My dear old friend.

Mrs Lawson

+ I were sad beyond words to learn of your irreparable loss.
And as you have lost a great companion of life we of the Labour Movement have lost a great Comrade. Your herculean labours have ever kept us in a state of wonder, but the silent partner had also our homage for we well knew her unflinching patient part. None can take her place with us as none can ever express words to measure your mourning.

But at this time your unshakeable faith in life eternal and Divine Love will sustain you more than any words.

Now can enter your Getsamara
But the day dawns and shadows flee before such fragrant memories only the Wife with whom you will walk in the spirit to the end.

God Bless you in these testing days old friend

Yours Sincerely

Jack & Belle-Lawsdy

Consolation.

Not dead— oh, no! but borne beyond the shadows
Into the full, clear light;
Forever done with mist and cloud and tempest,
Where all is calm and bright.

Not even sleeping—called to glad awakening
In heaven's endless day;
Not still and moveless—stepped from earth's rough places
To walk the King's highway.

Not silent—just passed out of earthly hearing
To sing heaven's sweet, new song;
Not lonely—dearly loved and dearly loving Amid the white-robed throng.

Be not forgetful—keeping fond remembrance
Of dear ones lost awhile;
And looking gladly to the bright re-union
With hand-clasp and with smile.

Oh, no, not dead! but past all fear of dying,
And with all suffering o'er—
Say not that I am dead when Jesus calls me
To live for evermore.

Dear Friend,

Mrs Lee and I are so sorry to read of the death of your dear wife.

You have travelled a long way together, and the change must mean a vast deal indeed to you and your family. May He who has been with you in the past, and will still be with you, send you that comfort which He alone can impart.

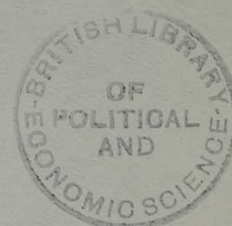

Our hope is that the memory of the happy past will give you that deep sense of resignation and peace which can only come to those who have so long lived in the union of love.

With heartfelt sympathy,

Believe me, Dear Mr Lansbury,

Dear Geo Lansbury

I regret to read in today's paper of your loss. A companionship that has lasted so long, becomes in spirit interminable

I have one memory of your wife; though that is second-hand. It was just after I had joined the Socialist movement, and agreeing with the late Stewart-Ross, that one must get hold of the women; I wondered what sort of women were in our movement. Frank Darby was relating to some one in my presence that Mrs G L, in conversation with him had declared her wish that none of her sons, would ever use swear words, and he stated that he told her, that they most likely would, just like ~~any~~ other ordinary boys.

At the moment I felt a little amused. but I walked home with a feeling of respect in my heart for a woman who had some care as to how her sons conducted themselves through life.

If like JRM you have "a lonely sanctuary" then also like him, you have had a happy union, fortunate sequences, and

24 March 1933

unforgettable memories

While the heart bleeds, consolation sometimes irritates, sometimes soothes; ^{but} ~~and~~ the best consolation when there have been happy hours, is that memory is the true friend of grief

May I join with all who know you and your dear wife in expressing sympathy for you - I have known your dear one since about 1876 - I use to see her, though not to speak to her, nearly every time I went to her Father's mill - and admired her - and her mother - her Father Mr J. Brine I look upon as one of the men who taught me the value of figured woods - he and two other men who had confidence in me helped me to build up my business

- I am sure she was a treasure as a wife - a mother & as a friend - I have for a long time wished to call and shake hands with her, for old acquaintance sake but life has been too full.

- I can feel for you as I lost my dear one nearly 20 years ago
- Your memory of her devoted life - of the love she has shown by so many sacrificial deeds will be vivid to you & thus be with you in Spirit -

God bless you is the prayer
