My dear Pippa

This week has been the blankest that has yet occurred and I have got simply nothing to say.

The worst of it is that Weatherdon the Worthy has just told me that but he has written (!) $173\frac{1}{2}$ pages -

This as you may imagine has made me feel very faint and I feel that the only thing that would revive me is a Bath bun so please send one quick. I suppose you will be at Rottie when you get this so give my love to Louie McBein and all other friends.

What news have been heard of Dick? also what has happened to Charlie (uncle) It would be a great waste of paper to spoil the next page by spilling ink on it so

Goodbye

yr loving
Ralph.
