With exception of Falcon Buildings, the houses are old, with 2 stories - some rents as low as 6/- (2 rooms); others 12/- or more, where there are small shops. Only a moderate amount of business is done, & the residents just make a count every.

A roomy, paved court. The entrance is very narrow, & obstructed by a post; but, excepting this preliminary difficulty, the place suits the hawkers, who can keep their stock or barrow (when they have any) outside their door. A pump in the centre supplies all the water for the court, & attached to it is a large tub, the common property of all, in wh. the general washing, whether of person or property, flowers, fish, &c., is carried on.

			Needless to say, people are wretchedly poor - a family in every room. Rents from 2/6 to 3/6 per room.

Wretchedly poor lot. 19 many of the people are incapable of any profitable work; others may aggravate their poverty by drink, but sheer helplessness seems to be the principal evil.

Mr. Lowridge, vicar of St Phillips, gives a large amount of money & clothes away in the neighbourhood, but it seems as though he had, after assisting them several times, given up these particular people as hopeless.

The people are mostly very poor. The houses have 5 rooms - 2 on the ground floor, 2 on second floor, & 1 large weaver's room at the top. The landlord insists on making one family responsible for the rent, & this leads to some houses being empty & others changing hands very frequently, the amount being too much for such poor people to stand to (15/- week). The place & people seem to be unhealthy, & very readily lend themselves to any disease wh. breaks out in the locality.

DESTITUTE CHILDREN AT BOARD SCHOOLS.
 Sir W. HART-DYKE, in reply to Mr. BOND, who called his attention to the case of a boy, eight years old, recently attending the Bethnal-green Board School, having had no breakfast nor any food on the whole of the previous day, said he regretted that that was by no means a solitary instance. The only thing the officer of the School Board could do in such cases was to exercise great caution as to the enforcement of compulsory attendance. (Hear, hear.) It would be well to mention all cases when they occurred to the Poor Law Authorities. Another source of relief might be found in the extension of the penny dinner system, which of course depended on voluntary aid.

A mixed street, both as to houses & class of people. There are a lot of old weavers houses, some of wh. are in a dilapidated & apparently unsafe condition. These have large gardens at the back, & on several of them the tenants have built workshops. The worst houses gradually get altered & done up; one or two are at present under condemnation. They let cheaply (for example, a 4 roomed house at 7/6). A little weaving still goes on, but most of the old work-rooms are utilized for other purposes. The street is interesting as an illustration of changing industry (from textile to wood work) whilst the old "home" character of the work is largely maintained.

With but 2 or 3 exceptions, the people are a steady & comf working class, & the street has a decidedly clean & resp. appearance. There are single lodgers in some of the houses, so that the number of unknowns is probably overstated.
