15. Tellers shall be appointed at the meeting for the purpose of recording the votes when a count is taken.
16. The vote shall in the first place be taken by a show of hands or by members standing. A minority may demand a count.

8. Whenever an amendment upon an original motion has been moved and seconded, no second or subsequent amendment shall be moved until the first amendment shall have been disposed of, but any speaker to the amendment may give notice of a further amendment which she will move when the other has been disposed of. 11. Notices of the meetings of the Executive Committee shall be forwarded to the Hon. Secretaries of the Sectional and other Committees, who have the right to attend the meetings and to speak, but not to vote.
12. A resolution agreed to by the Executive Committee shall not be rescinded or altered by them, unless some member of the Executive Committee shall have given notice to the Secretary 18 days before the meeting of the Executive Committee of a motion to rescind or alter such resolution, which notice shall be forthwith entered on the agenda by the Secretary.
13. In taking public action with regard to subjects upon which the Representative Council has not defined its policy and upon which opinion is strongly divided, the Executive Committee shall only take action if notice of the proposal has been placed upon the agenda, which shall be circulated a fortnight before the meeting, and if such action has been approved by two-thirds of the members present and voting. Provided that in dealing with resolutions which Sectional Committees desire to bring before the Executive

7. A Branch may send in to the Executive Committee one resolution for the Representative Council. RESOLUTIONS

PASSED BY

THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN

BRIGHTON, OCTOBER, 1924.

1. Legitimacy Bill.

To consider the following proviso which was inserted in the Legitimacy Bill in the House of Lords on July 29th, 'Nothing in this Act shall operate to legitimate a person whose father or mother was married to a third person when the illegitimate person was born.'

'That in view of the strong divergence of opinion in the Executive Committee no action be taken by the Council on the above proviso.'

2. Marriage Bill.

No vote having been taken in the Executive Committee on the Marriage (Prohibited Degrees of Relationship) Bill, which legalises marriage with a nephew or niece by marriage, in order to ascertain the opinion of the Council, it is proposed:—

'That the National Council of Women support the Marriage (Prohibited Degrees of Relationship) Bill.'

3. Women Police.

'That the National Council of Women welcomes the Report of the Departmental Committee on the Employment of Policewomen set up to 'review the experience in regard to the employment of women police in England and Wales, and to make recommendations as to their future organisation and duties, and urges the Home Secretary, in consultation with the Secretary for Scotland, to give effect to these recommendations by issuing them as statutory regulations, as laid down in the Police Act, 1919, Section 4, clauses 1 and 2, and Section 14.'

4. Sale of Liquor in Clubs.

'That the supply of intoxicating liquor in any new club should be made subject to the grant of an annual permit by the Local Justices and to the same supervision as licensed premises.'

5. Affiliation Orders Act, 1914.

'That the National Council of Women strongly urges the Home Office to enforce the appointment of collecting officers to all petty sessional courts, as enacted in Section (1) Affiliation Orders Act, 1914, and is of opinion that the duties of collecting officer may well be entrusted to any suitable person appointed by the Court. The Council further recommends that Sub-section (5) of Section 1, limiting the remuneration of collecting officers, be repealed, so that each court may have power to pay its collecting officer adequately for carrying out all the duties which should be imposed under the provisions of the Act.'

6. Care of the Mentally Deficient.

'That, in the opinion of the National Council of Women, in view of the danger to the individual and to society of mentally defective persons being inadequately cared for, the attention of Local Authorities should be called to the need for early diagnosis and full provision of facilities for early education and for supervision and institutional accommodation.'

7. Equal Moral Standard.

'This Council urges all its branches and affiliated societies to consider what steps should be taken to secure the loyal adherence of young people to a high and equal moral standard, and, in particular, to study how the reasons for good morals and good citizenship may best be presented to them.'

8. Housing Committees.

'That as, in view of their experiences of actual domestic requirements, women are valuable members of Housing Committees, the National Council of Women of Great Britain and Ireland considers that every Housing Committee should include women members.'

