Truths and Myths about the EU

EU Energy Regulations double gas prices. Truth.

According to the International Energy Agency, natural gas prices are over 241% higher in the EU than in the US. A plethora of EU Directives have added huge costs to industry and consumer alike and have virtually destroyed UK steel making.

If we leave the EU wages will rise. Truth.

This simply comes down to the laws of supply and demand. On leaving the EU, the UK will be able to restrict migration. If we reduce the number of workers looking for a job, wages will rise.

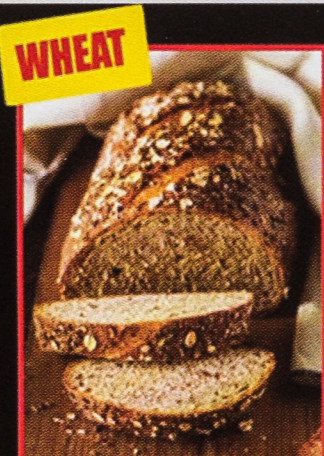

Food costs more being in the EU. Truth.

The Common Agricultural Policy is designed to subsidise inefficient farmers in France, Spain, Portugal and elsewhere in the EU. It adds around £45 per month to the food bill of the average family of 2 adults and 2 children.

BEEF

Britain can thrive outside the EU

Truths and Myths about the EU

Trade with the EU would end if we left the EU. Myth.

For every £3 of goods and services we sell to the EU, they sell us £5. The absence of a trade deal on Brexit would be ruiness for their economies. Britain holds a very strong hand when it comes to negotiating the economic terms of Brexit.

Cut the Red Tape

All companies would have to comply with EU laws if the UK left the EU. Myth.

Only 5% of British companies trade with other EU states. On leaving, EU red tape could be scrapped for 95% of British companies. The top 100 EU Regulations alone cost British industry €27.4 billion annually. Removing these costs would be a huge boost to corporate profits.

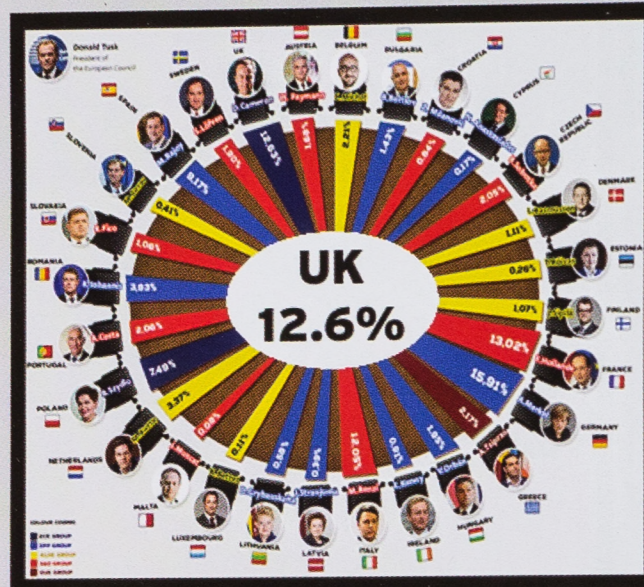

3 Million Jobs are at risk on Leaving the EU? Myth.

Europeans won't stop buying British goods just because we leave the EU. British goods sell because they are desirable and people want them. Likewise, we shall continue buying goods from Europe too.

Independence Day - 23 June

Truths and Myths about the EU

Britain will have more influence in the EU than outside it. Myth.

Since 1996 Britain has objected to 72 laws not in our interests in the Council of Ministers and has been defeated 72 times. Britain now has no influence in the EU. The Lisbon Treaty ensures we are outvoted every time.

The EU is about trade. Myth.

The EU is not about trade, it's about political domination. Britain gave up its sovereignty in treaties we never voted for. We are now governed behind closed doors by unelected officials heavily influenced by Central European powers.

Since WWII the EU has helped keep peace in Europe. Myth.

NATO deserves the credit for maintaining peace in Europe since 1949. Angela Merkel has ambitious plans to create an EU army. The EU failed in Bosnia. The situation had to be rescued by NATO. Further, the EU has failed to prevent war in Ukraine.

