My dear Sir

Dear Madame

Am

enclosing the same amount as I paid before, thinking I could increase it, perhaps tomorrow I may be able.

Am joining the League again that I may be better able to give over a ged others, I find when one does not attend the meeting lectures etc. One gets out of touch with the subject and loses the power to put matters as clearly & convincingly as they

wd. be in conversation.

I gave a course a liberal member of parliament, whose wife has never heard a Lecture or address even on the subject, that is, by accepting in favor of the suffrage for women, I am hoping to bring her into the fold and, through her, others.

If I may say so, I am sure women generally want a great deal more instruction on the matter than they have had so far, the number of people who really understand the Acquis of the League is remarkably small. I wish there could be many more lectures given on the subject - and that they could be better advertised so that we could know of them in good time, but I suppose it is all a matter of expense.

Wishing you success in the coming season,

Believe me

Yours most sincerely