9. Press Reports.

'That in the opinion of the National Council of Women it should not be lawful to print or publish the name or address of, or give any information calculated to lead to the identification of, any child or young person coming before a juvenile court.'

10. Training in Domestic Science.

'That the National Council of Women endorses the opinion of the Domestic Service Enquiry Committee that 'training in Domestic Science should form an integral part of the education of every young girl, no matter what her station in life,' and urges Local Authorities to provide such instruction in their Schools, both Elementary and Secondary, together with an additional training, examination and certification of those desirous of taking up a career in any Branch of Domestic Science.'

11. Equal Franchise.

'That the National Council of Women records its conviction that the age and other qualifications for the Parliamentary Franchise should be the same for both sexes. It holds that this is necessary in order that:—

- (a) The training of young women in political responsibility should not lag behind that of young men.
- (b) Women engaged in professional or industrial work should have the same means of influencing legislation as their male competitors.
- (c) The point of view of the home-maker and mother should have its full weight in the Councils of the Nation.

12. Littering Public Parks, etc.

'That the National Council of Women of Great Britain and Ireland, realising the great and increasing nuisance and cost to the community caused by the littering of streets, parks, commons and the countryside generally with waste paper, empty bottles, cigarette boxes, orange peel and other rubbish, and believing that the remedy for the evil is only to be found in the promotion of a healthy opinion resenting such practices, urges its Branches and Affiliated Societies to invite the co-operation of parents, teachers, Education Committees and other organisations dealing with young people in efforts to preserve the decencies of civilised life and the beauty of the countryside. And, further, this Council is of the opinion that receptacles for refuse should be provided wherever necessary.'

13. House Property Management.

'That in view of the rapid development of housing estates in all parts of the country the National Council of Women urges the employment of trained women for the work of rent collecting and management, on the methods of Octavia Hill, which demonstrated the value of women rent-collectors in encouraging hygienic and orderly methods, together with the education of the tenants in the care and preservation of their homes; and, since this is one of the most valuable ways of serving the community, holds that it should especially attract those who are completing their general education and are able to take the special training required.'

14. Training in Skilled Trades.

'That it be a recommendation to the Branches to inaugurate conferences between their local Education Authorities, Juvenile Advisory Committees, Trade Union Executives and social workers, with a view to:—

- (a) Pooling the district facilities for training in the skilled trades;
- (b) Stimulating the craft ambition of the young people and their parents.'

15. Widows Pensions.

'That the National Council of Women calls upon the Government to establish an adequate system of pensions for widows with dependent children as part of a general scheme of National Insurance.'

16. Women in the Civil Service.

'That in view of the need for providing careers for the younger generation, this Council considers that the time has now come when recruitment to the Clerical, Executive and Administrative Grades of the Civil Service and of technical officials should be by open competition for both sexes, and that the recruitment of women only to the Writing Assistant Grade should be abolished.'

17. Equal Pay.

'That the National Council of Women of Great Britain and Ireland urges the Government to establish the principle of Equal Pay for Equal Work—which already operates among Members of Parliament—for all employers in the service of the State, irrespective of sex.'

BIRMINGHAM, SEPTEMBER, 1925.

1. Industrial Situation.

"That in view of the present menacing industrial situation, the National Council of Women—an organisation representative of the general Public—desires to direct public attention to:—

1. The right of the community to consideration, as the third party vitally affected in industrial controversies; and

2. The need for more general recourse to methods of conciliation and arbitration, the machinery for which exists and can be called into immediate operation."

2. Judicial Proceedings Bill.

"That the National Council of Women records its conviction that sensational and suggestive reports and illustrations of criminal cases in the public press are conducive to the encouragement of crime and tend to lower the standard of morality, especially amongst the young; and it begs His Majesty's Government to provide facilities for the early passing of the Judicial Proceedings Bill and urges the Press to consider their responsibility in this matter."

