Dear Mrs. Probyn,

We all strongly feel the necessity of additional meetings, lectures and thorough advertisement, but as you say, it is purely a matter of expense. We are very anxious to raise a large national fund through the National Union of Women's Suffrage Societies which may be available not only for large demonstrations but to assist in all the Branches whose action is crippled for want of funds. We also feel that if we could afford to run a monthly paper with general news and notices of forthcoming meetings, it would help materially, but there again the question of finance must decide our action. I am putting your name down to receive specimens of any new literature we issue.

Believe me,

Yours very sincerely,

Are you aware that the "Tribune" is now giving space to Women's Suffrage news every day? Of course it is rather much to ask people to take a second paper for that alone, but those who are interested are doing so, as it is the only paper which gives the news regularly.
