

Helping

our families

● Fifteen years ago we in Britain had a higher standard of living than the six original members of the European Community. Now we do not.

● Today most families in the Community are better off than people in Britain.

● They have done better together than we have done alone. That is why both Conservative and Labour Governments wanted to join the Community.

● Because they have done better they have built more homes. Their pensions are higher. Their unemployment and sickness pay is better.

● How has it been done? To a great extent it is because they worked together in the Community, and not against each other.

● It makes sense. Of course they have their ups and downs. So does everybody.

● They want us to stay in the Community.

● For the sake of our families and the future of our children, let us—

KEEP BRITAIN IN EUROPE
