PROGRAMME

Tuesday, June 20th

OPENING SONG :

“THE CO-OPERATIVE COMMONWEALTH.”

Words by E. CURTIS (Birmingham). Tune : “ Rimington.”

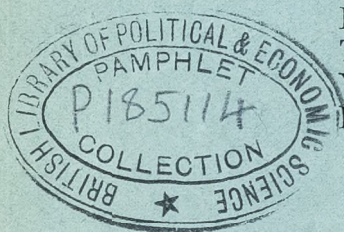

Sing of the coming glorious day
When want and care shall pass away,
And men with truth and willing mind
A new and better world shall find.

Each for the other's good shall live,
And all for each their service give ;
Then will the earth in order move
To truth and beauty, goodness, love !

War shall no longer spread its pall
Of fear and terror over all ;
But peace will be the sole desire
To which all earnestly aspire.

False standards then shall be removed,
No longer wealth and power approved ;
Not pomp and pride, but human worth
Shall be the standard set on earth.

Inspire our hearts with fervent zeal
To hasten in this common weal,
When all the world shall brothers be
In ever deep'ning unity.

Accompanied on the Organ by—

Mr. WILLIAM PARKYN (Organist, Central Hall, East Ham).

"THE MOTHERS' INTERNATIONAL."

Words by Mrs. L. WOODWARD.

Tune: "Hark the Herald Angels Sing."

Round the world a new song's ringing,
Listen! Women of all climes:
'Tis the mothers' song we're singing,
Telling hopes of happier times:
"We will put all hate behind us,
We whose hearts are sick and sore,
Tired of strife and empty vict'ries—
Bear the pangs of war no more."

For our eyes have seen the vision
Of a world where peace doth reign,
Where our husbands, sons, and brothers
Shall not kill nor yet be slain:
But where Love shall be triumphant
Over greed and hate and pride:
Like the sunlight melting hardness,
Spreading warmth on every side.

Speed our message, ye who hear it,
"North to South and East to West";
Let us be a League of Women,
Love-inspired our ev'ry breast:
Pledged to end the awful carnage
That so sears a nation's soul:
Linked in one 'Co-operation,'
Peace o'er all our final goal."

"THE WOMEN'S CO-OPERATIVE GUILD."

Words by E. CURTIS (Birmingham).

Tune : "Barton."

For wider vision, fuller life ;
For hearts responsive to the call
Of loving service, each for all,
We praise and thank our Guild.

No longer bound by four close walls,
We take our part in wider care
For public good, that all may share
The message of our Guild.

With freedom from a narrow view
Of life, and home, and family,
These sweetest human joys shall be
Extended in our Guild.

We seek release from needless pain ;
To lighten human suffering ;
To all with heavy burdens bring
The cheering of our Guild.

We move towards a country new,
When all we hope and plan shall live
In full expression, and shall give
Completeness to our Guild.

So every year brings brighter ray
Of hope and courage to us all ;
And clearer sounds the stirring call
To service in our Guild.
