

I will send you my Report as soon as it is published - early next week

June 7.

3, UPPER BROOK STREET.

My dear Miss Faithful

I am delighted to know you have come back and to congratulate you on your success & popularity - I hope in spite of all your misfortunes that you have had many happy moments, and feel that your life has wrought a golden fruit of benefits conferred on others; and a just pride for yourself with the reward of your steady course. I have heard of you from Mr.

Manchall.

I shall like to see you - & you will find me early in the morning or any time you like to say. I am too glad to go out but very seldom.

As to the Red Cross decoration I know no more about it than you do - I have seen it in the Graphic & think it very ugly -
But as we has said very thing to me about it - I therefore conclude that Her Majesty intends to have a ceremony & to give them herself - whereupon I ordered a new silk dress & thought no more of it - except a tremor sometimes when I think how much I shall dislike being "invested" - nearly as much as I dislike being tamped up with a lot of women, taken from the hospitals here, delighted at the "jolly look" of going to a new country, with no anxiety or extra fatigue of any sort & with excellent pay!

I do not think that they,
a lady & her husband who never could it not be better to write till the last ~~page~~ ~~of~~ ~~the~~ ~~order~~?

should stand on the same level as those who have perilled their lives, endured awful fatigue & overpowering anxiety giving of their substance & all else - & which they had left me out rather than set me on the same shelf. I can not care for any thing of the kind myself, even if it were unique & only for myself.
Nephew! I would have asked me to sit to them soon but I am so totally worn out & look tired I don't like doing so - but if you wish for it will go at once to them - Give me taken for you 3 years ago would not do now I think. Yrs very truly S. Stanford.
