

Were you aware of how the organisation worked in relation with the international organisation?

I think I was, not as much as I am now of course. This was mainly through the explanations from Sybil, who always brought back to us the latest international initiative to tell us about, so that we could get involved if we needed to or not.