our Secretaries bribed the Police, & waited below for F. Wyndham, unsuccessfully, while I above, remained in the House till mid night, with equal failure! However I had a talk with Mrs Gully, on the Speaker's refusal. I am very friendly with her, like her. She told me she had seen you letter to the Speaker, with did me know of movement. They say it is Salisb' in Trans. I directed Miss P. to see that the correspondence on the matter <sup>in my office</sup> was some how a "pre" before the Speaker. I dined ~~in~~ with Lord Salisbury, who was much sympathetic, as to the probable fate of our bill. I told him of our difficulty re the appeal, and he said it wd not be regular to present it as a Petition, if we had not gathered the names, as a Petition. He used some technical word "mandate" or another I have forgotten. I asked Sir Robert in the House about this, and he agreed with Salisbury, tho' he sd he had never heard of an "appeal" before, & we require to take an opinion as to the question. I see what of told you in the shadowed in the "Parliamentary Notes" today. Arthur came up to the gallery to see me, in very depressed spirits. I did not think it politic to say more about the question then. I spoke fully to him the night before. I felt of much use on his assurance of "doing his best". We will be able use to get our supporters in the House to sign a re~~quest~~ question to him, not to take the wed? On Monday he is to announce his course of action. < we can then have
