Dear Miss Norton,

Thank you very much for writing. I have been away for a day or two, but I have arranged with the Librarian staff at Newnham to send the parcel containing the late Miss P. Strachey's edition by registered post (and also it will be insured) as this is the most convenient way for them to receive it. I expect to get it off tomorrow, or the next day, but if any unforeseen circumstances prevented this I should be sending it after August 24th, as I am obliged to be away for a week.

It is most kind of you to write to me. Miss Strachey sent me one excellent letter early in July, and normally I should
