

I have followed with interest the work of the Union and appreciate the efforts of its members to educate public opinion in support of the League, in which lies our chief hope for the future peace of the world. I offer you my best wishes for the continued strength and prosperity of the League of Nations Union.

GEORGE R.I.,
Sandringham, 26/10/28.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS AND BRITISH INTERESTS

THE HON. SIR ERIC DRUMMOND (Secretary-General to the League of Nations) says: The League must largely rely on the work of voluntary societies in different countries, such as the League of Nations Union in Great Britain, to keep public opinion, which is the ultimate mainstay of the League, fully informed.

The Monthly Review of the Midland Bank

(May-June, 1928) said: "It must be remembered that the reconstruction of one country is bound to affect the prosperity of others The services of the League from this point of view are literally inestimable. The comparative prosperity of Europe to-day is due in large part to the League's work of reconstruction. On this account alone, quite apart from any other services, the League has paid dividends exceeding by many times the expenses of its maintenance. It has proved itself the finest investment in general economic welfare that international action has hitherto brought forth.
