPS.

Research Studentships will be awarded in July, 1898.

The selected candidates will be expected to devote themselves to the investigation of some subject in Economics or Political Science, under the supervision of the Director of the School or other members of the staff; to deliver a short course of lectures thereon in October, 1899, a second course, if required, in October, 1900; and, if so desired, to publish the results of their investigation.

Candidates will be examined in Economics or Political Science. There will be four papers in each subject. Subsequent to the written examination candidates will, if necessary, be examined viva voce. In making their selection the examiners will take into account both the result of the examination and the previous record and promise of the candidates. Particulars may be obtained on application.

Scholarships will also be awarded to students of ability to enable them to pursue their studies at the School. By this means the opportunities of scientific training afforded by the School will be brought within the reach of all who are likely to profit by them. From those attending the final or research course, a certain number of students will be from time to time selected to undertake some special investigation, and if their work is of sufficient merit it will be published by the School.

Free Studentships, tenable at this School, are annually awarded on the results of the Examinations held by the Society of Arts and the London Society for the Extension of University Teaching. Particulars may be obtained from the Secretaries of the Societies.

EXAMINATIONS AND PRIZES.

There will be a Sessional Examination at the end of the Summer Term, for Full Students of the School, and Terminal Examinations for several of the Courses at the end of the Lent Term. Particulars of these will be announced during the Term.

A syllabus of the School, containing full information, will be forwarded to anyone making application for it.

The 'Hutchinson' Silver Medal will be awarded at the end of the Summer Term. The conditions on which the award will be made will be announced as soon as possible.

The 'Whittuck' Prize.—Mr. E. A. WHITTUCK offers the sum of £5 as a prize for an essay on a subject in Political Science. The following are the conditions of competition for the current year:—

1. Essays must be sent to the Director by the 1st October, 1898.
2. The judges of the essay will be appointed by Professor Dicey, Sir Courtenay Ilbert, and the Director.
3. If no essay of sufficient merit be received, the money offered will be applied to the purchase of books on Foreign Constitutions for the British Library of Political Science.
4. The essay must be clearly written or type-written, and of moderate length.
5. The competition is confined to those who have been full students of the School during the Michaelmas, Lent and Summer Terms, 1897-98.
6. The subject for 1897-98 is "Parliamentary Government in France, Italy and Belgium Compared."

The Students' Union.

The Students' Union will meet on alternate Thursdays at 7.45 P.M., commencing on the 20th January. During the Lent Term, The Economic Results of the Policy of the present Government will be discussed under the following heads: (1) Foreign Affairs; (2) Education; (3) London Government; (4) Colonial Affairs; (5) Finance; (6) Ireland.

For dates and other particulars application should be made to "THE SECRETARIES, STUDENTS' UNION, 10, ADELPHI TERRACE, W.C."

The Union is open to past and present Students of the School.

Lockers

are provided at the School. Rent, 1s. per Term. This is not included in the full student's fee.

10, ADELPHI TERRACE,
STRAND, LONDON, W.C.

THE BRITISH LIBRARY OF POLITICAL SCIENCE has been established by private subscription for the free use of students of Economics and Political Science. The object of the Trustees is to provide, for the student of constitutional and administrative scientific problems, a systematic collection of English and foreign books, materials for research. No such central collection is to be found at present anywhere in the United Kingdom.

The Trustees, with the assistance of specialists in each department, have already achieved considerable success. In addition to many important treatises and monographs on economics and political science, they have obtained official documents from more than 100 English and foreign municipalities, and a large number published by foreign governments. The Library already contains about 10,000 volumes, and there is good reason for believing that London will ultimately be in possession of a large and valuable specialist Library of the greatest importance to those interested in public questions.

With their present resources the Trustees cannot purchase any considerable proportion of the books and official papers which it is desirable to include in the Library. In view of the valuable assistance they have already received from private individuals and public departments in England and foreign countries, they confidently appeal for further help.