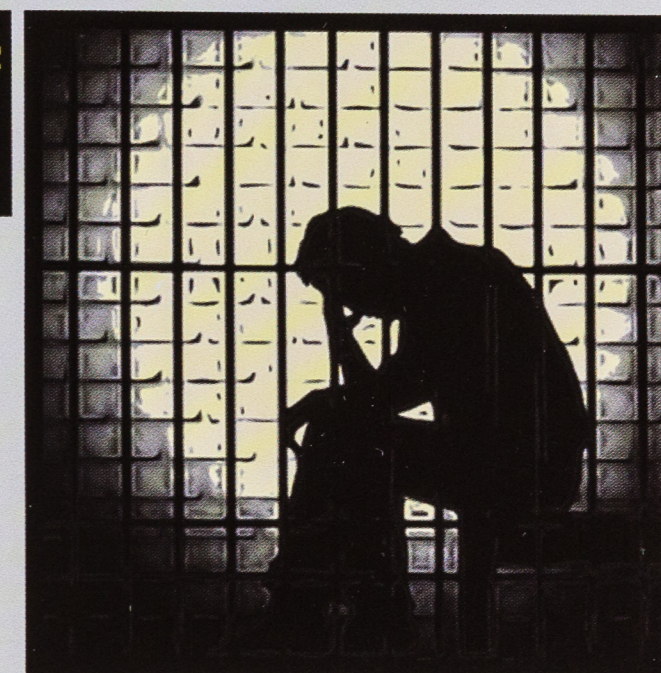

Britain can thrive outside the EU

Truths and Myths about the EU

The European Arrest Warrant allows extradition without evidence. Truth.

The European Arrest Warrant not only allows extradition without evidence but undermines the accused's right to a fair trial. Those extradited may languish in a foreign jail for years without ever being charged.

Every week the UK gives over £350 million to the EU, enough to build a modern hospital. Truth.

If we remain in the EU this cost will only go up. By leaving, we can spend our money on our priorities, like the NHS, schools, housing, reducing council tax and the national debt.

The majority of UK Laws come from the EU. Truth.

The EU dictates as many as 800-900 new regulations and laws to our government every year to be enacted into UK law. Our government is powerless to stop or remove laws that are not in British interests.

 EU Membership Means  Lower Wages and Longer Queues

Open door immigration increases the supply of workers and pushes down wages.

Brits looking for work Migrants looking Jobs available

Out of work

Found work

In the last 3 years 75% of the new jobs created went to migrants typically on lower pay (source ONS).

What EU Membership Means

- EU forbids UK to make its own trade deals
- Which holds back the economy
- Government unable to restrict migration
- Which pushes down wages
- Makes it harder to get a new job
- Puts pressure on services
- Increases NHS waiting lists
- Pushes rents up; and
- Government deficit increased
(more unemployed = higher welfare costs)

Independence Day - 23 June

 Brexit Means  Higher Wages and Shorter Queues

Leaving the EU will allow us to control Immigration and reduce unemployment.

Brits looking for work Migrants we need Jobs available

Out of work

Found work

Leaving the EU will allow the UK to restrict migration and thus give Brits a better chance of finding work.

What Brexit Means

- New trade deals worldwide that create jobs
- Government able to restrict migration to those with rare skills
- Job seekers will have less competition for jobs
- Wages will rise
- Shorter NHS waiting lists
- Affordable rents; and
- Government deficit reduced
(less unemployed = lower welfare costs)

Vote Leave - 23 June

"Britain will be 'literally ungovernable' unless we take back power from the self-serving elite" says Steve Hilton former director of strategy for David Cameron.

"Every single day, every single minister is told: 'Yes Minister, I understand, but I'm afraid that's against EU rules'" says Michael Gove MP.

Official Immigration Figures Don't Add Up

According to the Office for National Statistics 257,000 people arrived from the EU in 2015. However, 630,000 National Insurance numbers were issued to EU citizens, without which they cannot work or claim benefits.

