Dear Miss Tallies.

I enclose my usual donation to our Society - 10/-

I earnestly hope that when Parliament again meets - there will be no more of the attempts at prohibiting entrance

- Surely - if ^{there} no higher realm than that of politics (- social men in physical force will always have the advantage over us if our should be the "force of argument" only. It seems to me far better to have the triumph of the good cause a little delayed than to gain it by unwomanly means

The protest made by women so high minded as Cobden's daughter and her friends and the suffering they afterwards so cheerfully bore. Such sufferers in the way of demonstrations. Girls who describe themselves as "bouncing against cases closed door" - must turn our cause into ridicule.

Of course the chief responsibility rests with the Prime Minister and very large number of M.P.'s who have for many years proposed and called themselves women suffragists. have yet abstained from acting on their proposals, but their wrong only makes one the more certain that our side should be entered in the right -

I speak as one who has now for forty years been an unrepresented tax payer and my cousin Miss Davenport Hill has been in a like position for over a century - I
must be and shall not expect any answer beyond
