Dear Miss Phillipp

For two years I have had a similar scheme for a Paper, but have withheld it being satisfied that such a publication wd have a gr struggle for dear life. I now contemplate issuing it in connexion with my Industrial & Educational Bureau, for without some authority it will never "run" as they say in America.

If your friend ^{desires or desires?} likes to communicate with me I shall be very happy to see how far our plans meet so that we may work as friends instead of rivals!! for union is strength! & my office is naturally the headquarters.

I shall send such information now, & I am in communication with the colonies & United States as well. Yours truly

Living Faithfull

Please direct to my private residence as above.

Emily Faithful

A sister of Dr George Faithful of Pulborough, the Great-Army Coach &c

She took a great part at a very early period in woman's work, but had considerable eccentricity & was more inclined to self advertisement, pecuniary returns & notoriety in general than was desirable.