3. Payment of Fines.

"That the National Council of Women urges the Home Secretary to consider the desirability of abolishing fines as a penalty on persons charged with offences against morality, and requests that the Committee of Inquiry promised by the Government be asked to consider the whole question."

4. Humane Slaughter.

"That this Council urges that the Government shall without delay introduce a Bill, making humane killing compulsory for all animals in licensed or unlicensed places."

5. Juvenile Offenders.

"That this Council urges that steps be taken to prevent newspapers from publishing the names of juvenile offenders, tried or convicted in Juvenile Courts, as well as those of children innocently involved in criminal cases. And, further, that the names of children and minors giving evidence in cases of sexual offences coming before adult courts shall be similarly withheld, together with all means of identification."

6. Employment of Married Women.

"That the National Council of Women protests against the continued practice in the Civil Service and under local authorities of restricting the right of married women to work, holding that women should decide for themselves whether or not they should carry on paid work after marriage. It demands that all regulations of national and local authorities debarring married women from employment should be withdrawn."

7. Administrative Officials.

"That the National Council of Women call upon the Government to take steps to secure that more women officials shall be associated in the administration of legislation affecting women and children."

8. Equal Moral Standard.

"That this Council, believing that the laws and their administration should uphold the equal moral standard, asks the Government to appoint a Committee of Inquiry for Great Britain into the whole subject of the laws dealing with street solicitation; and is further of the opinion that the sections specially directed against 'common prostitutes' should be repealed and an equal law be substituted, applicable to all persons who annoy or molest others in streets or public places."

9. Clubs.

"That as the legislation towards the reduction of public houses is being counteracted by the marked increase of clubs where alcoholic liquor is supplied, this Council begs the Government to take immediate steps to counteract this evil by legislation."

10. Temperance Reform.

"That, as a practical contribution to achieving the ideal of temperance reform, the National Council of Women urges His Majesty's Government to promote legislation, giving to localities power to adopt the principle embodied in the Carlisle system of disinterested management of the liquor trade, as one of the options in a Local Option Bill."

11. Protective Legislation.

"That the National Council of Women is of opinion that protective legislation should normally be based not upon sex but upon the nature of the occupation. At the same time, pending the legal regulation of hours of work for men, it is not prepared to advocate the abolition of the principle of protective legislation for women, as laid down in the Factory Act."

12. Electrical Scheme.

"That this Council urges on the Government the importance of developing a comprehensive electrical scheme for the whole country, which, while eliminating waste, will stimulate industry, afford domestic light and heat for towns and villages and will help to abate the smoke nuisance, thus adding to the efficiency and health of the nation."

13. Sex Disqualification.

"That the National Council of Women demands the actual removal of sex disqualification in all branches of the political, social and economic (professional and industrial) life of our country, as the first step towards practical idealism."

14. Peeresses in the House of Lords.

"That the National Council of Women warmly supports the claim of peeresses in their own right to sit and vote in the House of Lords, and urges the Government to further legislation to remove the political disabilities of such peeresses at an early date. In the view of the Council the question is one that should be considered upon its merits, and not in connection with the problem of the reform of the Second Chamber."

15. Ministry of Women.

"That this meeting respectfully urges the authorities of the churches to do all in their power to secure that a vocation to the Ministry of Religion shall receive official recognition, whether its possessor be a man or a woman."

* Adeline, Duchess of Bedford, held the office of President of the Central Conference Council during 1892, 1893, and 1894, but the Conferences at the above-named towns were presided over by ladies resident in them, previous to 1895. No Conferences were held in 1899 and 1901.

† Owing to the war no annual meeting was held in 1914, and a Council meeting only in 1916 and 1917.

ORIGIN OF THE NATIONAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN.

