The total number of requisitioned properties held by local authorities for residential purposes on 6th June, 1955, when the Requisitioned Houses and Housing (Amendment) Act, 1955, came into force, was estimated at 57,844; of these, 47,125 were situated in the London Region.

Between 1st January, 1948, when the number of requisitioned properties was about at its highest, and 5th June, 1955, there has been a net decrease in requisitioned properties held by local authorities for residential purposes of 37,859. The net decrease in the period 6th June to 30th September, 1955, was 2,468.

HOUSING LABOUR FORCE

The following are estimates of the number of operatives aged 15 and over employed by building and civil engineering contractors on the construction of new permanent houses and the preparation of housing sites in England and Wales at the dates stated.

31st January, 1955	30th April, 1955	31st July, 1955
307,000*	304,000*	300,000*

The figures for 1955 are not comparable with the previous series. It is no longer practicable, now that building controls have ceased, to collect figures from all the firms undertaking contracts if their major activity lies in other fields. The present series covers a wider age group and includes some off-site workers.

The figures shown above do not include the number of building and civil engineering workers directly employed by local authorities. The number of such workers in England and Wales was 16,906 in September, 1955.

The number of operatives engaged on repair and maintenance of existing houses (including conversions, extensions and alterations) in England and Wales was estimated to be 142,000* in July, 1955. The notes above on the changes in coverage apply also to this figure.

*Provisional

Notes.—Source—Board of Trade.

(a) The amounts of softwood timber shown in the above table necessarily relate to all qualities and dimensions although only certain qualities and dimensions are normally used in building. Softwood timber is required for use in the repair and construction of ships, the repair and construction of goods vehicles, furniture, agricultural equipment, packing cases, etc.

