

Which one are you?

SEE RED WOMENS WORKSHOP

Construction of the new New York State Police Academy building in Albany, New York, is well advanced. The new building will be a modern, high-rise structure, and will provide for the training of police officers and police officers-in-training. The building will be a landmark in Albany, and will be a symbol of the New York State Police's commitment to excellence in law enforcement.

The Department of Justice

The Department of Justice is the federal executive department responsible for the administration of justice and the enforcement of federal laws. It is headed by the Attorney General, who is appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate. The Department is composed of several offices, including the Department of Justice, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), and the United States Department of Justice. The Department is responsible for the prosecution of federal crimes, the defense of federal officials, and the representation of the United States in international law.