My dear G.L.

I was very, very sorry to hear of your bad accident. Our thoughts will be with you all the time, and our hopes constant for your complete recovery and restoration to us. You mean so much to us all here, for though we may not come to see you often the knowledge that you are available when our need becomes greatest gives us strength.

If there is anything I can do at this time especially here locally, please let me know. I am eager to serve.

With every good wish from Mrs. Key and myself,

Dear Comrade George

As an old comrade who assisted you in what was (I believe) your first Parliamentary Election, when you were the Socialist Candidate for Walworth, and only received I think 407 votes.

My wife and I would like to tender you our heartfelt sympathy, and trust your accident will not cause you too much pain.

Dear George we feel that we cannot spare you, because we feel under your leadership we can continue to work for our cause.

We have too many who ~~are~~ we fear we cannot trust, but know by your past life that a true man is at the wheel, and will please God lead us to victory.

We shall continue to pray for your speedy recovery.

Dear Comrade,

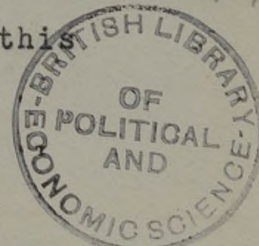

The Executive Committee of the National Union of Railwaymen have learned with profound regret of the unfortunate accident which has befallen you, and have asked me to express their sincere sympathies in your present disablement from active participation in the workers' struggle, which we all recognise must be to you the most bitter aspect of your present misfortune.

The cheerful fortitude which you nevertheless displayed, and which we recognise to be typical of our colleague and Leader, will provide an inspiring example to your many comrades throughout the movement, and give us confidence that your remarkable courage and stamina will soon overcome your present disability and enable us to welcome you back inspired and invigorated anew to continue the struggle for the social emancipation of our fellow workers in this and other lands.

I would wish to associate myself and other officers of this Union with these expressions.

Yours sincerely,

My Dear Leader,

I have no Wireless (If I had had one I think I should have smashed it after the misrepresentations at the last election), and I do not see the Sunday papers. So it is only to-day I have read of your accident.

Of course you are taking it with your usual pluck. Thank God you are in skilled hands. You'll get through all right. But you are no doubt in for some pain. May you be spared as much as possible.

You will be conscious of the thousands of us poor rank and file people who are praying for you, and thinking of you at this time. If there is one man in England who has not only earned but has got the love of the people it is you. It has always been like a breath of fresh air to meet you. That's what we are all, telling you I expect. And it is what we all mean when we say it.

Yours very sincerely,

Owen Rattenbury

Dear Mr George Lansbury,

Everybody is so sorry to hear of your accident, and my people at the Guildhouse especially wanted to send you a message of sympathy and hope that you will make a good recovery. This proposal was made both at the afternoon meeting and at the evening service yesterday, and was most warmly supported.

I think there can be hardly anyone for whose happiness and health there are more prayers and wishes going up.

Yours very sincerely,

Dear Mr Lansbury, -

My husband and I are both terribly grieved to read of the accident to your father. Please give him our love and best wishes for a speedy recovery. I will write to him personally when I feel he will have fewer letters to read!

I should not have bothered you to say this but for an urgent message I promised to convey to you from Dr Jane Walker, whose name as a physician you probably know. It is to the effect that the best manipulator or bone-setter, or whatever it is called, at the present moment is Major Sinclair, 122 Harley Street, W.1. Tel. Welbeck 7390. I said I would tell you, but you probably know it already!

Dear Mr Laisbury,

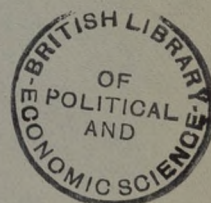

Congratulations on your courage and fighting spirit. None could have been more thoughtful than you when those you knew were not fit and you deserve the thoughts and prayers of many thousands you have comforted in your trying time just now.

So glad reports are good! Take care of yourself and come back - in good time, but not yet awhile - to the fighting line. You have done great work and we all love and are proud of you!

Dear Mr Lansbury,

I do hope you are not suffering greatly, but, apart from the pain attached to the injury and its repair, I fear that the shock must have been very considerable.

I am so grieved that this has happened and ask you to accept my affection and sympathy. I hope, too, that you will make a complete recovery in due time.

I imagine that although it must be terribly inconvenient, this is the only way of your getting a rest which your physical body must sorely need. I hope it will be possible for you to get mental rest as well, while you are laid aside, and that deeper rest which is implied in those words: "Let not your heart be troubled".

With kind thoughts - your life and work are a great inspiration to service,

Yours sincerely

Robert H. Spurrer.