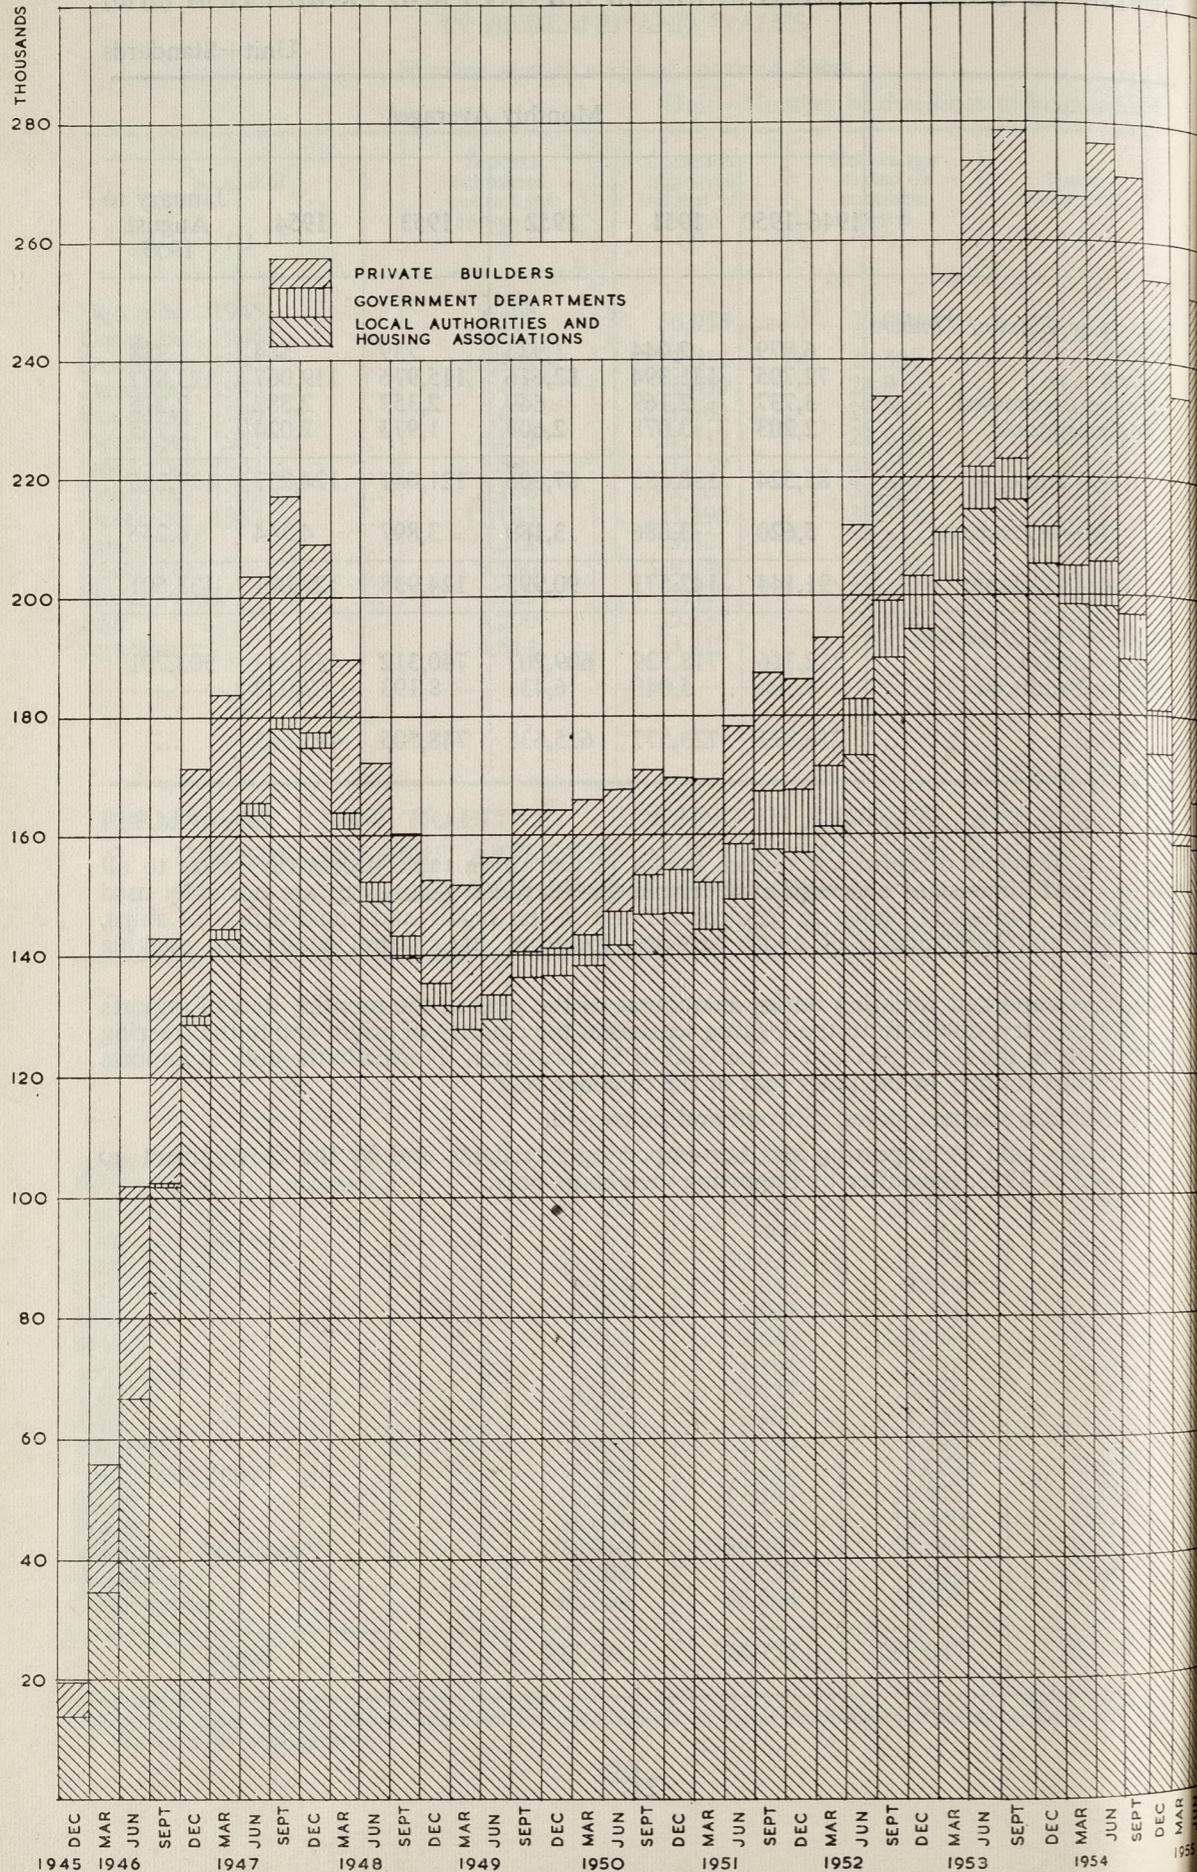

There is a marked variation during the course of the year in the monthly flow of imports into this country, due both to the logging seasons in the country of origin and to the freezing of the ports in the Baltic Sea and in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Normally the bulk of imports arrive in this country in the latter part of the calendar year.

(b) Excludes sleepers, poles, pitwood and pulpwood.

(c) Stocks held by importing and non-importing merchants and by the Government up to the end of 1953, thereafter by importing merchants only.

Throughout this return figures relating to Local Authorities include those of New Towns Development Corporations. Separate figures for these Corporations are given on page 7.

A detailed statement of new house-building for each housing authority will shortly be published as a separate document (Appendix B).

A total of 33,565 flats and houses of 12 rooms or less was released from occupation by the Services and Government Departments over the period 1st May, 1945, to 31st December, 1955. Some of the dwellings on release were taken over by the local authorities.

The total number of requisitioned properties held by local authorities for residential purposes on 6th June, 1955, when the Requisitioned Houses and Housing (Amendment) Act, 1955, came into force, was estimated at 57,844; of these, 47,125 were situated in the London Region.

Between 1st January, 1948, when the number of requisitioned properties was about at its highest, and 5th June, 1955, there has been a net decrease in requisitioned properties held by local authorities for residential purposes of 37,859. The net decrease in the period 6th June to 31st December, 1955, was 5,465.

HOUSING LABOUR FORCE

The following are estimates of the number of operatives aged 15 and over employed by building and civil engineering contractors on the construction of new permanent houses and the preparation of housing sites in England and Wales at the dates stated.

30th April, 1955	31st July, 1955	31st October, 1955
310,000*	311,000*	309,000*

The figures for 1955 are not comparable with the previous series. It is no longer practicable, now that building controls have ceased, to collect figures from all the firms undertaking contracts if their major activity lies in other fields. The present series covers a wider age group and includes some off-site workers.

The figures shown above do not include the number of building and civil engineering workers directly employed by local authorities. The number of such workers in England and Wales was 16,092 in December, 1955.

The number of operatives engaged on repair and maintenance of existing houses (including conversions, extensions and alterations) in England and Wales was estimated to be 150,000* in October, 1955. The notes above on the changes in coverage apply also to this figure.

Notes.—Source—Board of Trade.

(a) The amounts of softwood timber shown in the above table necessarily relate to all qualities and dimensions although only certain qualities and dimensions are normally used in building. Softwood timber is required for use in the repair and construction of ships, the repair and construction of goods vehicles, furniture, agricultural equipment, packing cases, etc.

