General notes. This visitor has been on this block about two years, but has been employed by the Board for 14 years. This is the poorest block in Chelsea. Large number of tramps to know the people very well, a thoroughly shrewd man, grasped years, but has been employed by the Board for 14 years. gypsies & who put up here when in London. Visitor seems the idea of classes very well.

With regard to these families - some visitors count all the those with School children. Mr. Wace says that the former hardly know themselves what to count as a family - too families they saw find in the street, but others only count way is the correct one, but I find that some of the visitors much reliance should not therefore be placed on these figures.

Mr Taylor has been on the district 5 years. It has improved considerably since Cremorne Gardens was closed. There are many new houses on the Ashburnham Estate (where the Gardens were). There is not much poverty on this block. Respectable working class neighbourhood

There is a mission in Lacland Terrace supported by Mr Veitch (of the Nursery) and also one in connection with St John's Church.
