CLARENSVILLE,

24th March,

1932.3

Dear Mr. Lansbury,

It has been a shock to see the dire tidings in the papers - of your irreparable loss of your dear Wife! And, having myself undergone a similar crowning sorrow of separation, with the anguish of it all, I can but lamely give expression to my sympathy for you,

GOLDERS GREEN, W. 11.
N. HELENSTON AVENUE,
GLARENSVILLE.

and all whom she has left to miss and mourn Her!

At such crises in our poor little lives, it may help us to commend each-other to the only Source of abiding comfort: - as our dear old Pictorian Poet expressed it: -

"I only hope that good will fall - at last, far off - at last - so all, -
And every Winter turn to Spring!"

301

Thus only, though "falling"
"upon God's Altar-Stairs," - may we, who "mourn" catch a glimpse of the glory which awaits us, where Partings are known no more!

Looking towards that Blessed Hope, with all sympathy,

Very faithfully Yours,
Georgiana Margaret Solomon.
Widow.

My Dear Lansbury

I desire to tender you my deep Sympathy and Regret for the Great loss you have sustained in the death of your dear wife a woman who as I know you found your wife for over forty years I can understand your great sorrow I always think of her kindness to me her cheerful word and Pleasant Smile Every week when I used to deliver the tea and although I was down it was her and your kindness and example that kept me from despair as Personal appearance and defective eye sight was a great disadvantage to me but I thought

Dear Sir,

I read in The Times today the announcement of the death of your beloved wife who has been a "real pal" to you. May I send you my deepest sympathy on this sad occasion of your life.

There is no doubt that you owe too much for her devotion and loyalty which enabled you to be successful in your public career, and to be separated from such a wife is really sad.

I am a Buddhist monk from Ceylon and a student of Cambridge University. I have great interest in you and I really admire your noble service for the benefit of poor people. The other day I met Mr Clifford Bax and we were talking about you. He said "Mr Lansbury is real kind hearted man".

P. Vajiranana

"The best form of life, says Buddhism is to live for others". So you are living a good life which is possible on this earth and your dear wife too lived a good life. Everything must die; for death is the end of life. But they exist in accordance with their actions both good and bad. Those who have done good will enjoy good results and those who have done evil will suffer from evil results. This law is the truth of the universe. As your wife was living a good life she is now enjoying the result of it in another form of existence and she will meet you and help you for your good work repeatedly in this long journey of existence or life. Therefore you should not be sad.

Happiness and long life to you.

P.S. I have never met you. Only once, last year at Durham, have I seen and heard you, but I often think of you, and read what you have said and written, and greatly admire you for the work you have so bravely done through so many years for the poor, and for the brave fight, in the House of Commons, and out of it, you have been putting up against injustice and oppression and exploitation. May God spare you for that work and fight for years yet. Through being many years in India, I have only voted at two elections. Each time I have voted for the Labour Party candidate, though in each case he was not elected. You can rely on me to stick to it. I am a Methodist minister, formerly Wesleyan.

wonderful manifestation of their respect-& love for you both.

One of them brought me the enclosed Tear Off from his Calendar—& thought it was appropriate.

And so—our Good Companions Stand with you in this dark hour.

Ever yours— H. Williams.

My Dear George Lansbury

Please accept our profound sympathy in your tragic loss of a mother, wife, Sweetheart & a great comrade.

My command of language is altogether unequal to expressing what & how we feel in this your greatest hour of trial.

May Heaven help you to bear this great strain & endow you with super human energy so that you may continue to inspire us in our glorious work

My Dear Fansburg.

In the hour of your great loss may I speak a word of sincere sympathy & consolation—

"Time can but make it easier to be wise Tho: now it's hard, be wise & patient, friend—Time can but make her beauty over again Because of that great nobleness of hers"—

O heart! if she'd but turn her head 'd know the folly of being comforted."

St. Morris sang.

"Love burns up the world to changeless heaven" and thus you are left alone, you have great work yet to do.

With a comrades love

Believe me, sincerely yours

T. Wilson.

Dear Comrade

Words cannot express the deep sympathy we feel for you in your sad bereavement and sincerely hope time will lighten your sorrow and that you will have the health and strength to carry on your great work for Socialism. With Love from your Comrades

You will overwhelmed with letters as well as I fear, with grief, but I really must add an expression of my our true sympathy with you. We shall pray for you as St Mary's and for her - God rest her soul. You know this is not a conventional expression of sympathy, but heartfelt - and promise of prayer.

Yours affectionately
Very truly

My Dear Lady Mary.

I am so pained to see the announcement of your sad loss in the Press to-day. I know how happy you were together - I can realise something of what the loss of her visible presence will be to you. Especially in all the stress of your political life - we have not met for a long time - but I do not forget you.
May grant her the fulness of joy in the Great Beyond

I may have faith in the Resurrection & the Resurrection of Saints uphold you.

There is no secret to reply - you are too busy for that - but my wife & I want you to know of our sympathy & our prayers.

Yr most sincerely

H. E. Whitley.

Dear Mr. Lambury

I feel I must try to express to you something of the fellow feeling I have in your present loss. Of those who have known what it is to share all tastes, sorrows & joys in married life can understand the uprooting, the blank, the pamphlet test of one's faith, when one of the two partners is removed by death. And time does

M449

lead - it emphasizes how each learned in the other unknowingly in small & big matters of daily occurrence -

May you be upheld in your present bereavement - & the certainty that few men have won so much actual love from the general public despite politics, & from all with whom they have come in contact as you yourself have - & your Caesarian human attitude to all.

I am glad you were able to be with her in these last hours & I only hope she was spared suffering - & knew you were at her side to the last.

Yours in real love & sympathy

My Dear Friend

It is with profound sorrow and great regret that my wife and I read of your great loss in the death of Mrs Hansbury.

We with multitudes of friends throughout the country will have you in our thoughts during this time of bereavement. May your courage be sustained and your faith maintained in spite of trial and loss. We send you our heartfelt sympathy & sincere condolences.

With kind remembrances.

Yours faithfully.
