Dear madam

I should be much obliged if you would give me some information re the "Declaration" - of which I see some mention in the papers. I have questioned a good many women on the subject - & they have expressed surprise that no one should think it worth while to draw their attention to it. Many of them are keenly interested in the woman's suffrage question - would gladly do something to forward the cause. The argument is still maintained among men that "women do not want the vote" - Isn't it possible to organize sufficiently to canvass every town & village in England? Is the lack of funds the obstacle to this? if so, why not start a fund for the purpose? Women labour under economic disadvantages, but most would willingly afford a few shilling -

I enclose my subscription due to the "Woman's Suffrage Record" -

Yours faithfully

Gwyneth S. Willis.