Like many organisations which fulfil a need, the National Council has sprung from small beginnings. In 1876 Miss Ellice Hopkins, during her strenuous efforts to educate public opinion on questions of morals, began, for the purposes of preventive and rescue work, to found Ladies' Associations for the Care of Friendless Girls. In 1889 a Conference of the Yorkshire Associations was held at Barnsley—the idea having been possibly taken from a very successful Conference, presided over by Lady Aberdeen, the year before, at Aberdeen. This Conference was arranged by Miss Gray and Miss Janes, until 1914 the Organising Secretary, to whose untiring work and self-devotion the National Council owes in great part its existence. Some Birmingham ladies who were present at Barnsley, among whom were Mrs. Phillip, Mrs. Hallows and Miss E. H. Cadbury, warmly took up the idea of such a meeting, and in 1890 the Birmingham Union of Women Workers, with Miss Stacey as its Secretary, held a well-attended and most interesting Conference, when papers on various subjects connected with work amongst women and girls were read.

Meetings of the same sort followed at Liverpool, under Mrs. Alfred Booth, and at Bristol, Glasgow, and Leeds, under the Presidency of Adeline, Duchess of Bedford, which were arranged by the local Unions of Women Workers. At some of these Conferences schemes for a more organised and formal body were suggested, notably by Miss Hubbard, whose staunch support did much for the Conferences, and at the Nottingham Conference, held in October, 1895, the National Union of Women Workers (now known as the National Council of Women) was formally constituted, with Mrs. Creighton as its first President.

EXTRACTS FROM THE CONSTITUTION AND STANDING ORDERS OF THE INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN.

The International Council of Women is a federation of National Councils or Unions of Women formed in various countries for the promotion of unity and mutual understanding between all associations of women working for the common welfare of the community. It was organised in 1888, and has as its motto the Golden Rule.

The following extracts from its Constitution are printed here as bearing on the inter-relations of the N.C.W. and the I.C.W.

ARTICLE II.—General Policy.

1. The International Council of Women is organised in the interests of no one particular propaganda, and excludes from its programme political and religious questions of a controversial nature affecting the inter-relationship of two or more countries.

2. This International Council of Women has no power over its members beyond that of suggestion and sympathy, therefore no National Council of Women voting to become a member of the International Council shall render itself liable to be interfered with in respect to its complete organic unity, independence, or method of work, or shall be committed to any principle or method of any other Council, or to any utterance or act of this International Council, beyond compliance with the terms of this Constitution, and harmonious action therewith. National Councils are at liberty to make any communication as individual Councils one to another, but propaganda to be officially circulated amongst the affiliated National Councils in the name of the International Council shall not deal with the subjects referred to in Paragraph 1.

ARTICLE IV.—Members.

1. Any National Council of Women formed of National Societies, of Local Councils, and Unions of representative Societies and Institutions, provided that their Constitution be in harmony with the basis of the Constitution of the International Council, may become a member of the International Council, with the approval of the Executive, and by the payment of £20

(100 dollars) every five years. This sum shall be paid into the Treasury of the International Council in yearly instalments.*

3. Any person, whose name is accepted by the Executive Committee and approved by the Council of her own nation, where one exists, may become a life patron of this Council, upon the payment of £40 (200 dollars); or may become a quinquennial contributor on the payment of £5 (25 dollars) within the quinquennial period.

5. Any person approved by the Council of her own nation, where one exists, may become an Annual Subscriber to this Council of £1 or upwards.

6. All ordinary members of affiliated National Councils are also members of the International Council of Women, and shall be entitled to be present as hearers at the meetings of the International Council, but may not take part in the proceedings without special invitation from the Chair, nor have they a vote.

STANDING ORDERS FOR THE COUNCIL. I. MEETINGS.

9. Secretaries of affiliated National Councils are required to send an extract of the minute of Committee or Council appointing the delegates and their alternates (in the event of the inability of the delegates to attend) to the General Secretary a full month before the Quinquennial Council Meeting, supplying the names and addresses of the ladies appointed; also to provide each delegate or alternate with credentials.