They would be glad to receive—

- (a) Gifts of books on economic and political subjects;
- (b) Reports, bye-laws, standing orders, accounts, minutes, proceedings, etc., of English and foreign municipalities;
- (c) Parliamentary papers and reports, for the present or past years;
- (d) Books, reports, and documents relating to public administration in India, the Colonies, and other foreign countries.
- (e) Political and economic pamphlets, and other ephemeral literature, especially of past years.
- (f) Sets, short runs, or even odd numbers, of reviews and other periodical publications dealing with economic and political questions.

THE BRITISH LIBRARY OF POLITICAL SCIENCE.

(IN CONNECTION WITH THE LONDON SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS
AND POLITICAL SCIENCE.)

THE BRITISH LIBRARY OF POLITICAL SCIENCE has been established by private subscription for the free use of students of Economics and Political Science. The object of the Trustees is to provide, for the student of constitutional and administrative scientific problems, a systematic collection of English and foreign books, and materials for research. No such central collection is to be found at present anywhere in the United Kingdom.

The Trustees, with the assistance of specialists in each department, have already achieved considerable success. In addition to many important treatises and monographs on Economics and Political Science, they have obtained official documents from more than 150 English and foreign municipalities, and a large number published by foreign Governments. The Library already contains about 10,000 volumes, and there is good reason for believing that London will ultimately be in possession of a large and valuable specialist Library of the greatest importance to those interested in public questions.

The Library is open gratuitously for the purpose of study and research to—

- (a) Students for the time being of the London School of Economics and Political Science;
- (b) Persons engaged in any branch of public administration in the United Kingdom or any other country;
- (c) Professors and Lecturers of any recognized University;
- (d) Such other persons as may from time to time be admitted by the Director, on the recommendation of any Professor, Lecturer, Teacher, Foreign Ambassador, Minister or Consul, Agent General, or other person of recognized position.

The Reading Room is open at 10 a.m., closing at the following times:—

During Term: Daily, except Saturdays, at 9 p.m., and on Saturdays at 6 p.m.

During Vacation: On Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays at 9 p.m.; and on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays at 6 p.m.

The Library is entirely closed on the following days:—On all Sundays; on January 1; on Good Friday and the five days next following; on the Saturday before Whit-Monday and the four days next following; on the first fourteen days of August; on December 25 and the six days next following.

10, ADELPHI TERRACE, LONDON, W.C.

RESEARCH STUDENTSHIPS.

Three Research Studentships will be awarded in July, 1898.

(i) One of the value of £100 a year for two years, kindly presented to the School by the Hon. Bertrand Russell, M.A., Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge;

(ii) One of the value of £50 a year for two years;

(iii) One of the value of £50 for one year.

The selected candidates will be expected to devote themselves to the investigation of some subject in Economics or Political Science, under the supervision of the Director of the School or other members of the staff; to deliver a short course of lectures thereon in October, 1899, a second course, if required, in October, 1900; and, if so desired, to publish the results of their investigation.

Candidates will be examined in economics or political science. There will be four papers in each subject, viz., in economics, (1) economic theory (including the history of economics), (2) economic history, (3) the principles of social investigation, and (4) a general paper; and, in political science, (1) ancient constitutions, (2) modern constitutions, (3) the theory and history of the English Constitution, and (4) a general paper. The general paper in political science will include questions on jurisprudence. Subsequent to the written examination, candidates will, if necessary, be examined viva voce. In making their selection the examiners will take into account both the result of the examination and the previous record and promise of the candidates. The papers will be set on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 19th and 20th, at 10 A.M. and 2 P.M. The viva voce examination will be held on one or more subsequent days.

Candidates are requested to call upon the Director of the School on Monday, July 18th, between 4.30 and 7 P.M., and before that date to send to him the following particulars, viz. (1) name and address in full, (2) school or schools, college and university where educated, (3) academical record, if any, (4) the name of a professor, tutor, lecturer, or other person of recognised position to whom reference may be made; and to state (1) whether they wish to be examined in economics or political science, and (2) what subject they would wish to investigate, if elected.
