My dear Pippa

Nothing to say as usual except to relate the painful fact that once more I have not ~~and~~ ^{won} the Derby Sweep. The man who drew the favourite (who came in 2nd) was Simpson Coal Heaver of Ranee-gange a most fearful old bounder. He must have scooped in about a lakh and a half, nearly £9000. The first prize was worth about £15,000, not a bad return on a ticket price ^{5d} 11/6. Herbert had no luck either although he carefully bought his ticket on the 19th of April. I got a letter from him this morning to say he is going up to Masoorie for a fortnight & will be at Campore this evening, so I shall go to meet him at the station to see him as he passes through. He has been rather seedy lately. George Huddleston I hear is in bed with a bad leg, the effects of an accident some years ago when he broke it.

There is great rejoicing that Dring has been made G.T.M. instead of lugging in an outsider according to the usual method.

as practised in the Engineering Department.

A fatal fatality occurred the other day as I was driving to the club, my pony coming down and badly cutting its knees. Luckily for me it scrambled up again so I escaped being chucked out.

I never heard such a tale as the one of the glissaders - it must have been a sight to see.
