

Hydia Becker

3928 worked more than 20 years for the vote - both the north with MFC as centre of the national movement - in London depended on her activity & direction.

The Women's Suffrage Journal ceased when she died. Ran it for 20 years -

---

3928
Lydia Becker's M/c Suffoc. got busy & persuaded some 6000 or more qualified women to apply to be enrolled on the Parliamentary Register - in 1867-8 Some Overseas struck out the women's names, some left them in to come before the usual Revising Comd. - The legal uncertainty was such that some left the women on the register & some deleted them.

Case taken by suffragists to the High Court, Nov 1868. - When any rights which the women claimed were declared to be non-existent -

Women's case presented by Sir John Coleridge & Richard M. Pauley as his junior -