10. The responsibility for the appointment and instruction of delegates rests solely with the bodies appointing, and delegates are required to act in strict accordance with the instructions of the affiliated National Councils which they represent, and on points which may incidentally arise, as far as they can judge, in accordance with the spirit of that organisation, and not as individuals.

Affiliated National Councils shall be free to give liberty to their delegates to vote according to their own convictions on any matter on which the National Councils consider they have not sufficient information, and where they feel that discussion might materially alter the point of view.

IV. STANDING ORDERS FOR THE INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEES.

1. The ordinary members of the Standing Committees shall be delegates appointed by the National Councils, each Council to have one member on each Committee. These members shall be appointed at the beginning of each quinquennial period.

4. The Convener of a Standing Committee shall not be eligible to serve on that particular Committee as the member representing her own National Council.

V. STANDING ORDERS FOR INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL PUBLICATIONS.

1. All information regarding the business programme of the International Council, its Executive, its Committee, its Quinquennial, or other Meetings, shall first appear in official form (in the "Transactions," the "Annual Report," or in official or printed communications from the President's Office) before it is incorporated in the printed matter of any individual National Council.

2. The Secretary of each affiliated National Council shall furnish the General Secretary of the International Council with an account, not previously published elsewhere, of the work carried on by the National Council of Women of her country during the foregoing year, such account

* In addition to the Annual fee of £4 or 20 dollars the National Council will be assessed on a pro-rata basis, so as to bring the annual income of the International Council from National Councils up to the sum of £2,000.

not to exceed 1,500 words in length, to be written in any of the three official languages—French, German, or English—and to be in the hands of the General Secretary not later than April 30th in each year. All these National Council Reports shall be published together in the Annual Report of the International Council of Women.

STANDING ORDERS FOR BRITISH REPRESENTATIVES ON THE INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN.

On the International Council of Women :—

(1) The N.C.W. is represented on the International Council of Women by 10 delegates (including its President) and 10 proxies. These shall be elected by nomination and ballot at the Annual Meeting of the National Council of Women of Great Britain and Ireland preceding the Quinquennial Meeting of the I.C.W. It shall be open to all members of Council to enter nominations for the 10 delegates and 10 proxies to serve on the International Council of Women, and these shall be voted on in Council. If a delegate after appointment be unavoidably prevented from serving, or resign office, the proxy with the highest number of votes shall be invited to replace her; in all cases proxies shall be called upon in order of their recorded votes. The term of office of the delegates is for 5 years. The term of office of proxies lasts during the time occupied by the Special Meeting which they are appointed to attend. Instructions as to future duties shall be made clear to delegates and proxies on their appointment.

(2) The delegates from the National Council shall give a united vote, and the National Council, whenever possible, shall previously instruct its delegates as to the lines on which they shall vote.

In the case of unforeseen questions arising at the I.C.W. Council Meetings, the N.C.W. President or her proxy shall call together the delegates of Great Britain in Council, and shall decide with them on the casting of their vote.

On the International Executive Committee :—

(3) The N.C.W. is represented on the Executive Committee of the International Council of Women by its President.

On the International Standing Committees :—

(4) The N.C.W. is represented on each Standing Committee of the I.C.W. by one Representative, appointed by the Executive Committee of the N.C.W. by nomination and ballot.

(5) The Reports, prepared by the Representatives for presentation to their several I.C.W. Standing Committees, shall consist of statements of fact, not of expressions of personal opinion: they shall be as brief as is possible consistently with lucidity.

The Reports shall be presented to, and approved by, the Executive Committee of the N.C.W., before they are sent to the Conveners of the I.C.W. Standing Committees.

(6) The nominations of General Officers and Conveners of Standing Committees of the I.C.W. shall be submitted by the Executive Committee to the Council, and shall be freely open to discussion, or, if necessary, to a vote.