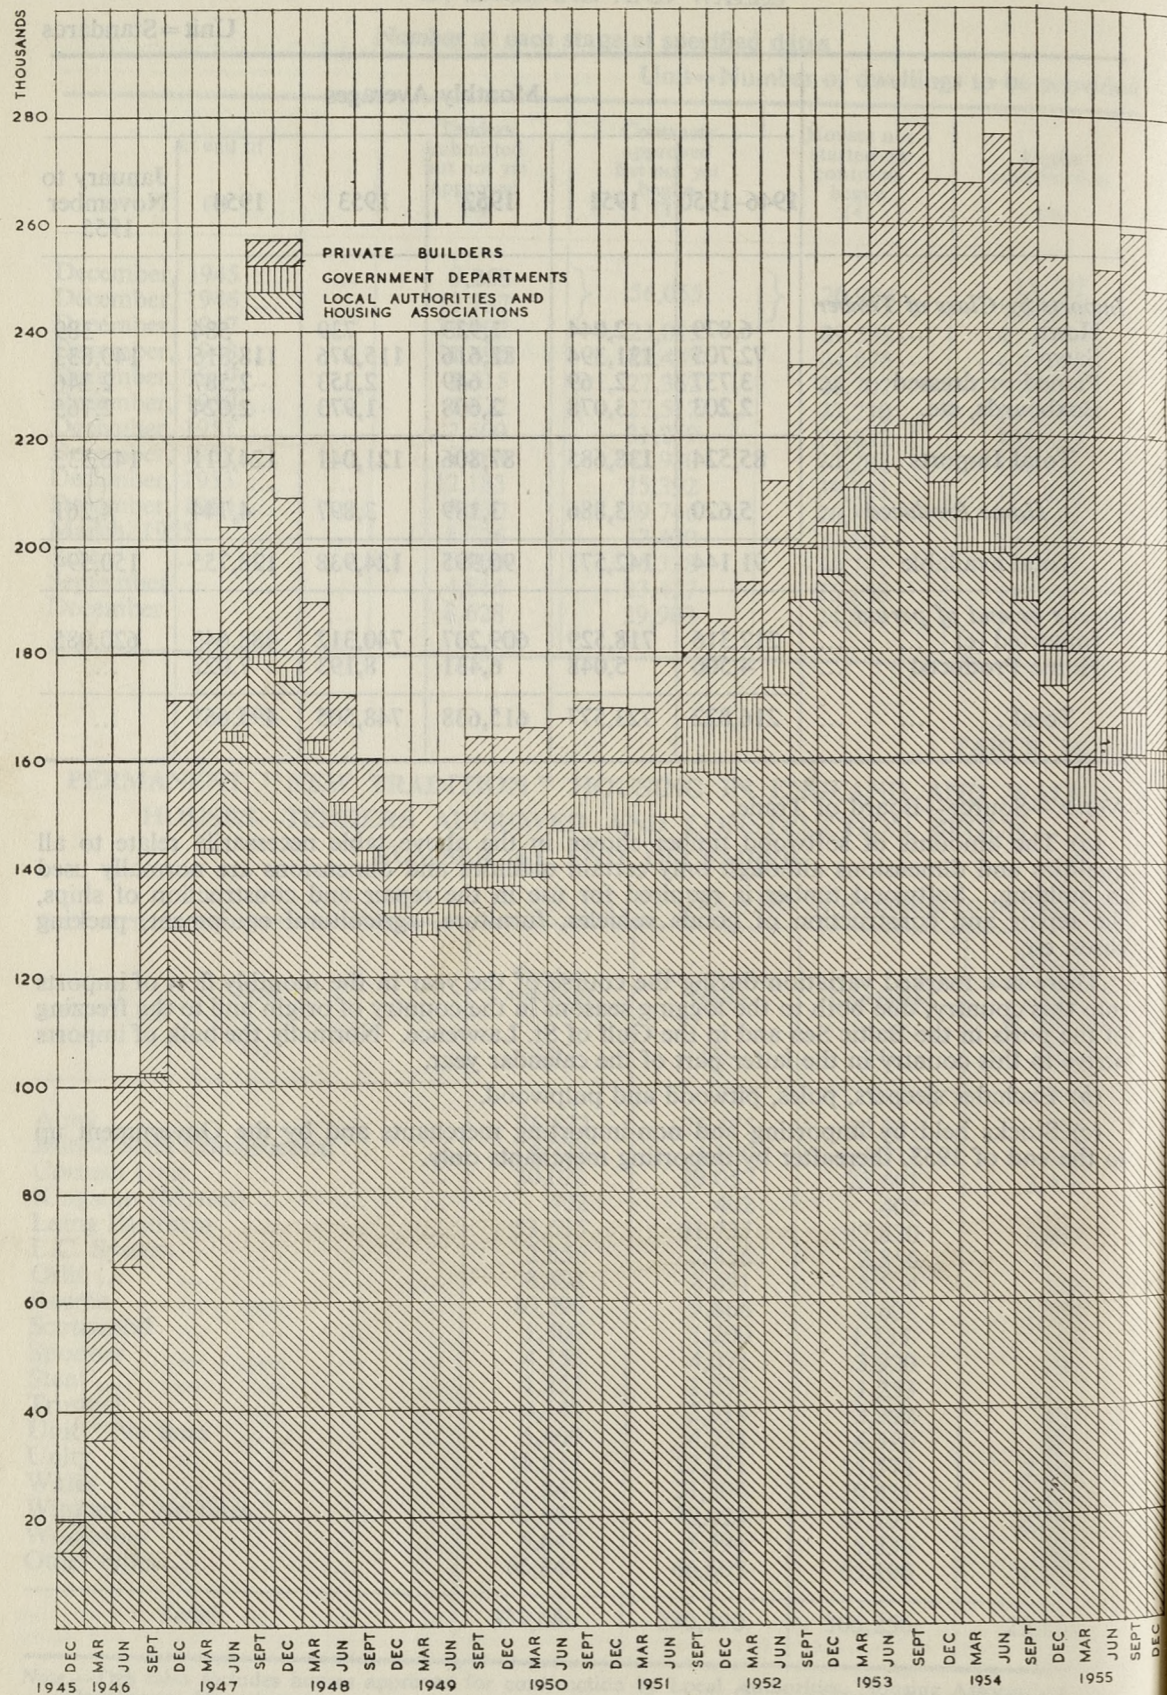

There is a marked variation during the course of the year in the monthly flow of imports into this country, due both to the logging seasons in the country of origin and to the freezing of the ports in the Baltic Sea and in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Normally the bulk of imports arrive in this country in the latter part of the calendar year.

(b) Excludes sleepers, poles, pitwood and pulpwood.

NOTES

1. An alphabetical index of Regions and Counties is shown on page 75.
2. The estimated population shown in Column (1) includes members of the Armed Forces.
3. The figures given in this Appendix relate to the period from 1st April, 1945, and have been based on Progress Reports received from Local Authorities and New Towns Development Corporations up to 31st December, 1955, inclusive. The progress of Development Corporations is recorded under the counties in which they are situated.
4. The data shown for each Metropolitan Borough excludes housing provision made by the London County Council.
5. The figures in Columns (4), (5) and (6) relate to houses provided by Housing Authorities and Housing Associations. Nearly all the houses shown as being under construction or completed are included in the number of houses on tenders approved. Separate figures for Housing Associations are given in a Table at the end of this Return.
6. Houses built for private owners in New Towns on sites in which the Development Corporations have an interest are included in Columns (7) and (8) against the name of the Local Authority or Authorities in whose area the New Town is situated. The numbers of such houses under construction or completed are shown separately, in italics, in Columns (7) and (8) against the name of the New Town.
7. Rebuilt war-destroyed houses are included as appropriate under Housing Authorities or Private Builders.
8. Where Local Authorities' areas have been affected by an alteration of boundaries the figures for the Authorities concerned take account of any post-war house-building in the area transferred.