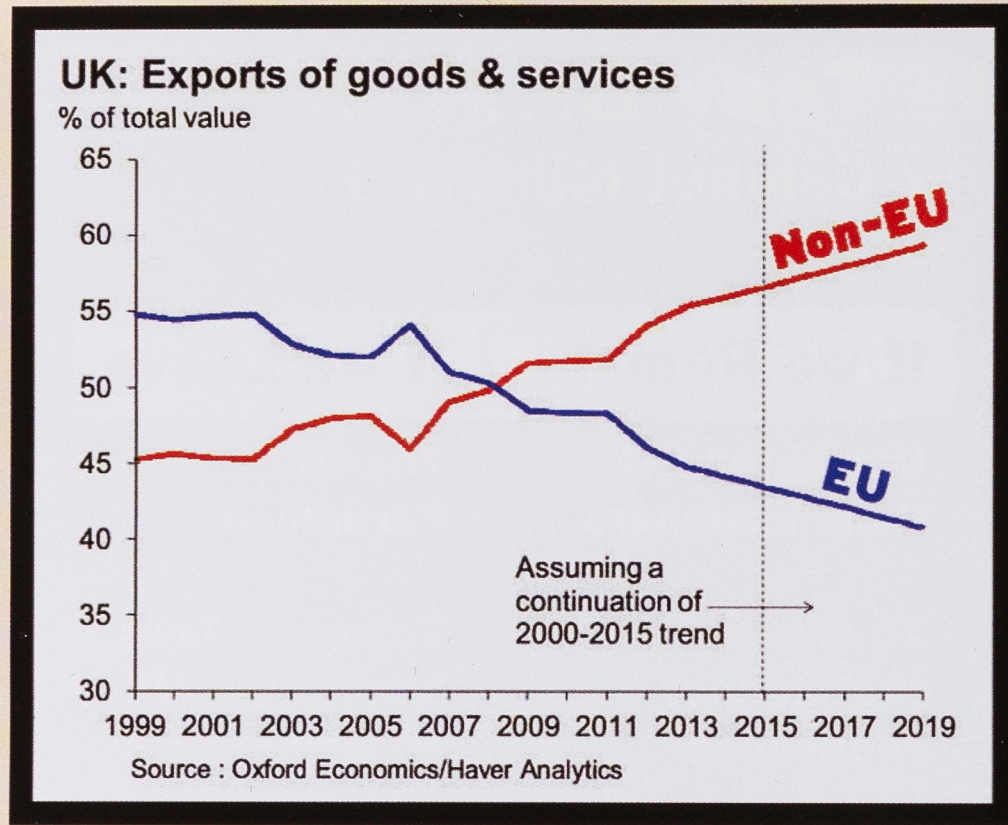

Mass Migration drives down wages offered to British jobseekers, a major report by the Bank of England has found.

The 6 Famous Questions Asked by the late Tony Benn MP (former Labour Cabinet Minister)

| | If we Remain | If we Leave |
|---|--|--|
| Who has the power? | Unelected EU Commissioners | The UK Parliament. |
| What power have you got? | To create laws that cannot be challenged. | To create laws to benefit the UK as a whole. |
| Where did you get it from? | From European governments unwittingly handing it over in Treaties. | From the electorate. |
| In whose interests do you exercise it? | To benefit themselves and to perpetuate the EU. | To serve those who elect them. |
| To whom are you accountable? | No-one! | The electorate. |
| How can we get rid of you? | You can't! | Vote them out at the next General Election. |

"Anyone who cannot answer the last of those questions does not live in a democratic system."
Tony Benn.

EU Trade Shrinking

Trade with the EU has been in steady decline for over 15 years.

At the same time the UK has been increasing its exports to countries outside the EU.

Life after Brexit

If We Leave

There is a bright future trading with growing economies outside the EU that have millions of young consumers with disposable incomes.

Leaving the EU will allow us to create lucrative trade deals with the rest of the world. EU membership forbids us from creating our own trade deals while the UK is stuck with a very poor trade deal with the EU.

If We Remain

The ageing EU population has switched from consuming to saving for their retirement. The UK's trade with the EU will shrink faster as more ageing baby boomers retire which will result in long-term economic decline.
