Dear Madam

Thank you for the courtesy of your reply. My business is to organise a public protest throughout the country against ladies and all pure minded respectable married women being illegally and publicly insulted by having the most filthy parts of the Bible read in the Cathedrals and Churches of England as at the present moment. It seems to me to be a very striking illustration of why Women should have votes. Will you please at once obtain a list of the lessons appointed to be read and see for yourself the disgraceful scandal that passed unchallenged in Westminster Abbey and St Pauls Cathedral last Tuesday morning. More filth to follow. Please pardon my candidness and I hope you will appreciate my great difficulty in conveying it to you. No rudeness or insult intended. This must be attended to at once Yours faithfully Herbert Hunt
